ROOSEVELT ACTS IN TVA WAR

EX-CHIEF OF GPU ADMITS GUILT IN FOUR MURDERS

We Were Forced to Kill, Doctors Say.

MOSCOW, March 8.—(AP)—Genrikh G. Yagoda, secret police chief who "wanted to become a Russian Hitler," faced the Moscow treason trial court tonight and pleaded "full guilt" in four medical murders.

He admitted ordering the death of his predecessor in office and trying unsuccessfully to poison Nicolai Yezhov, present secret police chief. He also testified he had sent $100,000 to Leon Trotzky, exiled former soviet leader now in Mexico.

The gray faced, broken man had retracted partially his pre-trial confession, but after a recess in which he was taken back to prison he repudiated the retraction.

Retraction Puzzles Observers.

His retraction of his previous denial, like that of N. N. Krestinsky on the second day of the trial, puzzled foreign observers.

Yagoda, who was the most dreaded chief the GPU [secret police] has known, and who knows all of its methods, kept silent on his reasons.

In his testimony at the morning session he admitted he had ordered the overdose death of Maxim Gorky, famed Russian writer, and Valerian V. Kuibishev, chief of the first five year plan.

Then, however, he denied he had ordered the medical murders of Maxim Pechkov, Gorky's son, and Vyacheslaff Menzhinsky, his own predecessor as secret police chief.

Prosecutor Reads Confession.

In the morning session Prosecutor Andrei Vishinsky met his denial of implication in two of the deaths by reading from his confession and demanding:

"Did you say this at the preliminary investigation?"

"Yes, I did, but it was not true."

"Why did you say it if it was not true?"

"I don't know."

When Vishinsky repeated the question, Yagoda replied: "Allow me, please, not to answer this question."

Asked by Vishinsky if he would like to complain regarding the preliminary investigation, he said he would not.

Admits Hiring Spies.

Then, taking the stand again, Yagoda pleaded guilty to the charges against him, accepting responsibility for the illness of Pechkov. He added that he had had foreign spies in the pay of the Russian secret police.

Yagoda himself, eminent physician-defendant, and other witnesses added grim details to the elaborate outline of the Trotzkyist-rightist medical murder plot pictured in the indictment against the twenty-one defendants.

Deaths of the four men, which before the trial had been ascribed to natural causes, were attributed to wrongful treatment at Yagoda's insistence. Gorky, it was said, would have stood in the way of the plot.

Witnesses Describe Murders.

Besides Yagoda, key witnesses who described the murders were P. P. Bulanov, Yagoda's long time secretary and yes-man, Dr. L. G. Levin, who until a few months ago was head of the Kremlin hospital; P. P. Kruchkov, once Gorky's private secretary; Dr. D. D. Pletnyer, heart specialist, and Dr. I. N. Kazakov.

Bulanov told of the plot to kill Yezhov. He said that at Yagoda's orders he spread a deadly chemical around Yezhov's office. The intended victim, then Yagoda's assistant, was to have been removed because he was uncovering details of the plot. He escaped by discovering the scheme in time.

Yagoda, Bulanov said, had admired Adolf Hitler's rise to power and thought the German fuehrer's book, "My Battle," was "swell." Soon, he said, Yagoda decided to become a Russian Hitler with Nicolai Bukharin, former government newspaper editor and now a treason defendant, as his Goebbels [Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi minister of propaganda].

Doctor Says He Was Bribed.

More minute details of the murders were told by Dr. Levin. Stroking his prim, white goatee, Levin declared Yagoda had sought removal of Gorky's son as "lazy and good for nothing" and of Menzhinsky so he could step into his job.

Yagoda, he said, bribed him with foreign wines and high living to kill Gorky by wrongful treatment. He swore that he and Kazakov helped

EXPECT ANNUAL REVENUE GAINS OF 270 MILLIONS

I. C. C. Refuses Plea for 15% Jump.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—The interstate commerce commission today granted the railroads a 10 per cent increase in freight rates, which it is estimated will yield the carriers approximately 270 million dollars of additional revenue a year.

The increase, though only two-thirds of what the railroads asked for, comes in the nick of time to save many of them from bankruptcy. Shippers had opposed any increase in rates, contending that the result would be a rise in the cost of living and still further slackening of business activity.

[Railroad heads expressed disappointment over the amount of the increase, calling it inadequate to offset recent increases in taxes, wages, and pension costs. Details on page 25.]

Several Exceptions Made.

In granting the 10 per cent increase the commission excepted agricultural products, except tropical fruit; animals and animal products, except horses and mules; lumber, shingles and lath, and cottonseed and vegetable oils, except linseed oil. A 5 per cent increase was granted on all these products.

Anthracite coal rates were boosted 10 cents a ton [an average increase of about 5.9 per cent], and bituminous coal, lignite, coke, iron ore, fresh milk and cream, and refrigeration service were excepted from any increase whatsoever.

The 10 per cent increase applies to all other items except heavy loading commodities such as steel, which received increases last fall and must include those earlier increases in this 10 per cent.

The 270 millions additional revenue from the increase granted is little more than 50 per cent of the half billion the roads said they needed to offset increased cost of operation. They sought a 15 per cent freight rate boost and increased passenger fares in eastern territory, which together they calculated would yield 517 millions. No action was announced on the passenger rate increase.

Roosevelt Parley Next Week.

In recognition of the general realization that the freight rate increase is only a palliative for the financial plight of the railroads, President Roosevelt, following the action of the commission, announced that he will hold his projected conference on the railroad problem next week. The scope of the conference includes the scaling down of railroad indebtedness, consolidation of lines to effect operation economies, and other problems.

Among those invited to the conference are Walter M. W. Splawn, chairman of the I. C. C.; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; Carl Gray, vice chairman of the Union Pacific; George Harrison, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives; Joseph B. Eastman, interstate commerce commissioner and former railway coördinator; Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], chairman of the senate committee in-

DOG KNOWS A FRIEND AND EXACT TIME OF N. SHORE TRAIN, TOO

Milwaukee, Wis., March 8.—(AP)—A big black farm collie has been a fast friend for two years of Charles Litchfield of 5514 Crystal street, Chicago, for many years a motorman on the North Shore electric line between Chicago and Milwaukee. The friendship exists despite the fact that the dog never has seen the man.

Daily, except Friday, for two years Litchfield has tossed a folded newspaper from his speeding train, near a South Milwaukee farm, and the dog has picked it up on the first bounce.

The story told by Litchfield yesterday, goes back before the black collie was born when the motorman began tossing papers abandoned by passengers to farmers along the right of way.

Then, one day two years ago, the gangling collie raced his train. Litchfield tossed out a paper, and the dog took it on the bounce. The next day it happened again and every day since he has been watching for Litchfield's train. He passes up trains running ahead or behind Litchfield's.

ASKS HOUSE QUIZ ON PRESS AGENTS IN U. S. AGENCIES

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—Citing the existence of at least 270 highly paid press agents in agencies of the Roosevelt administration, despite a federal law prohibiting such procedure, Representative J. Parnell Thomas [R., N. J.], today asked the house to investigate the practice.

"In spite of the law," said Thomas, "most of the departments now employ persons who are in every sense publicity experts and ghost writers. While it is difficult, because of the multiplicity of agencies, to estimate accurately the full cost to the taxpayers, it has been stated that mailing alone in 1936 cost $32,236,369.

"The paper used in such printed material, and the printing of it are estimated to have cost in the same year another $22,000,000."

At This Rate His Buggies Will All Be Sold by 1943

Washington, Ga., March 8.—(AP)—Merchant W. L. Johnson hopes to be able to hoist the "sold out" sign over his buggy department in 1943—if business continues at its present pace. Five years ago he sold one buggy and had two left. Another sale yesterday cut the inventory 50 per cent.

Youth Writes Upside Down =Like This

In the Fulton elementary school, 5300 South Hermitage avenue, where he is in the lower fifth grade, Frank clutches his pencil in his left fist and writes rapidly from right to left, beginning at the lower right hand corner of the page. His words are upside down to him as he writes, but they are right side up to a person facing him at his desk.

He writes right side up only at the blackboard so the teacher and class won't be confused, but he does it poorly and laboriously. He tore along at great speed when a photographer asked him to write upside down.

He Adjusts His Ways.

His school principal, William R. Bowlin, told about Frank yesterday. It seems that several years ago the teachers had despaired of ever teaching him to get things straight, but he has adjusted his upside down way of thinking to a right side up world. In fact, he is now brighter than the average boys in his class.

He originated his own way of writing upside down—the easy way, for him—so that others could read, right side up, what he had written. His teachers took him to the Institute of Juvenile Research, and psychiatrists there said they never had seen such development in an inversionist.

"Frank is a perfectly normal boy now," said Mr. Bowlin. "He has an intelligence quotient of 95, and has conquered his difficulty in his own way. He would be in sixth grade, except that he had so much trouble in the early years. That was because an attempt was made to teach him to write normally. His natural good sense came to the rescue."

Best Speller in Class.

The boy is the best speller in his class, a thing virtually unheard of in an inversionist. He gets E, or excellent, in drawing. His reading, which he does normally, is above the average.

Mr. Bowlin says that 5 per cent of pupils generally have some inversionist tendencies. Of the thirty inversionists in Fulton school, Frank is the only one doing well in his studies, the principal added.

Usually, said Mr. Bowlin, children develop inversionist tendencies when their mothers first show them pictures, pointing out objects from right to left. Many are confused by "was" and "saw."

A majority of inversionists are left handed. Frank's mother is left handed. Frank wears glasses, but whether vision has anything to do with inversionism is doubtful. It isn't known whether the switching of right and left occurs in the eye or in the brain, or why.

WOLF AT DOORSTEP! AND THIS IS NOT A DEPRESSION STORY

Charles Dalton knew that if he lived to be 100 there'd probably never be another wolf walk home with him. And so, when one did yesterday morning, Mr. Dalton was as friendly as he could be, for he wanted to be able to prove it.

The wolf was tremendously flattered. He just stood there beaming when Mr. Dalton said goodby and scampered into his home at 1518 Lucia avenue, Waukegan, as Mr. Dalton hoped he'd do.

Mr. Dalton promptly awakened his landlord, Richard Lanyon, and asked him to verify that it really was a wolf. To be doubly sure, Mr. Lanyon awakened Mrs. Lanyon. She tossed the wolf some hamburger, but the wolf realized by that time that Mr. Dalton was fixing things so he could brag and stomped disdainfully off without eating the meat.

POPE CONFERS KNIGHTHOOD ON MORGAN, LAMONT

VATICAN CITY, March 8.—(AP)—A Vatican City news service announced today that Pope Pius had made J. P. Morgan and Thomas W. Lamont, of the Morgan banking house, knights of St. Gregory the Great. The decorations were conferred last Dec. 16, the news service said, and will be published formally in this month's Acta Apostolica.

[Mr. Morgan is an Episcopalian and Mr. Lamont is a Methodist.]

Al Smith Is Elevated.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—The apostolic delegate disclosed today that former Gov. Alfred E. Smith has been elevated by Pope Pius XI. to the rank of papal chamberlain of the cape and sword, making him a member of the pope's personal household.

Foe of C. I. O. Wins Race for Seattle Mayor

Seattle, Wash., March 8.—(AP)—Councilman Arthur B. Langlie, 38 years old, the "good government" candidate, defeated Lieut. Gov. Victor A. Meyers, who was backed by the Committee for Industrial Organization, for mayor of Seattle in today's nonpartisan election.

The complete but unofficial vote gave Langlie 78,997 and Meyers 48,114. Campaign organizations of both men engaged in whirlwind campaigns. Meyers is a former swing band leader.

Bright sunshine during the day aided the busy workers in the "get out 100,000 votes for Langlie" camp. Polling places were open until 10 p. m. Chicago time.

Mayor Dore Eliminated.

In the primaries two weeks ago, in which 120,528 votes were cast, Langlie polled a larger vote than Meyers and Mayor John F. Dore combined. Dore, who was eliminated in the primary, was the protégé of Dave Beck, western organizer of the A. F. of L. teamsters' union here. He has been known as the boss of Seattle.

Pendergast Makes Showing.

Kansas City, Mo., March 8.—(AP)—Tom Pendergast's Democratic organization turned out two votes for every one polled by an opposition slate today in a primary supervised by a new bi-partisan election board under orders from the state's governor to guard against repetition of the 1936 vote fraud scandals.

The tickets of Pendergast, who has controled the city hall 12 years, and the newly formed coalition party both were assured nomination for the March 29 runoff.

Mayor Bryce B. Smith, regular Democrat seeking reëlection, gathered in 69,051 votes to 30,180 for the coalition's mayoralty nominee, Col. Fred Whitten in 375 out of 460 precincts.

McDonough Leads in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., March 8.—(AP)—John J. McDonough, labor indorsed candidate for mayor, had a commanding lead tonight as returns from today's primary municipal election came in.

With 160 of the city's 237 precincts reported McDonough had 18,401 votes and William H. Fallon, attorney, was second with 15,019. Gerald O'Brien was third with 5,214. The other five candidates were far behind. Mayor Mark Gehan is not a candidate for reëlection.

18 LYDY PARKING LOTS IN LOOP ARE CLOSED BY POLICE

Police, acting on orders from Commissioner Allman, last night closed eighteen loop parking lots operated by the R. G. Lydy company for failure to pay $11,000 license fees to the city for 1938. The lots have a total capacity of 2,750 automobiles.

Judge Michael Tremko of the License court entered the closing order yesterday at the request of Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes and issued eighteen warrants for the arrest of R. G. Lydy, president of the company, on charges of operating public garages without proper authority.

Last year the city council, seeking more revenue with which to restore depression pay cuts to city employés, raised from $1 to $4 annually the license fee per car space for each parking lot. Owners of lots fought the increase, but the Illinois Supreme court last month upheld the council.

ASKS SHOWDOWN ON STRIFE THAT IMPERILS PARTY

Charges Fly on Floor of U. S. Senate.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today moved to settle the interdirectorate row in the Tennessee Valley authority. The growing scandal in the affairs of the authority has been brought to a head by a week's exchange of charges and countercharges by the feuding factions of the directorate.

Mr. Roosevelt summoned TVA Chairman Arthur E. Morgan and Directors David Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan to meet with him at the White House at 11 o'clock Friday morning. At the meeting, Mr. Roosevelt said, he will demand the facts and nothing but the facts in the controversy that has brought a split between Dr. Morgan and his colleagues.

Tempers Norris' Attack.

In the effort to settle a family row, which is embarrassing the administration, the White House reached out to Capitol hill, where Senator George Norris [Rad., Neb.], "father of the TVA," was assailing Dr. Morgan for attacking his colleagues.

Though he attacked the TVA chairman, Senator Norris did not press for a vote on his motion to discharge the commerce committee from consideration of a resolution to investigate the TVA, suggested by Dr. Morgan and introduced by Senator H. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.].

The excuse offered for failure to demand a test vote on the TVA was that Senator Bridges was not on the floor. The senator arrived during the afternoon, but Senator Norris did not seek the vote. It was apparent that he bowed to the White House to await Mr. Roosevelt's attempt to settle the quarrel.

Bridges to Reply Today.

Senator Bridges will reply to Norris tomorrow. Bridges is opposed to taking his resolution from the commerce committee because it then would be brought to the agricultural committee by TVA supporters and smothered in that committee, whose membership is heavily in favor of the power project. He also is opposed to Norris' resolution seeking an investigation by the administration controled federal trade commission.

In announcing that he will sit down with the TVA directors, Mr. Roosevelt revealed that he had privately rebuked Dr. Morgan for casting aspersions on his colleagues last fall. The President publicly rebuked the TVA chairman last week when he made public a report of Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan which suggested Dr. Morgan resign because they could not get along with him.

Morgan Refuses to Quit.

Dr. Morgan answered that he has no intention of resigning. The rebuke of last week followed Dr. Morgan's accusations of bad faith against his colleagues in the unsuccessful claim brought by Senator George Berry [D., Tenn.], for marble deposits back of Norris dam and his demand for a complete investigation of the TVA in the interests of honesty and decency in government.

Mr. Roosevelt said his attention was called to friction in the TVA directorate last fall, when Harcourt Morgan and Lilienthal sent him a copy of a resolution they had passed on an article written by Dr. Morgan for the Atlantic Monthly. The resolution charged that the article impugned the integrity of the two directors and called upon Dr. Morgan to make good his charges against them or withdraw the charges.

Mr. Roosevelt said he sent a letter to Dr. Morgan last Sept. 3. In the letter the President wrote: "Naturally I am concerned about this and don't think I can let the matter rest properly where it is and suggest the obligation on the part of you either not to impugn the integrity of your associates or to present whatever specific charges you have to justify your statements.

"After all, no great constructive work can be carried out if the majority feel that their motives have been challenged by a fellow member."

Brings Reply in Person.

Mr. Roosevelt said he received no reply from Dr. Morgan but the chairman came to see him two weeks later. The President told him that it was a pretty serious thing to impugn the integrity of his colleagues, Dr. Morgan, according to the President, replied that he did not mean it that way; that he had no question of their personal integrity. Whereupon, Mr. Roosevelt continued, he told Dr. Morgan for heaven's sake don't do it again.

To the inquiry whether Senator Norris would sit in on the conference, Mr. Roosevelt snapped the information Senator Norris had not been invited. He said White House Secretary Stephen Early would sit in on the conference in order to report it to the press.

Norris Defends TVA.

Norris denounced as unfounded the charges against Directors Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan. He said they were inspired by Chairman Morgan's jealousy. Norris said he formerly entertained a deep affection for Dr. Morgan and was "shocked beyond expression and suffered untold agonies of heart" about a year ago when the TVA chairman came to his office and threatened to resign if Lilienthal were reappointed.

"I realized then," Norris said, "that Dr. Morgan was moved by jealousy of Mr. Lilienthal's popularity."

Norris vehemently denounced charges that his resolution calling for an investigation by the federal trade commission was motivated by a desire to whitewash the TVA.

Opposes Congressional Inquiry.

"But," he said, "I do not want an investigation by men who have hated the TVA since it was born and who still hate it worse than the devil hates holy water."

This referred to the proposal of Dr. Morgan, of Representative Maury Maverick [D., Tex.], a friend of the TVA, of Senator Bridges and Senator William H. King [D., Utah] for a joint congressional investigation. Senators King and Bridges requested a senate inquiry, but have agreed to coöperate with Maverick in an effort to obtain a joint congressional investigation.

The extent to which President Roosevelt is supporting Directors Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan in the TVA controversy was indicated by a telegram from J. D. Ross, former SEC commissioner, and now director of the Bonneville power project, which Norris read into the record. Although addressed to Norris, the telegram was sent to the White House to be used as the President saw fit.

Denies Supporting Dr. Morgan.

"I suppose it was the idea of Mr. Ross that he did not want to mix up in this controversy if the President thought he ought to stay out of it," Norris said. The telegram referred to Dr. Morgan's assertion that he was supported in his views on the power question by Mr. Ross. Ross repudiated the contention that he was supporting Chairman Morgan.

"I have always supported Mr. Lilienthal and Mr. Harcourt Morgan and believe that they have been and are under exasperating difficulty trying to administer TVA as intended by congress," the telegram to Norris, via the White House, said.

Norris defended the conduct of Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan in gagging the chairman and refusing to permit him to represent the TVA in any legal proceeding or congressional hearing. He said the TVA legal staf refused to permit Dr. Morgan to testify in the recent injunction case against the TVA because of "the possibility that he would throw the case." The injunction case was decided in favor of the TVA by a three judge federal district court.

Defends Berry's Suit.

Norris defended the right of Senator George L. Berry [D., Tenn.] to press his claim for five million dollars against the TVA for marble deposits he said he had behind the Norris dam, a claim which a federal court commission recently found to be worthless.

"Dr. Morgan has not made any very direct charge," he said. "It is similar to most of the charges that he has made. But by insinuations . . . he has tried to get publicity to the effect that he saved the TVA millions of dollars by his intervention."

Charges Attack on Dam.

Norris then charged that the whole TVA controversy was brought into the open at this time for the sole purpose of defeating the 112 million dollar Gilbertsivlle dam in Kentucky.

The Gilbertsville dam, described by Norris, as the key to the whole TVA project, received an initial construction appropriation of $2,730,000 by a senate amendment to the independent offices bill, but the house conferees rejected it and reported a disagreement, which will require a vote of the house.

The White House is exerting tremendous pressure on the house leaders to save the Gilbertsville dam. Involved in this controversy is the political career of President Roosevelt's "Dear Alben" Barkley, senate majority leader, who is opposed for reëlection by A. B. [Happy] Chandler, Kentucky's crooning governor.

Barkley interrupted Norris during the discussion of the Gilbertsville dam in an effort to discredit the general accounting office, which President Roosevelt's reorganization bill proposes to abolish. He referred to newspaper reports that the controler general soon will make a report challenging as illegal TVA expenditures of almost $5,000,000 for the fiscal years 1934, 1935, and 1936.

Questions Senator Norris.

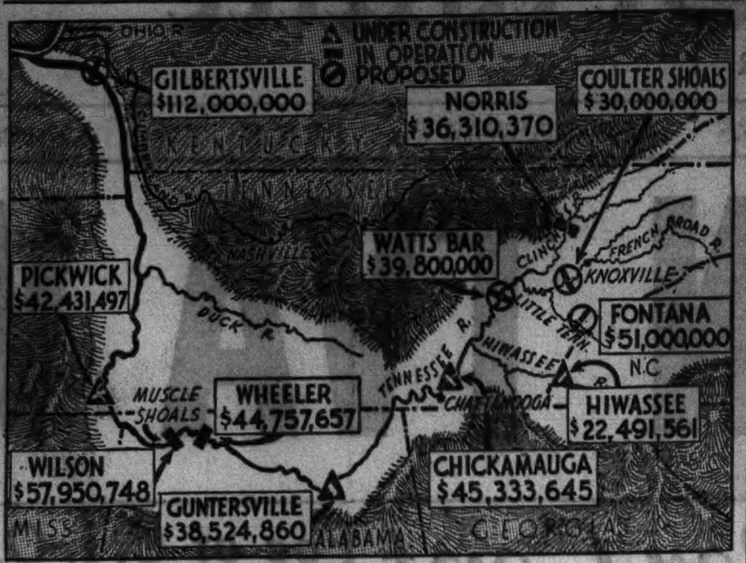
"Does the senator [Norris] know whether that report was released by the controler general's office at this time for the purpose of influencing the action of congress on the Gilbertsville dam?" Barkley asked. Norris said he did not know, but that "the controler general's office from the very beginning has been unfair to the TVA."

Barkley and Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach [D., Wash.], then accused the general accounting office of violating the law in not making an annual report to congress on its TVA audits.

Senator Bridges said today that Norris was seeking to work out a compromise whereby the twenty-three charges contained in the senate resolution would be referred to the federal trade commission for investigation.

"But we shall not compromise on any federal trade commission investigation, whereby one arm of the government would whitewash another," said Senator Bridges. "From all the data that I have received, the whole TVA is rotten. It smells all the way through. It has the makings of another Tea Pot Dome scandal."

TVA—What Is It?



Here are the eleven dam projects and the stage of development and the cost of each dam in the TVA program in the Tennessee river valley.

The Tennessee Valley authority, often called the largest experiment in an ordered society outside soviet Russia, was created by act of congress approved May 8, 1933, and amended Aug. 31, 1935. It is a corporation administered by a board of three directors appointed by the President. Its general purpose is the development of the Tennessee river in the interests of hydro-electricity, navigation, flood control, national defense, and agricultural and industrial upbuilding in the valley.

As Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, head of TVA, described it before a senate committee in 1934: "The purpose of the TVA . . . is to try to encourage and organize an orderly economic and social development in that region in place of the past haphazard development."

Power Is Primary Concern.

From the start of TVA in 1933, power development was the big word. The directors described the venture as the beginning of a new national power policy and program. A "yardstick" was to be set up to measure what electricity should cost consumers. Another objective was the electrification of the farms and homes in the Tennessee basin, which has a population of about 2¼ million in seven states.

More recently TVA has stressed navigation and flood control, and critics say the idea apparently is to cut down as much as possible the expense allocated to the hydro-electric plants built by TVA and thus reduce the book cost of the kilowatts generated. In the valley people speak of subsidized rates and say taxpayers all over the country will help pay for their cheaper rates.

Costs Shoot Upward.

Costs of TVA have multiplied. In 1934, when TVA was a year old, it was estimated the cost would run about 310 million dollars. This was to build six dams, plants, and transmission lines. In addition Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, already constructed, had cost 47 millions. The venture thus was a seven dam development to cost around 357 millions.

Last year the seven dam project had grown into an eleven dam proposal. TVA estimated its cost at $520,000,000. Three of the dams are now in operation—Wilson, Wheeler, and Norris. Four are under construction—Chickamauga, Hiwassee, Pickwick, and Guntersville. Four other dams have been proposed at Gilbertsville, Ky.; Coulter Shoals, Fontana, and Watts Bar. Noting the speed at which the costs have gone up, critics in the valley say the final cost cannot be foretold.

Liquidation Is Forgotten.

TVA has been extending its transmission lines, has pressed municipalities to establish distributing plants, and has competed with private utilities.

In 1934 Dr. Morgan told a house committee the TVA program would be amortized in twenty-five years after it got on its feet. Two years later TVA said it expected power revenues would liquidate the investment in fifty years. Last May, before a committee, no definite time was estimated.

HOUSE CONFINES PUBLIC SALARY LIST TO $75,000

Twice Rejects Clause at Lower Figure.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—In the face of demands by President Roosevelt that the 1938 tax bill contain a provision for publication of the salaries of all corporation employés receiving more than $15,000 annually, the house today twice decisively defeated proposals for such publicity.

Then the members yielded, but only to the extent of providing that those executives receiving $75,000 and more per year should have their names published with the amounts they receive.

The President several days ago, at a press conference, asserted that the $15,000 limit should apply and said it was a question of "morals"; that the public was entitled to know the amounts received by corporation executives. Democratic leaders opposed this view in two votes on the question before finally agreeing to the $75,000 specification which will shorten the list by thousands of names.

Reject Boileau Amendment.

Representative Gerald J. Boileau [Prog., Wis.], first moved that the $15,000 salary publicity provision be put back in the bill, it having been omitted by the ways and means committee.

"This is carrying out the express wishes of the President," he told the Democratic majority.

Members of the ways and means committee replied that the information thus far had been used chiefly for the compiling of sucker lists for the use of persons selling luxury articles and implied also that the lists were prized by confidence men, blackmailers, and kidnapers.

On a tellers' vote, the Boileau amendment was defeated, 118 to 60. Among those who voted against the amendment were Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, Pat Boland, house whip; Chairman Robert L. Doughton, and all members of the ways and means committee.

Accept $75,000 Limit.

Representative W. D. McFarlane [D., Tex.] then proposed that the list should include only those receiving $20,000 and more annually. This was voted down, 104 to 71.

The amendment increasing the minimum salary to be publicized to $75,000 was offered by Representative Claude A. Fuller [D., Ark.]. There was extended debate before this was finally approved by a voice vote.

"Do you think, under present conditions, that any one in the United States, except the President, will be receiving $75,000 next year?" inquired Representative Robert Rich [R., Pa.] of the Democratic majority. There was no answer.

"The trouble with this law is that it does not also provide that the same publicity be given to the amount of taxes paid by the person receiving the salary," said Representative Arthur P. Lamneck [D., O.]. He said that treasury records showed that Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of the board of General Motors, received $560,000 salary in 1936, but that the federal income tax on this salary was $349,000 and the Michigan state income tax was $55,000, a total of $404,000.

Refuses Debt Exemption.

The house took two hours to consider the salary publicity provision, but disposed of in ten minutes an amendment offered by Representative James W. Wadsworth [R., N. Y.] which would have allowed corporations a 4 per cent credit against their net income of amounts set aside to pay indebtedness prior to 1936.

"This simply says on behalf of congress that a corporation should be given some slight relief in taxation on money set aside to pay debts," Wadsworth argued. "The payment of indebtedness should not be unduly penalized."

But Representative Fred M. Vinson [D., Ky.], chairman of the ways and means committee, declared that corporations had already been given enough relief in the bill. The amendment was defeated, 120 to 50.

Block Tax Exemption Removal.

A point of order was sustained against a proposal to write into the bill authority for the government to tax the salaries of state employés and for state governments in return to tax the salaries of federal employés. The same amendment would have removed federal, state, and municipal bonds from the tax exempt class. The proposal was ruled out of order as not germane to the bill.

The house also voted down an amendment by Representative Allen T. Treadway [R., Mass.] which would have imposed a flat 12½ per cent tax on capital gains in place of a section establishing maximum rates of 16 to 39.2 per cent on gains realized on assets held for more than a year.

The big battle of the bill—that involving the 20 per cent surtax on closely held corporations—is yet to come. Speaker William B. Bankhead predicted that the house would approve the surtax although the vote might be close.

15 PASSENGERS FLEE BLAZE IN ELEVATED TRAIN

Fifteen passengers were forced from a west bound elevated train on the Logan Square line last evening when a blaze started under the front of the two car train near the station at Damen and North avenues. The motorman moved the train to the station platform, where the passengers alighted. The power on the line was then turned off and firemen under Chief John Beckman of the fourth battalion extinguished the blaze. Officials of the Rapid Transit lines said the damage was small. The fire started when a contact shoe was grounded.

Reorganization Bill Stirs Echo of Court Packing Fight

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 8.—[Special.]—The senate refought the battle over President Roosevelt's proposal to pack the Supreme court when Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] charged today that the pending government reorganization scheme would give the President the powers of a dictator.

Senators who supported the ill fated court packing bill last year leaped to the defense of the reorganization measure. Replying to Senator Wheeler's charges they said that the President could be trusted.

If congress approves the reorganization scheme, Senator Wheeler said, it ought to close up shop and go home. He was assailing the provision of the bill authorizing the President to transfer, regroup, consolidate, or abolish any government bureau or agency or the functions thereof.

Inefficiency vs. Freedom.

"We have got to recognize the fact," said Senator Wheeler, "that under Democratic institutions there is sometimes inefficiency in government. Certainly there can be more inefficiency, although it is not always obtained under dictatorships.

"The American people have got to recognize that it is necessary for them to pay the price in order to maintain their liberties. I say to the senate that it is far better that we maintain the bureaus we now have than it is to turn over dictatorial powers to the President of the United States and admit to the world that the congress of the United States, overwhelmingly Democratic in the house and in the senate, is incompetent to function."

Sticks to Own Words.

Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.] charged that Senator Wheeler was accusing Mr. Roosevelt of wishing to be dictator.

"No, I refuse to let the senator put words in my mouth," Wheeler replied. "I did not say that at all. But when congress abdicates and power is given to the President to curtail functions of government, what are we doing?"

Byrnes insisted that Wheeler was imputing dictatorship ambitions to President Roosevelt and that he even feared for the safety of the republic. In replying to this, Wheeler intimated that he believed the republic would survive despite President Roosevelt.

"When the senator says that I am afraid the republic is going to be destroyed," he said, "I wish to say that I am not afraid, because I do not think any man can destroy this republic." He recalled that Senator Byrnes was "perfectly satisfied" with respect to the safety of the republic when Mr. Roosevelt was trying to pack the Supreme court.

The Court Question.

"What has the Supreme court fight, which is dead and over, got to do with this matter?" put in Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

"I thought it was dead and over," Wheeler replied. Resuming his discussion of the reorganization bill, he said he had supposed until recently that it was the duty of congress to formulate the policies of the government and of senators and representatives to vote according to their convictions.

"Quite another doctrine has recently been promulgated, and that is the doctrine of standing back of the President," he said. "So many of these fellows say, 'the President of the United States has a mandate, and you ought to vote with the President, and you ought to turn over the power to him because he has a mandate.' For myself, I have never subscribed to that doctrine.

Will Act as Representative.

"I am interested in how this bill is going to and may affect the people of my state, who elected me to come to congress to represent them. They did not elect some of the professors from Harvard, and they did not elect some of these puppets and burocrats up here in the bureaus to do their thinking for them."

Byrnes replied to this argument by saying the people also elected the President, who was given the power under the bill to make over the government.

Senator Wheeler has an admendment requiring affirmative approval by congress to make effective any executive order issued by the President. It will be widely supported by senators who oppose the proposal to abolish the controler general's office and the provision substituting a politically appointed civil service dictator for the present independent civil service commission.

RAID POLITICAL PARLEY IN CUBA; 7 DIE, 80 JAILED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, March 8.—Eighty alleged conspirators in a plot against Col. Fulgencio Batista, Cuba's strong man, were arrested late today as the aftermath of a battle last night when troops raided a political meeting. Two soldiers and five civilians were killed in that fray, which occurred at Cojimar, 12 miles east of Havana.

Among those jailed today, officials said, were leaders of several revolutionary parties and organizations.

There were reports in Havana tonight that a plan to kill Col. Batista, former sergeant who became chief of staf of the army, was frustrated eight days ago. One version said it was planned to explode bombs in the main building of the Civic Military institute at Ceiba del Agua, 35 miles southwest of Havana, during an inspection by Batista. A thousand orphans are students there.

CONVICT LABOR RACKETEERS OF EXTORTION PLOT

Cleveland Pair Taken to Prison at Once.

Cleveland, O., March 8.—[Special.]—A jury of six women and six men today convicted two labor leaders of extortion in a racketeering campaign, which, according to prosecutors, was so ravaging it halted new building in Cleveland for several years and drove many business men from the city.

Within a few minutes after the jury returned its verdict, Common Pleas Judge Alva R. Corlett sentenced Don A. Campbell and John E. McGee to one to five year terms in the Ohio penitentiary, where they were taken tonight to block efforts to obtain their freedom on bail pending appeals.

The guilty verdict, coming after a twenty-four day trial, marked the first time in the city's history that higher-ups in the Cleveland labor movement have been convicted of shakedowns.

Extorted $1,200 Bribe.

The labor leaders were accused specifically in this case of having used their positions to blackmail Vernon Stouffer, head of a restaurant chain. It was charged they held up work on a remodeling job at one of his restaurants here until he paid $1,200 to them.

Campbell is president of the Painters' District council and business agent of the Glaziers' union. He has a long police record as a pickpocket, automobile thief, and thug.

McGee is president of the Laborers' District council. He has been arrested twenty times in Cleveland, but never had been convicted. The unions the two men head are affiliates of the American Federation of Labor. The Cleveland Federation of Labor, central body of the A. F. of L., voted moral and financial support for the defendants.

Have Long Police Records.

Campbell and McGee were the first of four union leaders to go on trial on charges of extortion. Two others, Moses Donley, business agent of the Furniture Finishers' union, and James C. McDonnell, assistant business agent of the Glaziers' union, won separate trials.

Donley, alias Carl Nadalny, and McDonnell both have long police records.

The indictments were the result of an investigation by Safety Director Eliot Ness, former federal agent at Chicago where he won a reputation as an incorruptible raider.

Frauds Total Millions.

In his secret inquiry, Ness, who is 32 years old, said he found evidence that the four suspected men had defrauded business men of millions of dollars and had prevented many of their men from getting employment. Some of the business men, who had been driven out of the city by the unbearable conditions, returned to testify.

Stouffer, who has restaurants in New York, Detroit, and Pittsburgh as well as here, was the state's chief witness. He testified he paid $1,200 to McGee as a compromise after the two defendants had made repeated demands on him for $2,000.

Other state witnesses testified they paid Campbell $1,130 indirectly and $370 directly in other shakedowns.

HUNT A BANDIT, WONDER WHAT HE LOOKS LIKE

Descriptions Vary in Police Scandal.

While preparations were made yesterday for a grand jury investigation of the police scandal involving the release of two robbers by two detectives State's Attorney Courtney's office entered the search for the second of the robbers, known only as "Tip."

The searchers immediately ran into difficulties. They were supplied with three descriptions of the mysterious fugitive. Only two of the descriptions agreed in important particulars. The third description differed so much that it appeared that two men instead of one were missing.

One description of Tip, sent out over the police teletype, was given by Kenneth Peters, who was seized by Policemen Harold Thompson and Peter Frank as he and Tip were holding up a chauffeur on the night of Feb. 26. Set free by the accused detectives, Frank McKune and Earl Flannery of Town Hall station, Peters was rearrested three days later, but Tip has disappeared.

Is He Slender or Stocky?

"Tip," said Peters, "is a French Canadian, 30 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds, is of stocky build, and has black hair. He's a chauffeur and truck driver by trade."

The state's attorney's police were inclined to doubt Peters' powers of observation and also his interest in accuracy, after listening to Policemen Thompson and Frank.

"Tip is slender, not stocky, and weighs 125 to 135 pounds instead of 170," asserted Thompson. "He's about 5 feet 5 inches tall, 28 years old, and has a dark complexion. I don't know anything about his nationality or occupation."

Policeman Frank agreed. "Slender, that's right," he said. "And I had his weight down at between 120 and 130.

Another Motive Suspected.

The victim in the attempted robbery was James J. Burke, chauffeur for William Nichols, operator of handbooks at 1218 Wilson avenue and 4635 North Clark street. Peters has said he and Tip merely were attempting to collect a gambling debt. Yesterday Capt. Patrick O'Connell of Town Hall said he believed there was a more sinister motive.

"They intended to waylay Nichols and perhaps beat him or kidnap him," said the captain, "and they got the wrong man."

McKune and Flannery said they "gave a pass" to Peters and Tip because Peters was known to them and they did not believe there had been a holdup. Assistant State's Attorney William B. Crawford said he would ask the indictment of the detectives on charges of conspiracy.

FIND WOMAN'S CLOTHES; HUNT BODY; FIND NONE

Discovery of a woman's clothes near 177th street and the Governor's highway in Homewood after a dog's barks had annoyed residents of the vicinity started an investigation yesterday to determine if a crime had been committed.

Chief of Police Walter Gleason of Homewood, looking for the barking dog, found the clothing and other objects near some manholes which cover a storm sewer. The county highway police searched the sewer but found nothing.

PARENTS CLASH WITH CORONER IN BRIDE CASE

Reveal She Died Unaided After Shooting.

Delavan, Ill., March 8.—[Special.]—"I wouldn't know about that," James Crabb replied this afternoon when asked if it would have been possible for some one to have killed his young bride of five weeks. She was fatally shot in a bedroom of the Crabb home a week ago.

The husband, who is 21 years old, testified at an inquest that produced several sensational developments. The tense hearing finally was halted by Coroner Nelson Wright to investigate what he termed new evidence in the mysterious case.

Members of the Crabb family clashed with the coroner at the outset of the inquest over their objection to waiting in an anteroom until they were called as witnesses. They insisted on sitting among spectators. Dr. Wright finally called on Sherif Ralph Goar to enforce his order. The family went to the anteroom.

Wife Found on Bed.

James Crabb said he was in the bathroom of his home when he heard a shot about 2 a. m. on March 1. He said he went into the bedroom and found his pretty wife, who was 19 years old, sprawled on the bed.

"I didn't touch her," he testified in answer to a question from the coroner, "but went to the bed and looked at her. I stayed there a second. I did not know if she was living."

Q.—Did you know any reason why she should shoot herself? A.—I could not testify as to that.

Q.—Would you be willing to take a lie detector test? A.—You would have to see my counsel about that.

Q.—Would it be possible for some one else to shoot her? A.—I wouldn't know about that.

Testimony Confusing.

James, his father, Willis Crabb, Delavan banker, and the latter's second wife, Catherine, had testified earlier that no one had been in the room after the body was found. Coroner Wright ordered the hearing continued until Saturday after he heard testimony at variance with this version.

It was Mrs. Crabb who told the jury of events in the home preceding the shooting.

"Betty and James came home about 2:15 a. m.," she said. "They made a lot of noise, talking loudly, slamming doors, and playing the radio. When James' father protested Betty came into our room and sat upon the bed."

"I'm lit. Mind if I come in and smoke a cigaret?" Mrs. Crabb quoted the younger woman as having said.

"This sort of thing must stop," the father replied.

Son Chides Father.

"You used to do the same thing yourself," his son charged, entering the chamber.

"That makes no difference now," the elder Crabb countered. "You've got to cut it out. Tomorrow is the first of the month and we'll both have a lot of work to do at the bank."

"Maybe I'll cut it out and maybe I won't," James answered, according to his stepmother.

"If you don't I'll call Joe Cook [police chief]," his father warned.

"Go ahead," the son retorted.

Town Marshal E. W. Ringo testified he and another officer, R. T. Burbidge, had been called to the Crabb home by the banker who asked them to quiet his son. They were in the front yard talking with the elder Crabb when they heard a shot.

After going to the upstairs bedroom and learning that the bride had been shot, Ringo said he and Burbidge and the elder Crabb returned to the ground floor to receive Dr. H. W. Brink.

Before the physician arrived, Ringo testified, he returned upstairs and saw James come out of the bedroom where his wife's body was lying. The policeman said he admonished James not to enter the room again until the doctor came.

Sherif Goar testified he found the death gun, an old model single action revolver, almost out of sight between the mattress and the head of the bed. The barrel pointed downward, he said, and the butt was hardly visible.

Although the husband and his father have insisted that Mrs. Crabb's death must have been a suicide, neither they nor any one else has offered a motive.

GARBO'S DIRECTOR SAYS HE IS SURE SHE WILL WED STOKOWSKI

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—Greta Garbo will marry Leopold Stokowski, London born orchestra conductor, despite the denials which have been made, said Clarence Brown, Hollywood movie director, who arrived in London last night. Brown has known Miss Garbo for twelve years and directed her in seven pictures.

"No matter how often they deny plans to get married, I'll not believe it," Brown asserted.

[Both Miss Garbo and Stokowski are in Italy, and reports from Rome on Saturday said they would be wed within two weeks in Turin.]

Dolores del Rio, Cedric Gibbons, and other friends of Miss Garbo shared his convictions, Brown said, and "can well believe reports of Greta and Stokowski at an Italian lakeside holding hands and singing love songs to each other."

EX-POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH HANDLING LOOT

Accused of passing $130 worth of American Express money orders taken in a holdup, John Hernigle, a former police sergeant living at 637 Drummond place, was arrested last night by Sergt. Walter Paradowski and his detective squad. Hernigle was seized after William Maher of 522 Church street, Evanston, had been held to the grand jury on a charge of robbing a Western Union telegraph agency at 6447½ Sheridan road on Jan. 21. Part of the robbery loot was $880 in money orders. Hernigle was a friend of Maher. The police said Hernigle has been identified by an Evanston business man who cashed one of the money orders.

AUTO RACE ENDS IN A TIE; BOTH DRIVERS SEIZED

Policemen Frank Andrews and Francis Plunkett arrested two Chicago motorists in Evanston last night and told this story:

One on the left side of Asbury avenue and one on the right, the motorists raced at sixty miles an hour, forcing others to drive in the middle of the avenue. When the drivers were captured they said one had cut the other off at a crossing and the race had begun when the former tried to retaliate.

The drivers were George W. Ramey, 19 years old, of 7100 Sheridan road, and Raymond Fisher, 27, of 1631 Leland avenue.

Confesses Killing His Wife and Setting Fire to Body

Mayfield, Ky., March 8.—[Special.]—Rex Brittian, a farmer, confessed tonight that he blundgeoned his wife to death, saturated her body with kerosene, and set fire to it in the attic of their farm home 10 miles north of here following a quarrel. Then, the husband related, he brought his son, 8 years old, to Mayfield, where the boy was to undergo an operation. A daughter 12 years old was in school at the time of the tragedy. Neighbors who saw smoke issuing from the Brittian attic this morning found the woman's body and extinguished the blaze before it spread.

NAZI ENVOY GETS HITLER'S ORDERS ON BRITISH TALKS

Ties Between 2 Nations Suffer New Setback.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 8.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler issued strict instructions today to Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, concerning his forthcoming negotiations with British authorities on future Anglo-German relations. Von Ribbentrop left for London tonight to take formal leave of his post there as Nazi ambassador. While in London he will begin the negotiations.

Von Ribbentrop is confronted with a delicate task, because the relations of the two countries suffered a setback at the last conference between Hitler and Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin. In that meeting Hitler expressed in no uncertain terms his disappointment at the slowness in the improvement of relations between the countries.

Intervene in Pastor Case.

A number of prominent Englishmen are distressed because the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, leader of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] movement, has been imprisoned in a Nazi concentration camp. Niemoeller, a German submarine commander in the world war, was seized by the secret police last Wednesday after he had been convicted but released by a court on charges of opposing the Nazi state by speaking against its leaders and violating its pulpit regulations.

English groups which have been working zealously for an Anglo-German agreement were reported to be rushing Baron Noel Buxton to Berlin to plead with Hitler for some consideration of British public opinion. Buxton is close to Viscount Astor, who has negotiated with the Germans repeatedly to safeguard German Christian Scientists.

Riot Against Ribbentrop.

LONDON, March 8.—(AP)—Demonstrators crying "Down with Ribbentrop" plunged Piccadilly circus into confusion tonight, snarling traffic and bringing out reserve police to cope with the crowds.

The demonstrators were protesting against Joachim von Ribbentrop, retiring Nazi ambassador, who is due in London tomorrow, and against Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's negotiations with the Fascist dictator states.

Police tore down banners demanding "Keep out Herr Ribbentrop," and "get out, Herr Chamberlain." The communist party had scheduled a meeting in the circus. More than 300 marchers with clenched fists were dispersed.

A meeting was held on a side street where one speaker declared "Ribbentrop comes to London for no good purpose. He's going to make a bargain with Chamberlain which will result in the Spanish government being betrayed further."

Rome Bargaining Begins.

British and Italian diplomats started bargaining in Rome today in an effort to solve peacefully difficulties between those two nations. The earl of Perth, British ambassador to Rome, visited Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano at the Chigi palace. Lord Perth returned to Rome Sunday from London with instructions for a "realistic" approach to Anglo-Italian problems.

The ambassador was accompanied by Maurice Ingram, chief of the southern European division of the British foreign office and formerly counselor of the British embassy in Rome.

The Italian press had little to say about the Anglo-Italian conference, in strange contrast to the columns devoted to the current visit of the Polish foreign minister, Col. Joseph Beck.

See Poles Holding Balance.

Beck's visit was interpreted by some as likely to have strong bearing on the European picture, with Poland possibly being drawn in as a balance between Great Britain and France on one side and the German-Italian alliance on the other.

In London, meantime, the house of commons was given further information concerning the tremendous scope of Britain's armament plans. Geoffrey Lloyd, home office undersecretary, announced that consultations were under way with public utilities—including electricity, gas, and railways companies—on the best way to insure their effective operations in wartime. Similar conferences will begin soon with dock, harbor, and water supply authorities.

Conservatives in parliament were encouraged by the desertion of Lord Sanderson, blind peer, from the Labor party. He announced he was following Lord Arnold, who quit the Labor party ten days ago, because the party's foreign policy "involves too much hatred of other powers" and "is a menace to the peace of the world."

Japanese Diet Passes War Bill for $1,356,000,000

TOKIO, March 8.—(AP)—The lower house of the Japanese diet today passed the supplementary budget calling for appropriations of 4,850,000,000 yen [$1,356,000,000] to defray costs of the Chinese conflict in 1938.

HOOVER HAS CHAT WITH HITLER ON WORLD AFFAIRS

Carl Schurz Society Honors Visitor.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 8.—Herbert Hoover, former President of the world's first great democracy, today met the Fuehrer of the world's outstanding totalitarian state. Hoover and Hugh R. Wilson, United States ambassador, chatted with Adolf Hitler and listened to the German leader expound his views on world problems, with Paul Schmidt, interpreter, translating the words at top speed.

Hoover, who has come to Europe to study conditions and "to find what message the Europe of today holds for America," spent 40 minutes with Hitler. He declined to make a comment after the meeting.

Denies Hoover Flayed Nazism.

Paul Schmidt, general manager of the San Francisco Chronicle and Hoover's traveling companion, denied a published report that the ex-President had "denounced Nazism" during the interview and had clashed with Hitler on the merits of totalitarianism as compared with democracy.

"The report is not true and is an absolute haywire description of the meeting," Schmidt said. "Hoover naturally would not reveal what they talked of or said at the meeting.

"It is possible in the course of the conversation Hoover merely expressed his own view of liberalism, but it is utterly wrong to say this constituted a denunciation of Nazism."

Hoover was guest of honor at a banquet given by the Carl Schurz association tonight. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, presided.

Pays Tribute to Hoover.

Schacht paid tribute to Hoover as "an outstanding protagonist of conscience, humanitarianism and international understanding." He bemoaned the "tragic element—the mistakes and consequences of the post war time—which made it impossible for Hoover to bring his ideas to full success."

"We may expect great things yet of the man who is our guest tonight," Schacht concluded.

After praising German genius in technology, Hoover, in reply, spoke of the difficult days of the world war when he worked to "bring food supplies to ten million people with an occupation army on one side and a blockade on the other—both equally unsympathetic." He described how he and his associates worked after the war to "restore the vitality of twenty million children of Europe."

NAZI PAPER SAYS ARISTOCRATS AID JEWISH STORES

BERLIN, March 8.—(AP)—Alarm over the continued prosperity of Jewish firms in Germany, despite four years of Nazi effort to crowd them out, was sounded today by the Stuermer, weekly organ of Julius Streicher, German's No. 1 Jew baiter.

The Stuermer demanded to know if aristocrats deliberately were trying to support Jews.

It printed a long list of regular customers of a large Jewish owned Berlin department store containing many names of aristocratic families.

CHARGES BRITISH CIVIL AVIATION IS BADLY MANAGED

Air Ministry and Air Lines Hit in Report.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 8.—A shakeup of the British air ministry was believed imminent with the issuance of a report tonight by a committee appointed to investigate delinquencies in civil aviation. Lord Cadman is chairman of the committee.

The report made charges of mismanagement and lack of initiative and foresight in the civil aviation department of the air ministry and operating companies. It suggested not only changes in personnel, but a thorough reorganization of the air lines. With minor exceptions the Imperial Airways is limited to the empire and future trans-Atlantic routes, while the European and other nonempire services, including West Africa and South America, are assigned to the British Airways.

Condemns Croydon Airport.

The report condemned Croydon as an inadequate airport for London and classed as "highly unsatisfactory" the delay in finding a base for the empire flying boat services.

The committee urged a big increase in subsidies to "help restore British prestige" and special state aid to encourage the production of up-to-date commercial airliners to replace obsolete machines.

It was believed likely that Viscount Swinton, on the basis of the report, will resign as secretary for air.

In connection with the committee's revelations that British civil aviation is lagging behind its competitors, it was recalled that Winston Churchill in the house of commons last night alleged that military aviation progress in Great Britain also is far in arrears as compared with Germany.

Recommendations Accepted.

Most of the Cadman committee's recommendations for putting British civil aviation back on its feet have been accepted by the government and the air lines.

A drastic change will be made, including the doubling of the maximum state subsidies for air transport companies from $7,500,000 to $15,000,000 and the creation of a new post of permanent undersecretary for air to increase civil aircraft development.

An attempt also will be made to remedy the "serious defects" in the management of Imperial Airways by appointing a full time chairman and two full time directors. Personal contact between employers and employés will be supplemented also by collective representation to avoid further labor troubles.

The London to Paris service, it was announced, will be operated in the future by a single company formed by the amalgamation of Imperial Airways and British Airways. Imperial Airways will continue its flying boat services to Greece and Italy.

NAZIS CALL U. S. ANNEXATION OF ISLES 'RUTHLESS'

BERLIN, March 8.—(AP)—The sending of a coast guard vessel to plant the United States flag on Canton and Enderbury Islands in the mid-Pacific was watched with keen interest here today. It was interpreted as proof of the United States' readiness to take what it wants and talk about it later.

The Nazi press pictured American warships racing to the south seas in a ruthless annexation move. Editorial comments twitted the Washington government with this sudden show of "aggressive enterprise."

M. P.'s to Raise Question.

LONDON, March 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's move to take over Canton and Enderbury caused a stir in the house of commons today. Arthur Henderson, Laborite, and Roland Robinson, Conservative, announced they would ask Prime Minister Chamberlain tomorrow what the British government is doing to "preserve British rights." The islands have been claimed as British territory.

Lake County Sherif's Cars to Have Two Way Radios

Lake county's board of supervisors yesterday appropriated $4,742 to complete installation of two way radio communications in all six cars used by Sherif Lawrence Doolittle and his deputies. Chief Deputy Sherif Thomas E. Kennedy, who conducted tests of the equipment, urged the appropriation. Broadcasting facilities are to be set up at Gray's Lake and operators will be on duty 24 hours a day.

British Missionary Slain with Students in China

LONDON, March 8.—(AP)—The British Methodist Missionary society received word today that R. H. Goldsworthy, veteran British missionary, was slain with a number of Chinese students at their Stone Gateway station in Kweichow province. Society officials here believed bandits, emboldened by withdrawal of Chinese troops, looted the mission.

Miss Laura Anderson with Ginger.

Miss Laura Anderson, 26 years old, 9322 South Winchester avenue, ventured into the loop without human escort yesterday for the first time since she lost her sight ten years ago.

She was accompanied, however, by one who guided her as carefully and cautiously as any man or woman, for her new guide is "Ginger," a gray and tan German shepherd dog whom she brought back from the Seeing Eye institution in Morristown, N. J., three weeks ago.

In agreement with the terms of the Seeing Eye, Miss Anderson had to earn the $150 for Ginger. This she did by teaching piano and giving concerts, while continuing work for her master's degree in piano at the American Conservatory of Music. She then went to Morristown on Jan. 16 for a month's training with the dog.

GERMANIA CLUB BANS MEETINGS OF NAZI GROUPS

Acts After Clash at Bund Rally.

The Germania club, one of Chicago's leading German social organizations, no longer will allow Nazi groups to meet in the clubhouse at 108 Germania place. This decision, announced yesterday, is the aftermath of a clash in the club on the night of Feb. 23.

On that occasion members of the German-American bund rented the meeting hall for an address by G. Wilhelm Kunze, a bund official. Kunze, dressed in the brown uniform of a Hitler Storm Trooper, assailed the Jews and advocated Fascism. A youth refused to salute the Nazi flag and in the disturbance that followed he and two men were arrested.

Trustee Notifies All Members.

Marshall Keig, federal trustee for the club which is being reorganized under the bankruptcy laws, sent a letter yesterday to the club members informing them officially of the unanimous decision of the membership that the premises would be denied to Nazi groups. The club has disclaimed all responsibility for the disturbance on Feb. 23.

"The Germania club should not be used as a battleground for the advancement of any 'ism' but Americanism," Keig said. "The club is a nonpartisan institution, devoted to providing a headquarters for all German-Americans and legitimate German-American groups interested in the preservation of German culture and traditions, and that membership is open only to full fledged American citizens of German descent.

Action Results from Criticism.

"It is not my duty to pass on the merits of conflicting groups, but since past experience has shown that the America-Deutscher Volksbund [German-American bund] causes criticism and dissension, however just, the trustee has decided that the organization shall not be permitted to rent the facilities of the club."

CHINESE RETAKE 12 TOWNS BEHIND JAPANESE LINES

Army of Irregulars and Civilians Rises.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 9 [Wednesday].—Chinese guerrilla forces, operating behind the Japanese advance points in Shansi province, have recaptured a dozen towns, Chinese sources asserted today.

Shansi is bounded on the west and the south by the Yellow river. The Japanese are poised at three points in the west—at Hoku, Hotsin and Chaotsun—for a drive into Shensi province, and at various points in the south to attempt crossings of the river and attacks on the vital Lunghai railway.

When the Japanese moved rapidly along railways and highways to their present advanced points many Chinese irregular troops and armed civilians remained hidden in Shansi's many mountains and hills. Now, the Chinese say, they have risen to harass the Japanese communications.

Dynamite Railway Equipment.

The Chinese claimed to have dynamited eighty locomotives and 500 freight cars to prevent them falling into Japanese hands. Telegraph and phone lines also were destroyed.

The Chinese said their own successes and most of the towns recaptured were from forty to sixty miles behind the Japanese front and near the Honan-Hopei provinces border.

Japanese artillery placed at Menghsien and Wenhsien on the north bank of the river in Shansi province has been shelling Chinese positions on the south bank. For centuries Chinese have forded the Yellow river at Menghsien, one of the few places where this is possible. It is expected the Japanese will make their attempt to cross the river at this point, their objective being to cut the Lunghai railway between Chengchow and Loyang.

Driven Back After Crossing.

The Japanese also are massing troops at Chaotsun, at the great bend of the river and opposite Tungkwan on the Lunghai. Tungkwan is the gateway to Shensi province and its capital, Sian. Sian, which is surrounded by a 30-foot wall built in 1368 by Hung Wu, founder of the Ming dynasty, was capital of China for 400 years.

Chinese admit that the Japanese once crossed the Yellow river from Paotehchen in northwestern Shansi province to Fuku in Shensi, but said the Japanese were driven back by a counter-attack.

Widow Cleared in Slaying of Ex-Deputy U. S. Marshal

Mrs. Mabel Spizziri, 31 years old, was cleared in Kansas City, Kas., yesterday of a charge of murdering her husband, Joseph Spizziri, 51 years old, who was a deputy United States marshal here in the prohibition days, according to dispatches last night. Mrs. Spizziri testified that she shot her husband Feb. 8 when he advanced on her with clenched fists after handing her a revolver and daring her to shoot.

MOSCOW DEMANDS JAPAN RELEASE TWO SHIPS AND A PLANE

TOKIO, March 8.—(AP)—Mikhail M. Slavutsky, soviet Russian ambassador, protested today against the detention of two Russian steamers in Japanese ports and of a soviet airplane in Manchukuo.

The Japanese foreign office came back with charges that soviet authorities were "illegally holding" 58 Japanese subjects in Russian Sakhalin and nine Japanese fishing vessels.

The Russian protest said the steamers had been driven by storms into Japanese waters, where they were forcibly halted and searched while the airplane was carrying mail when it made a forced landing last month. Japanese officials said the steamers were charting Japanese harbors, while the plane carried machine-guns and bombracks.

Russia also asked Japan to close all its consulates in the soviet union.

NAZIS MISTREAT DUTCH PRISONER; EXPRESS REGRET

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, March 8.—The German government today officially admitted one case of ill treatment in a German prison, expressed regret, and gave assurance that the officials responsible will be punished.

In December, 1935, Flying Officer Aalders of The Netherlands army air force, while visiting Germany, was arrested by the GSP [secret police] on charges of high treason. He was imprisoned for nearly two years before he was brought to trial, at which he established his innocence. Upon his release and return home he complained of systematic ill treatment.

The Dutch foreign office took up the matter and, through diplomatic channels, asked Germany for information five months ago. Germany's reply was received today.

FRANCO'S FORCES SPLIT OVER FORM OF FUTURE SPAIN

Some Want a Monarchy, Others Fascism.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 8.—The Spanish civil war will continue for a long time, military and political circles here believe. They say neither side in Spain has a knockout punch and that the war appears to be more international than Spanish.

The opinion is expressed that the Spaniards could, perhaps, have reached a settlement among themselves, despite the bitterness caused by so much fratricidal killing, if the interests of the British, the Germans, the Italians, and the French were not also at stake in Spain.

Await Franco Offensive.

If Gen. Francisco Franco, rebel commander, gets more foreign aid, he may be able to launch a heavy offensive this spring and reach the Mediterranean coast. He is only 55 miles away from it now east of Teruel. But his drives for the moment fail to follow through—mostly for the reason that he does not have enough men, plus what seems to be lassitude in the Spanish character which keeps them from energetically following up a success.

In any event, observers say, what Franco would win would not be a happy heritage. His side is split between the Requetes, representing the church and the hidalgoes [landed gentry], who would like to see Spain again what it was in the time of Philip II., and the Falangists, who are a first rate copy of the German Nazi Brown Shirts and the Italian Fascists. These two groups are at odds.

Loyalists Also Divided.

The Barcelona side is equally divided among the various Socialist, anarchist, and communist groups.

The explosive possibilities of either side are equally great. Many observers believe nothing but a dictatorship can hold things together in event of a victory by either side. It would be a proletarian dictatorship if Barcelona should win; a monarchy with Franco probably as its Hitler-Mussolini figure if the rebels should win.

The cross-sections of the country not only are social and political but also regional. There not only are Basque and Catalan autonomous movements, but also an Andalusian one in the south, where Gen. Queipo de Llano, insurgent commander at Seville and one of the most interesting figures of the war, is supreme. He might try to set up an Andalusian republic if he is pushed too hard by Franco.

19 Pound Baby

[Associated Press Wirephotos.]

Mrs. Mary Lawler and her baby boy, who weighed 19 pounds at birth.

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—(AP)—It looked like better times today in the home of Baby Donald Lawler, who at birth yesterday weighed 19 pounds.

Dad, that's John C. Lawler, 37 years old, went back to work.

Unemployed since Christmas time, Lawler was notified a job awaited him in the automobile factory where he previously worked.

The plight of the family, in which there are five other children, came to light when the birth of the 19 pound Donald aroused public interest in the Lawlers.

The 36 year old mother, Mrs. Mary Lawler, murmured when she was told how much the baby weighed:

"You must be kidding me."

FETE GOODY COLE 282 YEARS AFTER TRIAL AS WITCH

Hampton, N. H., March 8.—(AP)—The bells tolled in Town hall today—Eunice Goody Cole had been exonerated after 282 years.

By unanimous vote of 300 townspeople, Goody Cole was restored to her rightful place as a citizen of Hampton and plans were endorsed to honor her at Hampton's tercentenary celebration in August.

Back in 1656, Goody Cole was accused of witchcraft; convicted by a Massachusetts Bay colony judge and served ten years in a Boston jail.

When released, she returned to Hampton to hear the hoots and sneers of a nagging citizenry until she died and was buried in a shallow roadside grave, with a stake driven through her body and topped with a horseshoe so the devil could not possess her.

FRENCH PREMIER TO ASK FINANCIAL DICTATOR POWER

PARIS, March 8.—(AP)—Premier Camille Chautemps decided today he would stake the life of his government on an effort to seek financial powers deemed necessary in view of France's 15,000,000,000 franc [$487,500,000] extraordinary defense program.

He announced after a cabinet meeting that he would seek parliamentary approval of the plan Thursday and said the government was prepared "to accept its full responsibility before parliament."

Faced by immediate opposition, the premier conferred with Socialist and communist leaders and offered to resign and let the objectors form a government. Both Socialists and communists declined the offer.

RESCUERS TELL STORY OF REBEL SHIP'S SINKING

Most of Crew Refuses Chance to Be Saved.

GIBRALTAR, March 8.—(AP)—British seamen aboard rescue destroyers today described the sinking of the Spanish rebel cruiser Baleares, which was torpedoed by a loyalist destroyer in a naval battle Sunday off Cartagena.

Members of the crews of the British vessels Boreas and Kempenfelt estimated 600 rebel sailors, including officers and the fleet's rear admiral, were lost when the warship sank two hours and a half after being hit.

The British vessels picked up 200 survivors, including four officers, and landed them at Palma, Mallorca.

Rebel Cruisers Come Out.

The sailors' hour by hour chronology of the sea battle was as follows:

Saturday, 3 p. m.—British destroyers patroling in pairs between Cartagena and Almeria, loyalist ports on the Mediterranean, saw three rebel cruisers move out of Palma, in the Balearic Islands, and head for the Spanish coast.

10 p. m.—The British destroyers Blanche and Brilliant saw rebel cruisers navigating without lights and approaching Cartagena.

Sunday, 2:20 a. m.—Glaring reflection seen in sky, followed by the roar of explosions off Cape Palos.

4:30 a. m.—Kempenfelt and Boreas reached the side of the Baleares, aflame and sinking. The rebel cruisers Canarias and Almirante Cervera were standing by about a mile away. The destroyers sent messages urging the Baleares' crew to jump and at the same time lowered lifeboats. The majority of the crew refused to abandon ship.

4:50 a. m.—Baleares sank.

Bombing Planes Attack.

8:30 a. m.—Blanche and Brilliant arrived on scene. Only oil and wreckage were visible on the surface. The rebel cruisers were still in the vicinity and the Kempenfelt and Boreas were lowering their boats to transfer the survivors to the Canarias.

9:30 a. m.—Three war planes appeared from the direction of Barcelona, followed by six bombers from Cartagena, while the transfer was being made. A number of bombs were dropped between the destroyers and the Canarias. The British ships did not fire, but the Canarias and Almirante Cervera put up a stiff barrage for a time and then steamed away, leaving a number of survivors aboard the British ships. [Loyalists reported the Canarias was hit and damaged by a bomb.]

A bulletin from Burgos, seat of the rebel government, decreed authorization to requisition all ships registered from Spanish ports for "national defense" in an effort to bolster its naval strength. The decree said indemnity would be paid for vessels requisitioned.

Towns Near Barcelona Bombed.

BARCELONA, March 8.—(AP)—Spanish rebel planes bombed several towns north of Barcelona tonight, causing an undetermined number of casualties.

Miss Edna Anderson at inquest yesterday into death of Dr. Max Sammet.

The inquest into the death of Dr. Max Bernard Sammet, an exiled German-Jewish dentist, who was slain Feb. 20 in front of 229 South Paulina street, was closed yesterday with a verdict by a coroner's jury of murder by a person or persons unknown.

Mrs. Inge Sammet, the dentist's widow, testified her husband left Germany because his Jewish blood prevented him from getting patients. She agreed with the police theory that he was slain by robbers, saying he was the type of man who would resist a bandit. Miss Edna Anderson, an X-ray technician, told of being with Dr. Sammet several hours before he was slain.

Policeman John Racek testified that police have arrested thirty-six men and several women as suspects, and have submitted six revolvers to ballistics tests in the search for Dr. Sammet's slayer.

VISITING FIREMEN BRING LA GRANGE A PIANO CRISIS

The volunteer fire department of La Grange needed a piano to entertain in its clubhouse for the West Suburban Firemen's association. Fire Chief William S. Hofman realized it couldn't be a party without a piano, so he suggested:

"Let us go from house to house and solicit a piano. Surely some one will give us one and we can tune it up and then the visiting firemen can check their sour notes on it."

The response to the house to house canvas was exceedingly generous. Seven pianos were offered. So last Sunday, Chief Hofman gathered six good men of his force—John Walker and Roy Lane, who happened to be ex-piano movers; Gene Cortesi, Lieut. Raymond Cook, Max Pfitzner, and Edward Clifford.

Ordered to Pick Best One.

"Get a truck," directed the chief, "and go after the seven pianos. Pick out the best one and bring it in. We must have it in readiness for the big affair on March 24."

The moving detail found one piano was too frail to move, and a second fell to pieces when they picked it up. That left five. The next three were pretty good and were hauled to the homes of three of the movers.

Piano No. 6 was taken to a tavern in Brookfield and sold for $5. The money was used to pay for the hire of the moving truck.

Piano No. 7—a most excellent specimen—was found in a vacant apartment at 40 North Spring avenue in the suburb. The owner of the building, Mrs. Fred Emery, had reported that the last tenants left it when they moved away, so the fire department was welcome to it.

Install Piano in Clubhouse.

Late Sunday afternoon it was installed in the clubhouse. On Monday it was tuned and the firemen all agreed the West Suburban Firemen's association would never be entertained on a more excellent instrument.

But yesterday to the clubhouse came Farmer H. J. Davis of Big Rock, Ill. He came with a truck and demanded the piano. He had a written order for its possession, and he took it away.

So last night the fire department again needed a piano.

PRIEST IS MURDERED; RIOTS SWEEP WARSAW; JEWS APPEAL FOR AID

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, Poland, March 8.—A delegation of Jewish deputies and senators called on the minister of interior today to request protection for Jewish-owned businesses in Warsaw against renewed anti-Semitic rioting.

Anti-communist meetings, arranged by Fascist and Nationalist groups, are being held in Warsaw almost nightly following the killing of Father Stanislaw Streich while the priest was officiating at mass in Lubon, near Poznan. A communist named Nowak was charged with the slaying.

Following these meetings, groups of youths march through the streets shouting "Down with the communists" and "Down with the Jews," and smashing windows in Jews' stores. Last night more than fifty shop windows were damaged.

REX PAYS PRICE OF GROWING UP: CAT GETS AWAY

Elsworth Smith, 17 years old, the dog's owner, summoned Capt. Charles Crane of fire engine company No. 52. With the permission of Henry V. Vickers, owner of the garage, Capt. Crane chopped a hole in the brick wall and lifted Rex through it.

kill Pechkov and Menzhinsky under Yagoda's threats against their lives. Kruchkov said he caused Pechkov to catch cold while drunk.

"I loved Gorky and his family," Levin said. "I thought him one of our greatest people. That is why Yagoda lies when he says I did what I did without orders. I am not afraid of death. I am 68. But he threatened to annihilate my family.

Tells of Gorky's Death.

"He [Gorky] was a completely ill man. His lungs were the worst. Kruchkov asked me what was bad for Gorky. I told him long walks, physical exercise, failure to rest after dinner.

"So he was allowed to walk for miles. He was allowed to stand facing the warmth, a cold wind blowing across his back. Kruchkov brought him up from Crimea when his grandchildren were down with the grippe. Gorky caught it in two days. It developed into double pneumonia. Pletnyer and I used large doses of medicines which normally should be used in small doses."

Then, ten days before Gorky's death, Levin said, Pletnyev urged: "Let's give the sick man something to ease him out."

Of the death of Menzhinsky, in 1934, Levin testified:

"Yagoda said, 'Why not put an end to Menzhinsky, who is living in torture?'

Told to Hasten Death.

"I said Menzhinsky could fight for life for an undetermined length of time.

"Yagoda said Menzhinsky was a living corpse and death should be hastened."

Levin, in explaining how he got Pechkov to catch his fatal cold in 1934 while drunk, said he took advantage of Pechkov's weakness for alcohol. Pechkov, he said, could not handle liquor.

"We began to encourage his drinking," he continued. "Kruchkov drank with him. It did not harm Kruchkov, but it wrecked Pechkov. One day when Pechkov was intoxicated Kruchkov took him outside—it was late spring—and encouraged him to lie down almost naked on a bench where the wind blew over him freely.

"He lay like that two hours. He caught a bad cold. The disease became acute. We made matters worse by giving medicines bad for the heart. On May 10 he died."

Suffered Heart Attack.

Levin said Kuibishev returned to Moscow from middle Asia in 1934 an ill man and suffered a heart attack during a cabinet meeting.

"Kuibishev's weak spot was his heart," the doctor testified. "I told Maximov [V. A. Maximov, private secretary to Kuibishev, now one of the defendants] exactly what to do in case of an attack of angina pectoris.

"When giving the instructions I knew he would do just the opposite. He allowed Kuibishev to walk home, climb three flights of stairs, and then called a doctor only when Kuibishev's maid telephoned he was very ill.

"When I arrived I found Kuibishev dead."

After Pechkov's funeral Levin said Yagoda told him: "You now are completely at my mercy."

Then Yagoda told Levin of widespread dissatisfaction with the leadership of Josef Stalin and of a plot of Bukharin and former Premier Alexis I. Rykov—the two ranking defendants in this trial—to overthrow the government."

Tell of Yagoda's Threats.

When Yagoda was secret police chief, his co-defendants testified, his own method of ensuring the testimony he wanted in court was to threaten the lives of his prisoners and their families.

As an example, Bulanov told the court Yagoda sent a henchman to "instruct" one of the defendants in the first Moscow treason trial in August, 1936. Yagoda was said to have feared the prisoner, T. Smirnov, would reveal too much and later visited him personally in his cell.

Bulanov said he gathered from subrequent talks with Yagoda that "they did not have to worry about Smirnov's behavior at the trial." Smirnov was found guilty and executed.

BRITISH HUNTER FREED OF CHARGE HE KILLED FOX IN CRUEL MANNER

DARLINGTON, England, March 8.—(AP)—Police court magistrates turned a deaf ear today to animal lovers' charges of cruelty in fox hunting and gave Capt. Hugh A. Jaffray assurance that his "Tally Ho" had legal approval.

The Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals accused Jaffray, master of Zetland hunt hounds, of causing a fox to suffer when he pulled it from its hole and threw it to the hounds.

Magistrates acquitted him after his attorney said Jaffray's kindness to animals was "simply notorious" and credited him with killing the fox in "the most humane way possible."

Finder: John Howe, 51 Chicago avenue, Oak Park, out of work two years.

ROBERT F. CARR FAILS TO APPEAR AT TAX HEARING

Robert F. Carr, president of the Dearborn Chemical company, whose 1937 personal property assessment was increased to $217,774 from a 1936 figure of $1,594, failed to respond yesterday when his case was called by the Cook county board of tax appeals. Carr obtained cancellation of the assessment on Feb. 17 after swearing that his residence was in Lake county, but the case was reopened at the request of Assessor John S. Clark.

John E. Battle, chief of the personality division of the assessor's office, said he was prepared to testify that an investigator had found the Lake Forest home of Carr boarded up and Carr living at 209 Lake Shore drive. The investigator, he said, failed to find that Carr was a registered voter in Lake Forest, but he was registered in Chicago. Battle said that Carr made a 1937 return or $1,055 in Lake county.

It was stated at the board of appeals office that if Carr does not respond to the call by Friday the $217,774 assessment would be confirmed.

ENVOY KENNEDY RIDES IN STATE TO SEE KING; WEARS LONG PANTS

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 8.—Three British state carriages, with coachmen, footmen, and outriders in top hats and long scarlet cloaks, carried United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy and his staf to Buckingham palace today to present his credentials to King George VI. of Great Britain.

Following the traditional procedure, the new ambassador and members of his staf wore tailcoats, white ties, and long trousers for the occasion, which was carried out with all the pomp handed down from the days of absolute British rulers.

Kennedy spent a half hour with the king, who wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet. It was reported that the king showed an interest in the ambassador's nine children and expressed the wish to see them when they arrive in England.

WIDOW OF FIELD EXECUTIVE GIVEN AUTHORITY TO SUE

Claims Store Owes His Estate $300,000.

Mrs. Alice McKinsey was granted permission yesterday by Judge Martin C. Decker of the Lake County Probate court to file suit for $300,000 against Marshall Field & Co. in behalf of the estate of her husband, James O. McKinsey, for which she is administratrix.

The suit will be a friendly action to determine the legality of a management contract with Mr. McKinsey, according to Frederick C. Corley, president of Fields'. The contract was made Oct. 7, 1935, before Mr. McKinsey became chairman of the board and senior executive officer of the company, a post he held at the time of his death last Dec. 10.

The order entered for Mrs. McKinsey, who lives at 1570 North Waukegan road, Lake Forest, did not specify the cause of action and her attorney, John Bishop, declared he could say nothing until the suit is filed. The transaction upon which the action will be based was explained in full, however, by Mr. Corley.

Given Option to Buy Stock.

Shortly before Mr. McKinsey became associated with Field's, he was given an option to buy a large block of Field stock at an agreed price, or to receive from the company the amount by which the market quotation exceeded the fixed price.

About a year ago Mr. McKinsey bought 10,000 shares at a profit of $105,000, Mr. Corley stated. Last September he was given $313,929 in lieu of exercising his option to purchase 20,000 shares at $10 a share. It was understood that some of the stockholders objected to the company paying the estate this amount, which Mr. KcKinsey had elected to take in cash, under the terms of the contract.

"We want to determine whether the company has the right to make this payment, since the question of its legality has arisen," said Mr. Corley, "We have set aside the amount and want to pay it if the court so orders."

Stock Pledged as Loan Security.

Listed among the stock holdings in the McKinsey estate is a block of 19,000 shores of Field stock which, it is understood, is pledged against a loan at the First National bank.

Mr. McKinsey was considered one of the outstanding men in the business field. Born in a small three room farm house near Mexico, Mo., he sought an extensive education and eventually joined the faculty of the University of Chicago.

In addition to continuing his university career Mr. McKinsey became a business consultant and many of the largest firms in the country sought his advice. When James Simpson left the Field company to head the Commonwealth Edison company and the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company Mr. McKinsey took his place.

Husband Killer Talks

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Mrs. Patricia Ryan on stand in New York yesterday as she testified in her trial for the slaying of her policeman husband.

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. Patricia Ryan, who killed her policeman husband last Oct. 31 with his service revolver today told a Bronx jury she took continual beatings from him in the four years they were married. Now 21 years old, Mrs. Ryan said they were forced to wed in 1934 because she was an expectant mother. Her second child was born a year ago. She said she killed Ryan when she no longer could take his abuse.

VOTE TRUE BILL NAMING CASHIER AS EMBEZZLER

The grand jury was reported yesterday to have voted a true bill charging Terrence J. Rasmussen, former cashier of the North American Car corporation, with embezzlement. Arrested Feb. 25 in Los Angeles, Cal., Rasmussen waived extradition and will be returned to Chicago tomorrow.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert Wright said private investigators for the company had discovered Rasmussen converted $413,000 to his own use during the 15 years he was employed.

Rasmussen, according to Wright, got the signatures of officials on requisitions, then forged checks issued in payment. In January the company sued two loop banks, alleging the forgeries were so obvious the checks should never have been cashed.

KUBIN HEIRS SUE TRUSTEE; CHARGE $1,000,000 LOSS

Condemn Failure to Sell Brewery Stock.

The Chicago Title and Trust company was made defendant yesterday in an accounting suit filed by the heirs of Otto Kubin who charged that mismanagement and neglect by the trust company had cost the estate more than $1,000,000.

The estate consisted largely of stock in the Atlas Brewing company, of which Kubin was the president until his death in 1929. The suit, filed by his widow, Vlasta; two sons, Charles and Robert, and two daughters, Adelaide and Mrs. Carolyn Lame, charged that the trust company failed to dispose of the stock during a period when it could have done so at great profit.

Equipment 42 Years Old.

This period was between April, 1933—when beer became legal—and June, 1934, when all American breweries were running at capacity and brewery stock was in great demand. Trust officials knew, the petition states, that the Atlas equipment was 42 years old and that large expenditures would be necessary to convert its near-beer machinery for the profitable manufacture of real beer.

During prohibition days the Atlas name was widely known and with prospects of repeal its stock, with a par value of $5, went to $28 a share in 1933, the suit charges. There were 58,666 shares of the stock in the Kubin estate.

At the time of Kubin's death he provided that his estate be held in trust by the Chicago Title and Trust company, and that no part of the principal be paid to his children until ten years after his death. His widow claimed her dower right of one third of the estate in 1930, but she charges, in a complaint separate from the accounting suit, she has never received this third.

Shares Valued At $1,315,668.

After its theoretical deduction, the children's share of the estate was valued at $773,219, but with repeal approaching this rose to $1,315,668 in March, 1933, the bill states. This value was set when the trust company filed its final accounting as executor and took over the estate as trustee.

Atlas stock now is worth from 50 to 75 cents a share, the bill states, setting the loss to the estate at $1,026,683. In addition, the heirs ask $312,005.33 representing the income which they say should have been earned by the estate since 1933.

Attorney Frank Sims, of Sims & Stransky, who filed the suit for Mrs. Kubin and the four children, said yesterday that Otto Jr., another son, who lives at 3750 Lake Shore drive, probably will file a separate suit against the company in a few days.

In defense of the trust company, Chester Davis, vice president and trust officer, said several attempts had been made to obtain court approval for disposal of the brewery stock. All these, he said, were frustrated by internal strife among the heirs. The trust company now is attempting to reorganize the brewery under section 77-B of the federal bankruptcy laws, he added.

TWO LAKE DRIVE SUBWAYS O. K.'D BY PARK BOARD

Drop Plans to Construct Overhead Bridges.

The park board voted yesterday to build two subways under express lanes of Lake Shore drive between Belmont avenue and Grace street. This action ended the controversy between property owners and board members as to whether overhead bridges or more costly subways should be constructed.

The two new subways will be built between Addison street and Waveland avenue and between Hawthorne place and Roscoe street. The park commissioners voted the subways after Ernst Lieberman, state highway engineer, told them the 1938 budget will not permit the state to allocate any extra funds to the park project.

Suggests Petition for State Aid.

Property owners who objected to the board's original plan of building pedestrian overpasses were told by Robert J. Dunham, board president, to petition Springfield for financial aid to build all six subways estimated to be needed. He said the board would need $300,000 for their construction.

Between $60,000 and $70,000 is available to start work on the two subways approved, with $100,000 necessary for their completion, Dunham said. With this amount the park board could construct six overpasses. The board favored the overpasses, as did the Chicago Motor club and other civic groups, believing them more useful, but property owners along the boulevard protested.

To Draft Plans Immediately.

Plans for construction of the subways, similar to those installed at Oak street, Division street, and North avenue, will be drafted immediately, said Ralph H. Burke, chief engineer. Dunham declared that possibly next year the board may find the money to build the four other subways.

KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN.

Dubuque, Ia., March 8.—[Special.]—Tom Morgan, 91 years old, an inmate of the Dubuque county poor farm, was killed this morning when struck by an Illinois Central freight train near Julien, in the vicinity of the farm.

JUDGE REFUSES TO BAR PRESS AT DIVORCE HEARING

There is no legal reason why deposition taking should be private, and any one who wants to attend, including the press, is welcome. This ruling was made yesterday by Judge Thomas J. Lynch in denying a motion by Mrs. Marie M. Orton of 5204 Greenwood avenue, cross complainant in a divorce case with her husband, Philo A. Orton, president of the Orton Crane and Shovel company.

Mrs. Orton's attorneys sought to hold in contempt Miss Annabel Adams, 215 East Chestnut street, for failure to answer questions at the first attempt to take depositions. Miss Adams declined to speak when she learned newspaper men were present.

Mrs. Orton, who was in court yesterday, charges her husband was unfaithful with a Miss S and a Miss R. He in turn accuses her of misconduct with a Mr. X.

Three of the men, Daniel Kite, Earl Plumb, and Bill Williams, are also charged with a statutory offense as a result of the story told by McNeil. Mrs. Kite is accused of aiding in the collection of money from McNeil by telling him that Williams was a federal agent.

McKinley, formerly available at 7 cents, will cost 35 cents, his place being given to Van Buren, called a Charlie McCarthy for Andrew Jackson by Barton.

Coolidge stamps will cost the most—$5—and Benjamin Franklin, first postmaster general, the least—one-half cent.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

The New Farm Law

[This is the tenth of a series of articles on the new farm law appearing in this column.]

March 8, 1938.

FEDERAL crop insurance has been included in the new farm law. For more than twenty years crop insurance has been given public attention. It has been a subject of debate in congress for many years. Congress finally decided to test crop insurance under a federal plan, using wheat in making the experiment. Crop insurance is considered a hazardous business by private insurance companies.

The law provides for the establishment of a $100,000,000 federal crop insurance corporation to be operated through the forty states included in the nation's four wheat belts. The experiment will commence with the wheat crop planted for harvest in 1939. Wheat sown next fall would be the first crop to be insured under the government's AAA program.

Directors Provided.

The secretary of agriculture is to be the general supervisor of the corporation, which is to have a board of directors consisting of three employés of the federal department of agriculture. They are to serve without additional pay. The law also provides for an advisory committee, consisting of not more than five members representing different sections of the country. The committee members are to be paid traveling and subsistence expenses and not more than $10 a day, or given instead a per diem allowance.

In addition to providing for $100,000,000 worth of capital stock to be subscribed by the United States of America, congress authorized the appropriation of $6,000,000 for each fiscal year beginning after June 30, 1938. This money is to be used to cover operating and administrative costs of the corporation.

The corporation is to insure growers against losses in yields of wheat due to unavoidable causes, including drouth, flood, hail, wind, winterkill, lightning, tornado, insects, and plant diseases. The board has the authority to add any other unavoidable causes that may bring about wheat crop losses.

During the first three years contracts of insurance, or policies, shall not be made for periods longer than one year. The insurance is to cover not less than 50 nor more than 75 per cent of the recorded or appraised average yield of wheat on the insured farm for a representative base period.

The corporation is to fix the premium charged the farmer. The premiums are to be paid either in wheat or cash. To pay premiums with wheat it would be necessary for farmers to carry over wheat from the previous crop. Without wheat they would be required to pay premiums in cash, unless the corporation's officials develop some other means of paying premiums. The corporation is given the authority to fix the time and manner for collection of the premiums.

Farmers' claims for losses on their wheat crops are to be paid by the corporation either in wheat or cash. The corporation is directed to provide storage space for the wheat used in paying premiums and losses.

This government corporation has the authority to buy and sell wheat only to a limited extent. If the farmer pays his premiums in cash, the corporation is to take the money and buy wheat and store it. When an insured farmer wants his loss paid in cash, the corporation is to sell wheat and use the money to pay the grower.

No Authority to Speculate.

To prevent deterioration of the stored grain, the corporation may sell wheat and buy good fresh wheat to put in its place. The law is interpreted to mean that the corporation has no other authority to buy or sell wheat. It is assumed that with those limitations congress did not intend to give the corporation's officials authority to speculate in wheat handled by this federal crop insurance agency.

The corporation, including its franchise, its capital, reserves, and surplus, and its income and property, shall be exempt from all taxation.

No specific provisions are made in the law for applying the wheat insurance plan to individual farmers. Such details are left to be worked out by the secretary of agriculture and the Federal Crop Insurance corporation as the program is put into operation.

The law gives the directors of the corporation authority to limit the plan to counties or other areas on the basis of a minimum number of farmers' asking for wheat crop insurance.

LYONS PLEDGES G. O. P. TO BREAK BUSINESS CHAINS

Pictures Depression as Roosevelt-Made.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Advancing his senatorial campaign in the metropolitan counties, Richard J. Lyons, head of the Republican slate, declared yesterday that the Roosevelt administration has brought on the current depression by attempts to strangle business and industry. The release of that throttling hold upon the wellspring of employment, he promised, is the cardinal aim of the G. O. P. candidates.

Lyons and his running mates, speaking at well-attended organization meetings in La Salle and Joliet, demanded that enterprise be given a chance so that job destruction shall cease.

"After all, the greatest source of jobs is business and industry," said Lyons, who has served ten years in the house of representatives at Springfield, half of it as a goad to the Horner Democratic state administration.

Attacks Two Way Policy.

"There can be no extensive reëmployment to absorb these unemployed when the Roosevelt administration tells business to employ more workers and then, in the next breath, attacks business and forces legislation through congress that prevents business activity.

"After five years of Roosevelt it is quite evident that the attitude of his administration toward business is based upon the assumption that all business men are inherently dishonest. I am not in accord with these views.

"I realize, of course, that in our complex civilization of today there must be reasonable regulation of business. But this reasonable regulation should not mean strangulation. Business must have a chance. You will never see extensive reëmployment in this country until the straitjacket is taken off business."

Hold Off Writing Platform.

It appears to be the conviction of the candidates on the Republican slate that the writing of a state platform upon which to run in the November election—they have only negligible opposition in the primaries on April 12—should await the adjournment of congress. Then a concise statement of principles can be based upon the work of the current session.

Nevertheless, Lyons stated what all the candidates agreed was the essence of the Republican point of view toward employment.

"As I see this whole problem of unemployment and relief," he said, "the Republican party must be sound, constructive, and even mindful of its duty to help those who, for the moment and through no fault of their own, are unable to help themselves.

Calls for New Management.

"The Republican party holds that the audit of the books of this country shows that under the Roosevelt administration there has been both mismanagement and bad judgment. The important step now is to effect a change in that management so that conditions can be altered and those who are able and willing to work can return to their jobs."

Supporting the point that some of the Democratic leaders are exhibiting a complete disregard for the increasing unemployment in the country, Lyons took a slam at the Washington reception recently accorded Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, Roosevelt's Philippine commissioner.

"This hi-jinks commissioner to the Philippines," Lyons said, "has the gall, in the face of people in want, to permit himself to be entertained before a seventy-five foot table in Washington laden with thousands of dollars' worth of cocktails and hors d'oeuvres."

Assails Economy Pledges.

State Senator Simon E. Lantz of Congerville, for a quarter of a century the leader of the farm bloc at Springfield and now candidate for one of the two nominations for congressmen at large, read figures to the audiences to show Roosevelt extravagances and disregard of pledges of economy.

With Lyons and Lantz in the tour party are Frederick A. Virkus, La Grange, Lantz's running mate for congressman at large; William R. McCauley, Olney, candidate for state treasurer, and George E. Lambur Jr., Chicago, candidate for clerk of the Supreme court. The candidates will speak today at the state meeting of the John Ericsson Republican league at Elgin.

Youths Held

Florence Roche was questioned and released.

Two youths will be arraigned in Boys' court today for their confessed attempt to extort $200 from a childless couple for the return of Billy, an orphan 4 years old whom the couple lost after caring for him since he was 7 months old.

Billy Cross.

The youths, John Roche, 17 years old, 11132 Edbrooke avenue, and Arthur Kerr, 20, of 30 East 113th street, were charged with attempting to commit a crime. Four others seized in an investigation of the plot Monday night were released. They are Florence Roche, 20, John's sister; Thomas Cosgrove, 18, of 11349 Indiana avenue; Alfred Marwick, 17, of 11256 Eggleston avenue, and John Kenny, 19, of 11251 Vernon avenue.

The intended victims were Joseph Cross, 7939 Escanaba avenue, a railroad brakeman, and his wife, Mary. Billy had been given to them by the Catholic charities when he was a baby, but was transferred six weeks ago to another home. Mr. and Mrs. Cross said they will not prosecute Roche and Kerr, because they are interested only in having Billy returned to them. To this end, they plan to appeal to Judge Frank Bicek of the Juvenile court, of which Billy is a ward.

WINNETKA CLUB LEADER KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Frederick W. Henkel, 653 Walden road, Winnetka, was killed Monday in an automobile accident near Marietta, Ga., while she and her husband were driving to Florida, according to word reaching Chicago yesterday.

Mr. Henkel was not seriously injured. He is vice president of the Wallace Press. Mrs. Henkel, the former Mazie Winger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Winger of Oak Park, was well known in Winnetka social life and club work. Also surviving her are two children, Marie, a senior at the University of Illinois, and Robert, a sophomore at Amherst college.

Paul Phelps, 57 years old, 6663 South Michigan avenue, injured by a hit and run motorist in front of 6608 South State street, died yesterday in the St. Bernard hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 174 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county so far this year. Of these 139 were killed in Chicago, where 3,037 were injured in the same period.

Last Opponent Withdraws from Campaign.

BY PARKE BROWN.

John Toman, the present sherif of Cook county and candidate for county treasurer in the Democratic primary, was assured of nomination yesterday when his last opponent withdrew from the race.

Before the statutory deadline at 5 o'clock Victor S. Peters of the investment security firm of Peter & Peters, 135 South La Salle street, withdrew his petition, thereby adding Toman's name to the list of seven regular Democratic slate candidates who have no opposition. The others are Assessor John S. Clark, County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, Probate Judge John F. O'Connell, Thomas J. Bowler, clerk of the Criminal court, and Drainage Trustees John J. Touhy, J. L. Friedman, and Ross A. Woodhull.

Six Republicans Unopposed.

The final withdrawal day made no important change in the Republican primary lineup, which already showed six candiadtes on the slate filed by the county central committee running without opposition. They are Theodore F. Ehler for County judge, Robert W. Dunn for Probate judge, Otto H. Larson for clerk of the Criminal court, Clyde V. Winkler for county superintendent of schools, Raymond J. Peacock for assessor, and Henry D. Lindblad for president of the county board.

Two interesting changes in the Republican state lineup were recorded at Springfield as the result of action by the state certifying board and the Circuit court. In the former instance, the board rejected the petition of Carl Peterson of Kewanee as a candidate for clerk of the 2nd district of the Appellate court with headquarters at Ottawa.

No Opposition for Johnson.

That left the incumbent, Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, former chairman of the state central committee, without opposition. Members of his party recently have pointed out Johnson as the only Illinois Republican winner in a territory larger than a congressional district since 1930. The 2nd Appellate court district includes three entire congressional districts and parts of six others.

Circuit Judge L. E. Stone's order at Springfield on Monday ordering the name of Charles W. Vail of Chicago placed on the Republican ballot on April 12 as a candidate for clerk of the Supreme court was accepted as effective by Secretary of State E. J. Hughes. Since the case involves the old question of the closing hours of an office receiving candidates' petitions, Hughes said an appeal may be taken to settle the issue but that this will not keep Vail's name off the ballot.

Lawyers Indorse Igoe.

As head of the Illinois Lawyers' Nonpartisan committee, Francis X. Busch announced that the organization had indorsed District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, candidate for United States senator on the regular Democratic county organization slate. Busch, who was corporation counsel under Mayor Dever, supported Gov. Horner in 1936.

Among the Chicagoans on the committee are Edmund D. Adcock, William T. Alden, James G. Condon, Bruce F. Johnstone, William A. McSwain, Adlai E. Stevenson, Samuel E. Weinshenker, and Russell Whitman. The downstate members include Edward P. Allen, Quincy; Frank J. Burns, Kankakee; Howard P. Doyle, Decatur; John Niehaus, Peoria; Arthur Roe, Vandalia; Joseph Skinner, Princeton, and Frank J. Wise, Joliet.

Headquarters of the committee have been opened at 77 West Washington street, room 1705.

4 AUTOISTS PENALIZED IN SAFETY COURT; ALL LOSE DRIVING RIGHTS

Judge J. M. Braude of the Safety court yesterday imposed fines or probation on four motorists for faulty driving. They are:

ALONZO PAYNE, colored, 3559 Giles avenue, reckless driving, $5 fine.

VERNON BURHOP, 4511 North Hamilton avenue, reckless driving, $50 fine.

FRANK HOSNA, 2120 Millard avenue, driving while intoxicated, probation.

HARRY HANSEN, 5833 Addison street, reckless driving, $10 fine.

All the defendants were ordered to stop driving their cars for periods ranging from thirty days to one year.

$2,044,320 Delinquent Taxes Collected in Week

County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer yesterday reported collection of $2,044,320 in delinquent taxes during the last week. This brings the delinquencies paid since the first of the year to $14,503,796. Of the week's collections, $1,864,261 was in real estate taxes, $158,527 in railroad taxes, and $21,531 in personalty taxes.

1,100 REGISTERED IN DAY; MONDAY DEADLINE NEARS

Chicagoans seeking to register or to record changes of address crowded the election board's offices in the city hall yesterday. During the twelve hours the office was open 1,100 persons registered and 12,004 addresses were changed, either by personal appearance or by mail. These included addresses of residents of the country towns of Cook county. A total of 1,923,046 persons now are registered in the county and there have been 259,613 changes made in the records. Monday will be the final day for registrations.

Meanwhile, preparations went forward for the April 12 primary as bids for the official and specimen ballots to be used were opened by the election commissioners. The cost will be slightly higher this year because larger ballots will be used.

TOBACCO planters know tobacco from the ground up. And they're glad to pass along to other folks what their first-hand experience with tobacco has taught them. Yes, they know what it means to smoke Camels—the cigarette that is made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

FRESH PRODUCE

By CALEB

ALL night long, heavy rumbling wheels from far places come clacketyclack over local switch frogs. Lanterns swing and knowing voices cut the cool night air. By dawn, an assemblage of several hundred freight and express cars stands in orderly platoons in the yards of the Chicago Produce Terminal. By dawn, a hundred carloads of fruit and vegetables are unloaded and on display in the Terminal auction house, where the galloping voice of the auctioneer transfers title to all the vast display before noon.

Meanwhile, particularly through the early hours of the day, fruit and vegetables in a flood pour into the South Water market from the auction house and the Produce Terminal's team tracks. And in steady streams these same products pour from the South Water market to the city's innumerable stores, hotels, restaurants, and vendors. By noon of the next day, much of the flood of fresh food daily set loose by the auction is in Chicago homes, if not consumed!

There is something inspiring in the swift, behind-the-scenes magic of fruit one day on a California, Florida, or Texas tree—and then almost in miraculous time, on Chicago's dinner table.

In the year 1937, 125,700 freight and express carloads of perishables arrived in Chicago. Most of them were unloaded and consumed here in our Chicagoland market. The story of each product that filled those cars is interesting. Through the summer, field heat had to be removed from much of the produce by pre-cooling before the cars were loaded. And each such car started its long journey with about 20,000 pounds of snow ice enveloping the product.

One hears much of the high costs of distribution. But consider the accomplishment. You eat crisp lettuce regardless of the month of the year, or fresh oranges or strawberries or pears are available to you by virtue of a dozen or more industries fitting their varied functions quickly and smoothly into a remarkable service composite. And all the way through, particularly as regards the produce itself and its handling, there are competitive checks and balances which continually keep those who would make a living at the operation scratching and scrambling to operate economically.

Chicago was the nation's first city to centralize its produce arrivals and activities. It is a tremendous and interesting operation.

KNIFE SLAYER'S PLEA EXPECTED TO BE INSANITY

Faces Arraignment Today for Killing Mother.

Theodore Danielsen Jr. will be arraigned this morning before Chier Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court, charged with the knife murder of his crippled mother. A murder indictment, which also carries a manslaughter count, was returned yesterday against the boy, who is 16 years old.

Morris G. Meyers, assistant state's attorney, declared the state will not demand the death penalty. Although agreeing that the defense should have a reasonable time to prepare its case, Meyers said the state was ready for trial and would seek to have it set for an early hearing.

Arrested Day After Crime.

Young Danielsen, according to a confession he made to police, stabbed his mother to death in the family home at 5316 Lieb avenue last Thursday, when she criticized him for playing truant from classes in the Carl Schurz High school. He was arrested the next day.

Defense Attorney Edward R. Litsinger said his client will plead not guilty. The defense may be emotional insanity, said the attorney, who added:

"We want enough time to make a thorough examination of the boy s mental and physical condition, and his hereditary and social background. There are many more facts to be disclosed than were brought out by police interrogation.

"We shall undoubtedly rely on twelve men [a jury] to decide this case."

State Believes Boy Sane.

Prosecutor Meyers said the state would not submit the youth to a mental examination, believing him to be legally sane and otherwise normal. If the defense has the boy examined by alienists, however, Meyers said he would insist that Dr. Harry Hoffman, head of the Criminal court behavior clinic, also make a study of the youth's mental condition.

If convicted of murder, the youth would face a penalty of prison term of from 14 years to life. Conviction on the manslaughter count carries a punishment of from one to fourteen years.

Young Danielson remained in his cell in the county jail during the day, while burial services were held for his mother at Ripon, Wis. Only the slain woman's husband, her father, and other close relatives attended.

DEATHS BY FIRE CALLED ACCIDENTS.

A verdict of accident closed the inquest yesterday into the deaths of Jerry Duuwart, 54 years old, and James McDonnell, 40, who were burned in a fire in their room at 2939 Wallace street Sunday morning.

Mrs. Velbinger's husband is president of employés' federation at Standard Oil refinery here and he invited the Rockefellers to the organization's variety benefit show. When the Rockefellers accepted the invitation was given for dinner.

VILLAGE FATHERS HIRE A MARSHAL TO BE A MARSHAL

Sycamore, Ill., March 8.—[Special.]—The police situation in Kirkland is now settled—but not at $50 a month as the village board originally planned. Walter Yeager of Kirkland was unanimously chosen village marshal at a salary of $70 a month at a meeting of the board last night. His job will be limited to a marshal's duties. Extra help will be hired to read the water meters, supervise the billing, and handle the street maintenance.

When the board announced a month ago it would seek a marshal who would work for $50 a month, read water meters, and work on the streets, besides doing his policing duties, everybody laughed, thinking there would be no applicants. Sixteen applied, eight of them from Chicago, of whom four pleaded for the job because they had families.

Gets 30 Day Jail Term for $47 Fraud on WPA

Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward yesterday sentenced Roland W. Koeppe, 4554 North Springfield avenue, to 30 days in jail for falsifying WPA records. Assistant District Attorney John J. Moreschie said Koeppe, a former WPA time keeper, made a false time sheet and cashed a $47 check made out for another WPA worker.

BEGIN TESTIMONY IN SECOND POISON HIGHBALL TRIAL

A jury before Judge Joseph Sabath in the Criminal court began hearing testimony yesterday in the second trial of Corydon A. Black, charged with the poison highball murder of his ex-wife, Cordelia, on Oct. 8, 1936. Sentenced to death in the first trial, Black won a new trial from the Illinois Supreme court.

J. D. Mason, a druggist at 95th street and Ashland avenue, testified that he sold Black poison three days before Mrs. Black died.

The state, which qualified the jurors for the death penalty, contends Black, who is 35 years old, deliberately killed his former wife. Black contends she died in a suicide pact, but that he failed to carry out his part of the bargain.

Two Women Not Guilty of Aiding Convict to Flee

Chester, Ill., March 8.—[Special.]—Justice C. B. Steber today found Mrs. Ruth Moran and Miss Jean Sandler of St. Louis not guilty of having aided John Craig, a convict, to escape from the state prison here. The justice ruled evidence was insufficient to warant holding the women for grand jury action. Both had been in the county jail for a week, unable to obtain $2,000 bonds. Craig was caught a mile from the prison farm in an automobile driven by the women.

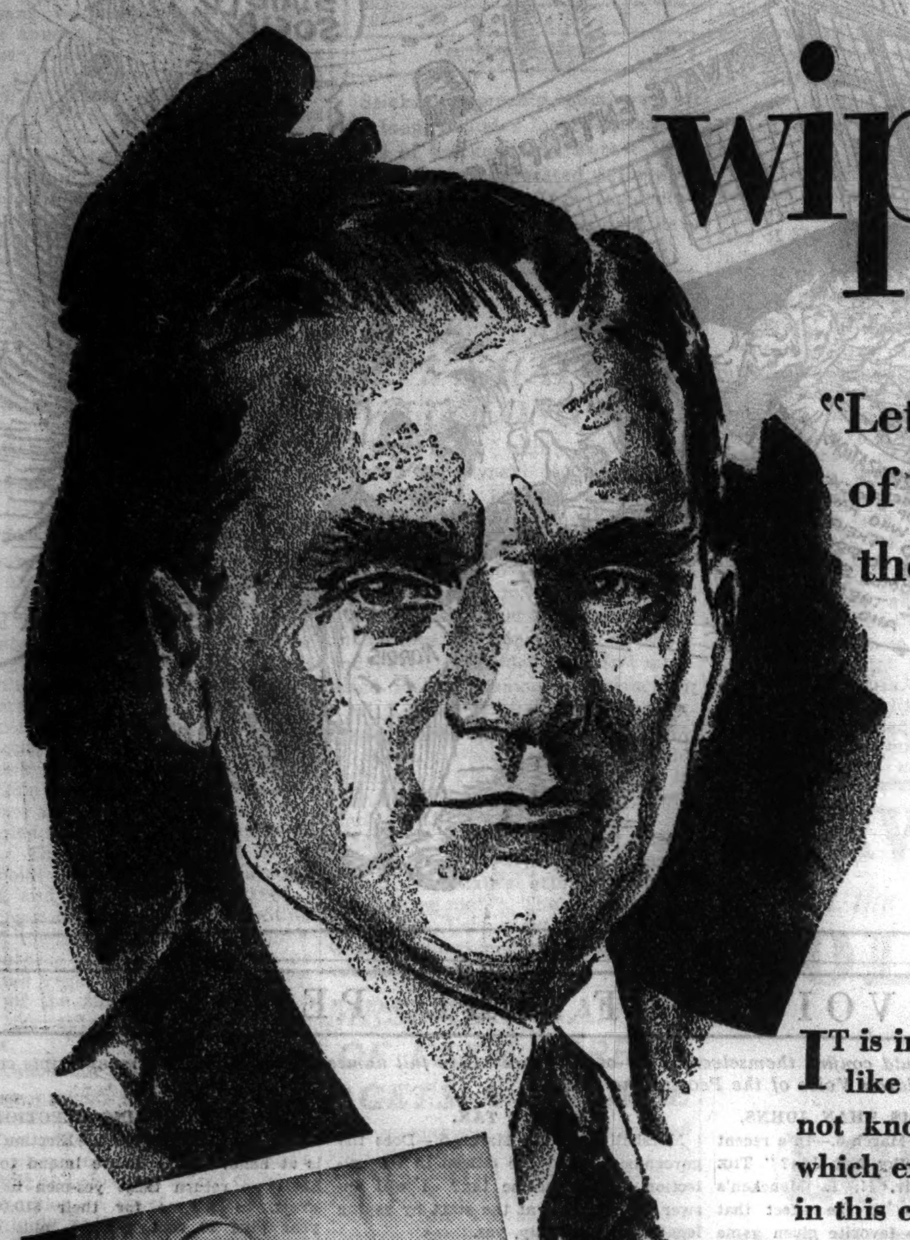
You can write the letter that will wipe out Syphilis



"Let no one discount the influence of the intelligent letter which is written the representative by his constituent"

SENATOR NYE

"Twelve letters carry more weight than a hundred signatures on a petition"

SENATOR CAPPER

An Editorial by Bruce Gould and Beatrice Blackmar Gould, Editors of the Ladies' Home Journal, from the April Issue

It is impossible to have edited a magazine like the LADIES' HOME JOURNAL and not know the tremendous will for good which exists among the millions of women in this country.

But you feel helpless.

You sit with hands folded, wishing to help, urging that something be done, but not knowing how to do your part.

Well, you as an individual woman can practically wipe out syphilis.

All you need do is write a letter.

WRITE A LETTER to your representative or senator, telling him you strongly favor the passing of the bill, H.R. 9047, introduced in the Senate by Senator Robert M. La Follette, and in the House by Representative A. L. Bulwinkle, a bill planned to stamp out syphilis in this country.

Do not feel that your letter will not be worth writing. Do not feel that your voice alone is a weak voice. We have talked to your congressmen. We have found that they are tremendously interested in a sincere and thoughtful expression of opinion from their constituents. As few as ten letters are important to them. Think how much more impressed they will be by hearing from the hundreds and thousands of well-wishing women in America who sincerely desire to stamp out this evil.

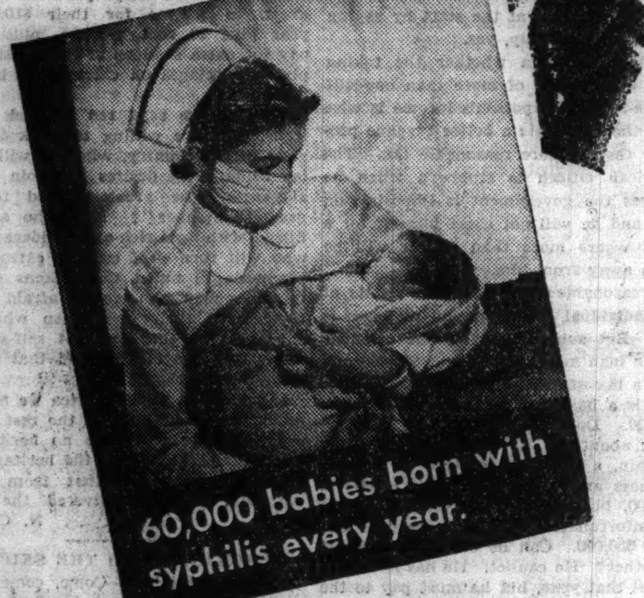
The only possible enemies that this measure will have are inertia and indifference. If this bill is passed, all it will cost is twenty cents a year per person. That is much less than the present cost of caring for the syphilitic blind and insane alone. All that Congress needs to pass the bill is the knowledge that the women of America earnestly favor it.

That is why you are needed. You who are reading this are needed.

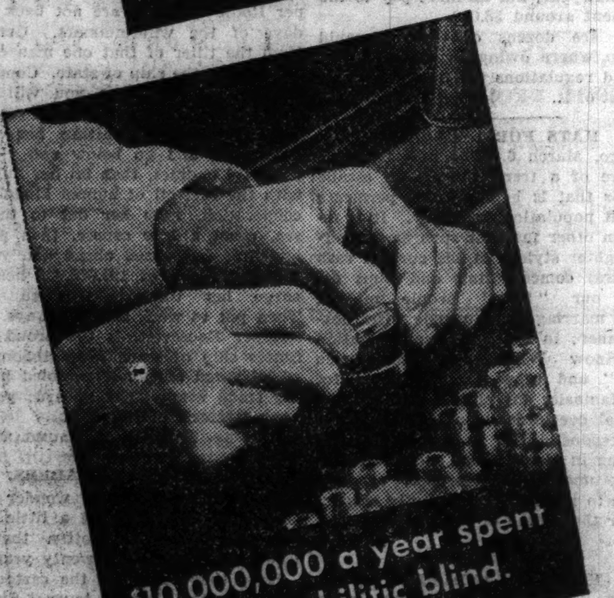
You, yourself, the woman who is reading this at home, can be the power for good that you desire in your innermost heart to be. You can be the force which ends one of the greatest sorrows and evils of all time. You can be remembered as one of the generation which removed from mothers' hearts the fear of the sorrow and shame and sometimes fatal disaster which syphilis can mean to their children and their children's children.

• • •

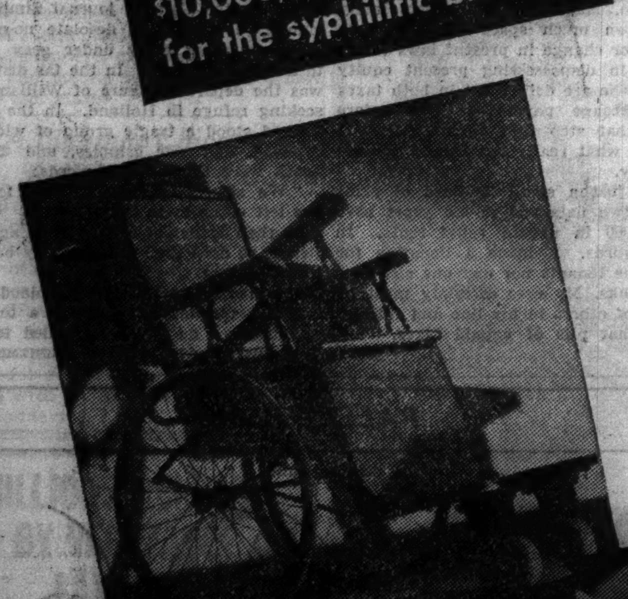
Your letter is all that is needed. Won't you sit down and write it now? Don't put it off till tonight. Don't even wait for half an hour. Won't you sit down and write it now?



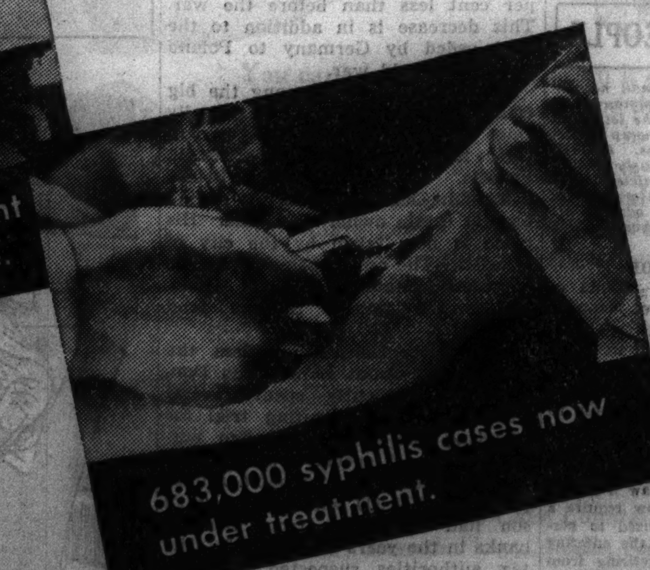
60,000 babies born with syphilis every year.



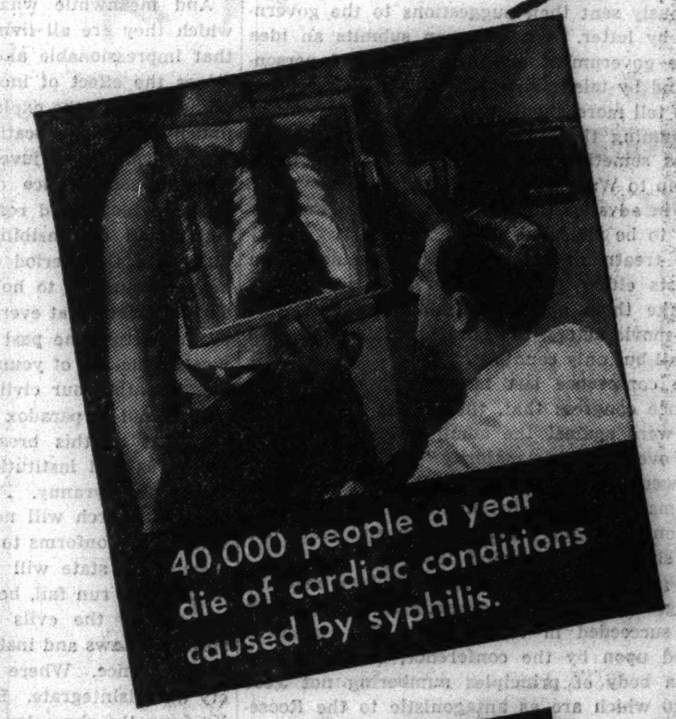
$10,000,000 a year spent for the syphilitic blind.



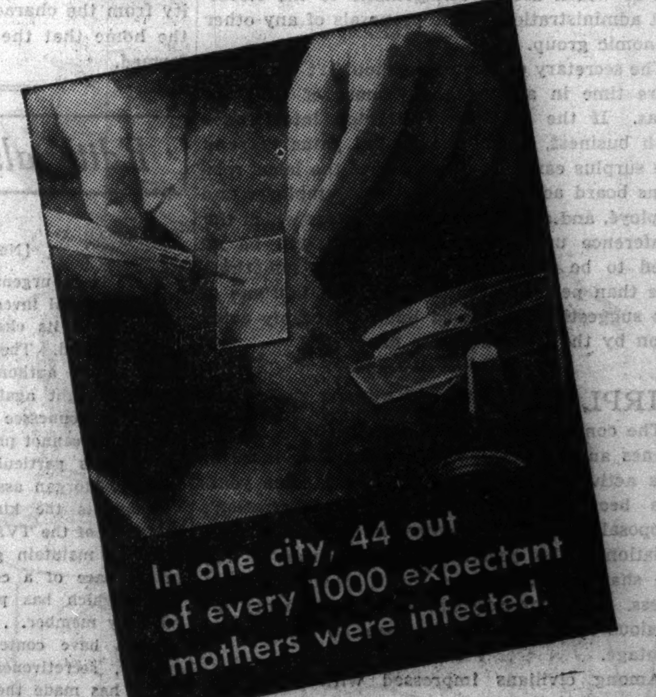
$31,400,000 a year spent for the syphilitic insane.



683,000 syphilis cases now under treatment.



40,000 people a year die of cardiac conditions caused by syphilis.



In one city, 44 out of every 1000 expectant mothers were infected.

Write to your congressman—he's in this list. (A complete list for all States appears in the April Journal.)

If you don't know what district you live in, your newspaper or postmaster will tell you.

Senators' names are in italics. Numbers preceding representatives' names refer to districts. "AL" means "at large."

A LETTER FROM UNCLE DAN.

The President read to his press conference last week a letter from the secretary of commerce, from whom little has been heard in the month since little business men went back to their little businesses. Mr. Roper told the President that he had been making an analysis of the 3,500 proposals made last month at the little business men's conference. Maybe the letter was phrased that way because the President had asked: "Why haven't I been seeing Dan at meeting lately?"

At the halfway mark in his intellectual exercise the secretary says that all he has found out is that the authors of the remedies were lacking in a "sense of self-help and in need of education in the functions of government." Of one as sad faced as Roper, humor is not often suspected. But how else are we to construe the secretary's letter in view of what the Roosevelt administration has done in breaking down individual initiative and engaging in activities which the Supreme court, sometimes unanimously, has declared not to be proper functions of government?

The comment of the Roosevelt administration about the little business men's conference is unjust and improper. The men whom the administration invited to attend the conference had previously sent their suggestions to the government by letter. When a man submits an idea to the government and then is invited personally and by telegram to come down to Washington to tell more about it he is naturally justified in assuming that the government believes that he has something. No man would have made the trip to Washington at his own expense if he knew in advance that what he had to offer was going to be ridiculed.

The treatment given the little business men suggests either there was an advance purpose to make them appear ridiculous, or that, like some movie actors, the government doesn't read its mail but only counts it.

The conference last month was designed to convince congress that, though the big business men were against the administration's policies, the "overwhelming majority" of little business men were for those policies. It was intended as a dramatic stunt, a curtain raiser for the attack on monopolies for which Jackson and Ickes had been showing "the crying need."

No greater political mistake has been made in a long time. Although department of commerce men succeeded in toning down the statement agreed upon by the conference, what emerged was a body of principles numbering not 3,500 but 10 which are as antagonistic to the Roosevelt administration as the proposals of any other economic group.

The secretary of commerce shouldn't waste any more time in analyzing any more of the 3,500 ideas. If the President will stop interference with business, repeal the capital gains tax and the surplus earnings tax, see that the labor relations board acts fairly as between employer and employé, and adopts the other reforms which the conference urged upon him, there will be no need to be concerned if there was something less than perfectly practical wisdom in some of the suggestions discussed but unfavorably acted upon by the little business men.

AIRPLANE VS. BATTLESHIP.

The controversy over the relative value of airplanes and battleships which has been more or less active even among laymen for some years has been intensified by the administration's proposals for a large increase in our naval appropriations. The question now presented is how we shall dispose of the funds asked from congress. Both congressmen and the citizenry are anxious that they shall be spent to the best advantage.

Among civilians impressed with the prominence of aviation in the news of the Spanish and Chinese-Japanese conflicts there are great expectations and considerable alarm over the possibilities of aerial warfare. Sensational theories have been presented and exploited and extreme conclusions are confidently advanced. The argument of economy based on the assumption that a few comparatively inexpensive planes could promptly destroy the huge machine, costing millions, called a battleship, appeals strongly to any one who takes the assumption for granted. But both congress and the public generally have recognized that the question of values in this instance is a highly technical one on which information is either wanting or conflicting.

In the field of the expert there is sharp difference of opinion. Obviously admirals and the older naval men who have spent their lives on ships are strongly inclined in favor of the weapon they understand and against the one they know little about. On the other hand the men of the air, young, impulsive, and some of them doubtless resentful of the attitude of men of the older arms, are likely to exaggerate what they can do.

If the battleship champions would do well to guard against too great a distrust of novelty, the aviation enthusiasts need caution against too much confidence in theorizing. There is little evidence to support it. It should be realized that in peace practice mobility seems easy in absence of actual fire. We have evidence that the British destroyers took a bad beating from the German battleships the night after Jutland under conditions that should have favored destroyers, but on the other hand the British navy was reduced well nigh to impotence in the Mediterranean during the Ethiopian adventure by the threat of Italian bombing. In short, no one knows what weapons will prove supreme in the next war. Therefore, common sense indicates that we should have a balanced armament.

JUVENILE CRIME.

News of a day: Page 1, the state will not ask extreme penalty for Theodore Danielsen Jr., aged 16, who stabbed his mother to death last Thursday; page 2, two seventh grade schoolboys, 12 years old, held for stealing an automobile; police search for three youths, 20 to 21 years of age, in connection with fatal shooting; police round up twenty-two boys, aged from 12 to 19, averaging 15 years of age, believed responsible for 100 hold-ups and burglaries; one gang of eight, none over 15, believed guilty of 75 burglaries; page 3, youth of 16 accidentally kills self while showing companions how to "twirl" a gun; page 5, three youths, aged 17 and 16, indicted for manslaughter in the killing of Edward C. Richards, to be arraigned in the Criminal court.

What a picture of undisciplined and misguided youth in this community! It is not a picture of a special local condition. The condition is illustrated over and over in the news of the country. One item seems to us the most significant, and it is the one item not concerned with a crime. It reports the accidental killing of a boy of 16 in his own home.

This boy had bought a revolver. Boys have always coveted firearms and in country districts a shotgun is a permitted possession. It has a definite and unobjectionable use under reasonable regulations. There is no excuse for the possession of a revolver. There was something lacking in the supervision of this boy's interests and activities. We cannot blame the parents without knowing all the circumstances. The revolver may very likely have been obtained without their knowledge or consent, but the suggestion is strong that they knew less than they might and should have known of what their boy was thinking and doing. He had not reached the stage of criminal association and action, we assume. He might have been a good boy, with no serious fault, but he was headed for trouble. The general possession of deadly weapons among the young is a preparation for crime and tragedy. What starts perhaps innocently enough is not long in passing into evil opportunities and associations.

This general situation in the United States has many aspects, but the most important, in our opinion, is the failure of intelligent discipline and supervision where alone they can be very effectual, in the home. Too many parents seem to lack interest in their children and surrender them to whatever influences exist in the environment. The parents are self-indulgent, preoccupied with their own cares or pleasures.

And meanwhile what is the atmosphere in which they are all living? It is not surprising that impressionable and undisciplined youth receives the effect of incendiary preaching in the highest places, the exploitation of all discontents, under cover of education and even of religion. The prevalence of juvenile criminality is an inevitable consequence of the disparagement of accepted ideals and restraints and of individual rights and responsibilities which has been indulged in this period of confusion. Youth has been encouraged to hold its elders in contempt and to believe that everything which comes down to them from the past is wrong. This has permeated the life of young and old today and it is disintegrating our civilization.

It is not a paradox but an inevitable result that out of this breakup of approved forms, standards and institutions is appearing the beginnings of tyranny. For if the home, the school and the church will not produce the individual who freely conforms to the standards of civilized society the state will try to impose them—and in the long run fail, because the state itself cannot escape the evils out of which its power springs. Laws and institutions are of great force and influence. Where they are contemned, society will disintegrate. But they derive their vitality from the character of the people and it is in the home that the foundations of character are formed.

TVA.

[New York Times.]

There is an urgent and unmistakable need of such a congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley authority as its chairman, Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, has demanded. The subject of immediate public interest is the authority's handling of the claims recently brought against the government by Senator Berry of Tennessee and his associates. But an investigation cannot properly halt when questions relating to this particular matter have been answered. For Dr. Morgan asserts that the Berry case merely "represents the kind of difficulty with which, as chairman of the TVA board, I have been faced in the effort to maintain good standards of public service in the face of a coalition of two members of the board which has placed me in the position of a minority member. . . . To a steadily increasing degree, I have contended with an attitude of conspiracy, secretiveness and burocratic manipulation, which has made the proper and effective conduct of TVA business increasingly difficult."

These are serious charges. In fairness to all concerned, congress has no alternative but to explore promptly the evidence on which they rest.

THE CONSCIENCE OF A GERMAN.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

As guest of honor at a dinner in New York Wednesday night, Dr. Ernst W. Meyer disclosed that he had resigned last May as first secretary of the Germany embassy in Washington. In a statement marked by obvious sincerity he explained why he could no longer keep silence.

The news informs us that Dr. Meyer, a world war veteran, had been in the diplomatic service sixteen years. The full import of his action may thus be appraised. In the circumstances it is eminently permissible for him to cite his conscience as his counsel. His indictment of "the utterly anti-German, anti-European, anti-Christian character" of the Hitler régime commands a hearing by the authority of honor and knowledge.

Dr. Meyer served in Washington six years under two ambassadors. The capital, officially, journalistically and socially, knew him well and held him in high esteem. When he declares that he could no longer serve a government "which I saw to be the foe of so many things I had been taught Germany stands for," the burden of proof rests heavily on that government.

One wonders how many Germans look with sorrowing eyes on today's Germany as Dr. Meyer does.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat Office

THE ASTOUNDING RISE of Mrs. Raymond Redheffer, Chicago beauty and musician, to her present position as one of the country's leading lecturers on economics, is a phenomenon of the times. Mrs. Redheffer lectured before a packed Town Hall in New York, and more recently before 2,000 bankers at the American Institute of Bankers in the ballroom at the Waldorf, the first woman to address the gathering. "I see Saturday night is bank night in New York," the pretty red haired woman told the assembled bankers, then launched into her defense of the capitalistic system by pointing out the holes in other systems. She lectures under the name of Dr. Ruth Alexander.

MRS. REDHEFFER, who has three degrees in economics and one in music, wrote her thesis for her doctor's degree at Northwestern university on Marxism, and is probably the only student of Marxism who speaks in defense of capitalism. Her first Chicago address will be next Monday evening at the Lake Shore Athletic club. A southerner—her father was professor of Greek at Vanderbilt—Mrs. Redheffer wears lovely clothes, black in daytime and a shade of violet becoming to her red hair and very blue eyes in the evening, plays Brahms and Rachmaninoff brilliantly in her raspberry colored drawing room, talks with a slight southern accent, and is a very feminine type. She has thirty speaking dates between now and May 1, from New York to Spokane.

IT'S SPRING, MY DEAR.

Fingers of the south wind tapping at the pane,
Sudden, sweet soft whispers of the silver rain;
Buds on lilacs swelling, hints of green in grass,
High o'er treetops flying, swift-winged robins pass.

Earth is filled with stirrings, sap in trees alive,
Roots in brown earth struggling, upward, upward strive.
Choruses of caroling, lambent bird-songs ring.
Why the joyous tumult? It's spring, my dear, it's spring!

Or, on a cold blustery night, up to Robinson's for a grilled mutton chop and mincemeat pie which had more than a soupçon of brandy, in the little smoky room with the dumb waiter on a pulley. . . . On to see George M. Cohan with his cane and derby, offering his father's advice, 'Sing the damn thing through your nose and for God's sake wave a flag.' . . . Perhaps it was Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth singing 'O Shine On, Harvest Moon.' And everywhere one went the strains of 'Alexander's Ragtime Band.' Remember the Boston and its dips and glides? Ah, yes, the Tip-Top Inn . . . and one's violet corsage had an orchid in it, and one drank one's first cocktail—a Rossington—followed by chicken Sam Waring. Then a taxi to see Raymond Hitchcock and Irene Bordoni. . . . There was a charming woman in a box and people shouted 'Sing, Galli, please,' but Galli Curci bowed, kissed her hands, and the show went on. The small white room that was Plow's—you must remember the chicken sandwiches and the coffee. And how hard it was to make him take you there—'it's always filled with women.' . . . After luncheon a matinée at Cohan's Grand . . . where the small dark man at the door welcomed one graciously. Has he passed on, too?

"Ring off" is what we did for years
Before the automatic came,
And now "hang up" we've ceased to do

Or when cut off by "Number, please?"
Just save your breath and cradle out.

John Spiro started his restaurant on Halsted street thirty years ago, then moved to South Michigan avenue and then to Drexel boulevard. Now he is established in an old mansion on the near north side, but he still goes into the kitchen, dons a white coat and chef's cap, and himself prepares the Athenian dishes his patrons of long standing ask for. Stuffed cabbage fricassee, Athenian; grapevine leaves stuffed à la Grecque; chicken pilafi and fresh lobster à la Grecque with rice en casserole. If you're a regular customer you probably eat at the Club Sombrero upstairs, which has its own bar and a tiny dance floor.

"I HAD A PECULIAR TURN."

HERE is an excerpt from an interesting letter from the pen of A. N.: "For the last few months I have been experiencing a succession of peculiar symptoms. In fact, this morning as I started for the office I had the funniest sort of feeling. I can't describe it exactly. I seemed to be whisked away suddenly from my body. I became dizzy, eyesight was affected, and I had some sense of nausea. Although I kept on walking I was conscious that I swayed slightly. What do you suppose it is? The whole thing was over in half a minute although at the end my face felt flushed."

The words "funny," "peculiar," "odd," and "strange" are used repeatedly to define a host of fleeting attacks which may be characterized by abrupt—even alarming—sensations which, however, last but a moment or two. Some will term them "a peculiar turn"; others may be fearful that they represent light sieges of epilepsy.

There are many causes of these temporary seizures. First and foremost, we must think of a circulatory disturbance—probably nervous in origin; perhaps the victim has been smoking too heavily. Second, sympathetic reflexes from the digestive tract due to pressure or to toxins. Third, an arterial spasm which—for a short time—may deprive a portion of the brain of blood.

Vertigo, for the most part, is associated with what commonly is called biliousness, and a suitable dose of Epsom salts or any of the saline cathartics may be all that is required. But if the lightheadedness continues, or comes on periodically, we must look to the circulation with possible hardening of the arteries, or to the balancing machinery of the inner ear. Trouble about the teeth, the nose, the throat, a blow on the head, or even excessive fatigue may stand out from the picture.

Mild fainting attacks often are referred to as "funny turns." The individual may not actually lose consciousness, but there may come a terrifying impression that life is about to depart. Now and then these affairs are of heart origin, but usually they will be found linked to some irritation along the digestive tract wherein the sympathetic nervous system has been involved. As a rule, if a dose of aromatic spirits of ammonia or a little hot tea is taken, or if the body is bent forward compressing the abdominal area on the thighs, all will be well. If accompanied by pain, particularly in the chest, it is more significant.

Finally, we must mention anemia and—with many—the blood will be found somewhat reduced either in the number of red cells or in the red coloring matter. Lack of oxygen in the nerve centers can bring on one of these "strange" occurrences. It is like switching off the electric light and then promptly turning it on again. There is momentary darkness. The consciousness of faintness or dizziness may arise with increasing frequency unless the anemia is relieved in due course.

The case is reported of a housewife, aged 36, who complained of one of these spells about every five or six days. Careful examination of the ears disclosed no abnormality. But the oxygen carrying power of the blood was found to be less than 60 per cent of normal. With the feeding of iron and iron containing foods the hemoglobin rose to standard levels with complete freedom from symptoms.

No occasional episode of this sort, which is inexplainable, should be allowed to persist. The correction of some slight defect is generally all that is needed. Faintness and vertigo are not only annoying, but they may be dangerous. One may well wonder if certain trafic accidents are not due to minor incidents of this general type wherein consciousness is lowered just enough to lessen self-control.

VASELINE IN NOSTRILS.

Miss A. writes: I put vaseline in my nostrils to protect the lungs from the dust in the atmosphere where I work. I have heard it is not desirable to do this.

REPLY.

A small amount of vaseline placed within each nostril once or twice daily affords excellent protection. It is not harmful. We do not use oily drops in the nasal passages of young children, inasmuch as they are likely to inhale some of this fluid.

RED SPOTS.

K. E. N. writes: Are a number of red marks, an inch across and smaller, scattered over abdomen and chest of a boy of 19, a sign of venereal disease?

REPLY.

Probably not. To make certain, however, your physician should be consulted.

OUT WITH BEDBUGS.

T. S. writes: I was told that bedbugs are carriers of disease. Is this a fact?

REPLY.

No specific disease has been traced directly to bedbugs, but it is highly probable that they carry infection. Out with the filthy beasties!

CONTRACT BY MINOR.

Chicago, March 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My knowledge of commercial law leads me to believe that [1] a minor is privileged to affirm or disaffirm a contract upon reaching the age of 21.

2. Marriage is a contract, therefore is a minor, upon becoming of age, able to affirm or disaffirm a marriage performed during his period of infancy? A. K.

1. Correct.
2. Marriage was at common law a matter of contract, but most states now require a ceremony by an official authorized to perform the marriage and neither the entering into the relationship nor the retiring from it is on a contractual basis. Even at common law the contract analogy could not permit withdrawal on the same basis as withdrawal from other contracts. The minority might be considered with other facts as a basis for an annulment decree, but court proceedings would be necessary.

MORE WILLIAMS THAN JOHNS.

Logansport, Ind., March 6.—In a recent editorial titled, "Why Not Jon?" THE TRIBUNE quoted Mr. H. L. Mencken's American Language to the effect that "John remains the favorite given name among native Americans today. . . ."

Mr. Mencken based the above statement on a survey of 100,000 names made by Simon Newton and published in the 1921 World Almanac. As far as I know there have been no later surveys made during the last seventeen years. Therefore, having completed a survey of a few thousand male Christian names during the last twelve-month, I think it may interest you to know that John is no longer the commonest Christian name in the United States. William has taken its place.

Granting that my statistics are incomplete compared to Newton's, in that he based his conclusions on a much larger number of names, the fact remains that we are making the first investigation in seventeen years.

Let us now compare the first twelve names [ranking according to their frequency] as given by Newton in 1921 and myself in 1938:

1921.	1938.
1—John	1—William
2—William	2—John
3—James	3—Charles
4—Charles	4—George
5—George	5—James
6—Thomas	6—Frank
7—Henry	7—Henry
8—Robert	8—Robert
9—Joseph	9—Arthur
10—Edward	10—Edward
11—Samuel	11—Joseph
12—Frank	12—Thomas

It may be seen that William, Charles, George, and Frank are becoming more popular, while John, James, Thomas, Joseph, and Samuel are losing their popularity. It may also be observed that the greatest changes are in the cases of Frank and Thomas, Frank having moved from twelfth to sixth place and Thomas from sixth to twelfth place.

DANIEL FRANCIS CLANCY.

INCOME TAX.

Marshalltown, Ia., March 5.—Does the government cheat the citizen in the collection of the income tax? I will answer the question at the start by saying legally, no. Morally, yes.

It is a question whether the taking away in any case of more than one-half or one-third of a person's income is wise or in the aggregate a better revenue producer than a more reasonable tax. The American citizen is stubborn when he believes the government is imposing on him, and he will not exert himself for a profit where more than is fair will be taken away from him.

A reasonable tax on the net profits of the individual over a period of years is fair. But suppose during one calendar year a man makes a profit of $15,000 and pays a tax of around $900. And the next year is a bad year for him and he loses $15,000. Does the government do anything about it? It does not.

Again, a man is a partner in a large business and his share of the profits is $50,000, but in the same year he makes an unfortunate big real estate deal and loses $50,000. Can he offset one against the other? He cannot. He has not made a cent that year, but he must pay to the government around $8,000.

There are dozens of cases I could bring up where owing to the arbitrary rules and regulations the individual gets the worst of it. F. E. SHORTESS.

HATS FOR ESCAPE.

Chicago, March 6.—The new hats are indicative of a trend toward an escape psychosis that is beginning to permeate the adult population generally. It is reflected in other fashions such as mother-and-daughter styles; in the current rash of musical comedy films and films depicting our "best" people making sport of marriage in a puerile wisecracking manner; in the hysterical adulation for "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and other Disney [short for dizzy] fantasies for children. Even the industrial overlords, who seek to escape their responsibilities in unsettled times by crying in alarm about such bugaboos as governmental interference, are not immune to it; in fact are partly responsible for the spread of the infantile complex. M. K.

FROM A LANDLORD.

Chicago, March 5.—The papers lately have given much space to those who clamor for change in present laws to act quicker in dispossessing present equity owners who are delinquent in both taxes and mortgage payments. But before taking that step they should pause to consider what really has caused the delinquency.

I am just a small landlord of eight modest two flats and in six years have lost $2,000 in unpaid relief rents. In other words, I made a donation for which the tenants nor any one else ever said thanks. My case certainly must be typical of others in my line and this explains that pile of unpaid taxes.

NEIL.

THE APPROACHING ELECTION.

Oak Park, Ill., March 4.—Election time is at hand. What do we intend to do? Shall we return these yes-men to congress, to scheme for their $10,000 a year plus 20 cent mileage, plus extra pay for extra sessions of the legislature, plus percentages on extravagant legislation?

Or shall we send red blooded Americans, who are willing to work for the good of the country, who are willing to lay aside petty desires and join in the slogan: "The greatest good for the greatest number"? Men who are not filled with get-rich-quick ideas; men who will turn deaf ears to extravagant proposals to mulct the citizens of this republic; men who are not afraid to call their souls their own; men who have somewhat of the spark of self-sacrifice and patriotism of the kind that burned in our forefathers?

If we are to save America we must be quick, or we will rue it the rest of our days, and we will have no heritage to leave our children save the heritage of a worse slavery than that from which Abraham Lincoln delivered the black race. N. C. M.

MEMORANDUM TO THE SKIPPER.

Chicago, March 5.—Come, come, Skipper Roosevelt. We are not back in the days of the windjammers. Get away from the tiller of that one man catboat. That is not the ship of state. Come down to pier No. 1, where you will find a sleek, modern greyhound, tied up for lo, these five years awaiting her master. Board her and go below and view her powerful engines, then fill her bulkheads with the fuel oil of human kindness and coöperation, nose her out to the open sea, chart a true course, then pull the lever for full speed ahead and you will feel the throb of 130,000,000 heartbeats surge her through troubled waters. Then put to work all stowaways. That, Skipper Roosevelt, is the proud United States ship of state, blue ribbon holder of all seven seas, not troubled by varying trade winds. Get aboard; you have your master's certificate.

GERMANY'S LEADERS.

Chicago, March 3.—I wonder if the German people are just a little forgetful. Have they forgotten that their leader deserted them twenty years ago?

Have they forgotten the cartoon published by the German journal Simplicissimus? It showed a desolate no-man's land stretching away under gray skies to a remote horizon. In the far distance was the departing figure of William II., seeking refuge in Holland. In the foreground stood a tragic group of widows, orphans, and war cripples, and underneath were these biting words:

"We shed no tears for him, for he has left us no tears to shed."

As their leader of twenty years ago believed, so does their leader today believe in militarism.

If a leader who has royal blood will desert his country, what will a foreign paperhanger do when compelled to lay down his sword? ERVIN FEICHTMEIR.

From Across the Sea

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN.—That the Junkers, or big estate owners in Germany, gradually are being forced to sell part of the landed properties they held in the imperial and republican eras is indicated by statistics published in the Koelnische Zeitung. It is revealed that the owners of large estates in Silesia lost almost one-quarter of the land they owned in pre-war days.

In the kaiser's day sixteen Silesian Junkers and one town community possessed each more than 25,000 acres. Among them they owned 836,000 acres of land. In 1937 only thirteen Silesian families owned more than 25,000 acres, while the number of town communities increased to three. Together they own 640,000 acres of land, or 23.5 per cent less than before the war. This decrease is in addition to the land ceded by Germany to Poland after the world war.

Prussia ranks first among the big estate owners in Silesia, especially since the Hohenzollerns ceded part of their former Silesian properties to Prussia. In pre-war days Prince Hohenlohe-Oehringen was the second biggest estate owner in Silesia. His place is now taken by the city of Goerlitz. The crown prince, with his enormous estate, Oels, still ranks among the richest Silesian land owners.

One of the Silesian grandees, the 69 year old Count Henkel von Donnersmarck, recently spent several weeks in prison awaiting trial for violating the German foreign currency laws. A special court in Hannover wanted to know what had happened to $150,000 which the count's son had withdrawn from German banks in the years 1931 to 1933. The tax authorities suspected that the son, who is residing in Holland, had smuggled the money abroad. The only explanation the son offered was that he had "spent the money in the interest of the family." Nevertheless the court acquitted the father.

1,400 RELIEFERS ARE ASSIGNED TO NEW WPA JOBS

Restore Auto Test Lanes to Full Operation.

About 1,400 new WPA jobs for Chicagoans who have been on relief were announced yesterday by H. K. Seltzer, Chicago WPA head. Among the projects announced was one which will return 400 WPA workers to the city's auto testing lanes and restore the lanes to full operation.

Last fall Seltzer announced that the testing lane project would be abandoned on Jan. 1, 1938, because WPA considered this work a normal maintenance function of the city. Since the first of the year three stations have been operated with skeleton forces of city employés. The city could not find funds in this year's budget to operate the lanes.

"The first of the men who will be used on the lanes will start work tomorrow," said Edward J. Gorman, deputy city vehicle commissioner. "As fast as we can get the lanes into full operation we will begin exerting pressure on motorists to have their cars tested."

Seeks Change in Deadlines.

The present city ordinance provides that all cars in the city must pass tests by April 1. Gorman said he would seek to have the city council set July 1 and Jan. 1 as the limits for testing so the deadlines will coincide with those for purchase of city license stickers.

Three outdoor stations which have been operated since Jan. 1 are at 1805 Mohawk street, Sacramento avenue and Ohio street, and 29th street and Calumet avenue. Three new stations, in rented garages, will be opened this week. They will be at 1804 North Humboldt boulevard, 3836 Harrison street, and 25 North Curtis street.

Gorman said the city is attempting to get indoor locations for the present outdoor stations so they can be operated regardless of the weather. Each of the stations will have two lanes for automobiles and one for trucks.

Announces List of Projects.

Other projects announced by Seltzer were:

1. The placing of unemployed cobblers where needed in city schools to repair the shoes of school children and families on relief. This project was highly praised by Mrs. George A. McCorkle, president of the School Children's Aid society, who said that many children are unable to attend school regularly because of worn out footwear.

2. A study of the occupations of graduates of the city junior colleges, Wilson, Herzl, and Wright. The study will try to determine what use is being made of the courses given in the schools.

3. Assignment of 100 reliefers to Dunning to aid in handling the inmates of the Chicago State hospital.

Smoke Survey Up for O. K.

A survey of Chicago's air pollution problem sponsored by the city department of smoke inspection and abatement has been approved by local and state WPA authorities, Frank A. Chambers, head of the department, said yesterday. Final sanction of the survey will be sought immediately in Washington.

The project would employ 475 persons and cost $390,000 in federal funds, with an additional $100,000 worth of supervisory service being supplied by the smoke department, Armour Institute of Technology, the Crerar library, and the Museum of Science and Industry.

Armour institute has agreed to lease the city 5,000 square feet of space for headquarters and laboratory. The survey would cover smoke density readings, analysis of dustfall samples and noxious gases found in the atmosphere, and a compilation of dust and smoke legislation in other cities and states.

WPA Lightens Chicago Relief by 3,466 Cases

Rolls of the Chicago Relief administration dropped from their all-time high of 98,834 cases during January to a total of 95,368 during February, a decrease of 3,466 cases. E. E. Ferebee, CRA statistician, said the decrease was due mainly to WPA assignments. The CRA accepted 9,958 cases for relief in February, as compared with 11,789 cases accepted during January.

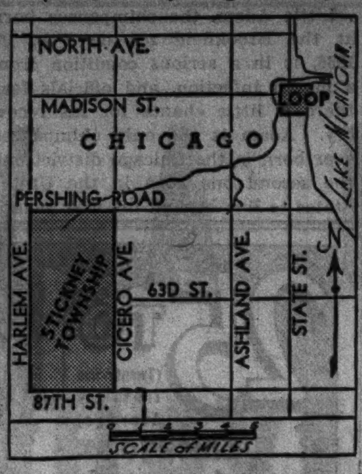
A Debt Problem

(Story in adjoining column.)



Stickney township, southwest of the loop, includes incorporated villages of Stickney and Forest View and the unincorporated village of Sleepy Hollow. The township's relief load and mounting debt have created a financial problem.

FRANK DIAMOND BETS A HAT ON A VERY LONG SHOT

"Well, well, well," said Sergt. Florian Smuczynski of the detective bureau to the bushy-browed citizen wearing the dazzling ring, "if it isn't Frank Diamond!" The bejeweled one said it was he all right, but that he is now an honest man, a contractor.

The sergeant said he knew Mr. Diamond was no longer Al Capone's bodyguard, and added he wasn't interested in Mr. Diamond's contracting. "All I know is that the state's attorney wants to talk to you," he said.

"O, no, that's all settled," said the prisoner. "I'll bet you a hat it is. Thunder, I'll even buy hats for your squad, too."

"Nope," said the sergeant. Said Mr. Diamond: "Will you buy me a hat if the state's attorney doesn't want to see me?" The sergeant said he would. Last night Mr. Diamond was under lock and key and no more was said about hats.

MRS. JOHN NAIRN OF LAKE FOREST GETS A DIVORCE

An uncontested divorce was granted yesterday in Waukegan to Mrs. John Lennox Nairn of 411 East Illinois road, Lake Forest, on charges of cruelty. Mrs. Nairn, a member of a Russian family, was married to Nairn in 1918 at Houston, Tex. They separated last week. She operates a shop in Lake Forest and owns a ranch in Arizona. Nairn has been in the grain brokerage business.

An out of court property settlement was made and the couple agreed to divide custody of their son, John Lennox Nairn Jr., 2 years old, according to the attorneys, Harold J. Tallett and William R. Behanna.

Experts Monkey Around and Give Anna Film Test

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—If the screen test of Anna, the 4 year old chimpanzee at the Central park zoo, proves that she is a competent actress, a Hollywood career may open up for her. Adolph Senz, movie makeup expert, was on hand to enhance Anna's natural beauty with grease paint and a Shirley Temple wig.

Woman Struck Down, Ribs Broken by Purse Snatcher

Miss Eleanor Klegg, 38 years old, 4115 Drexel avenue, was struck down last night by a holdup man who seized her purse at 66th street and Stewart avenue. Two of her ribs were broken. She was taken to St. Bernard's hospital. The bandit escaped with the purse, which contained $4.

ONE OUT OF FOUR ON THE DOLE IN STICKNEY TWP.

Tax Warant Funds Spent; $8,411 in Debt.

More than a fourth of the 4,000 residents of Stickney township, 10 miles southwest of the loop, are receiving either direct or work relief. This relief load, said Township Supervisor Herbert R. Maid yesterday, is forcing the township deeper into debt every day.

The township includes the incorporated villages of Stickney and Forest View and the unincorporated village of Sleepy Hollow. There are 143 industrial plants in the area, but many of these are operating with skeleton forces.

Total of 1,400 on Relief.

"We have 168 cases on the direct relief rolls today," Supervisor Maid said. "Each case averages four persons to a family, or a total of 672 persons receiving direct relief. Two hundred cases, or another 800 persons, are on WPA's federal payroll.

"The township is now $8,411 in debt for the care of these persons. The town meeting will not be held until April 6 and we can't sell 1938 tax anticipation warants until that meeting is held and the taxes are levied. Meanwhile our merchants are extending credit to meet the needs beyond those that state maney can pay for each month."

The special relief levy in 1937 called for the collection of $30,000 in taxes, Maid said, but taxes have not yet been put in collection. As do other governmental units in the state, Stickney township gets funds by selling anticipation warants.

Warants Sold in Canada.

"We had to sell our warants in Canada with a 6 per cent interest rate," Maid said. "Bonding company attorneys ruled that we are not a legal township since the legislature gave part of our territory to Chicago in 1936. Therefore the local banks won't buy our warants."

Maid said $20,000 obtained through the sale of warants to Canadian banks has been spent in the last fiscal year in addition to the $8,411 debt incurred. All operating expenses of the township during the same period, Maid asserted, totaled only $20,140.

3 ALLIGATORS ROMP IN EVERGLADES AFTER 9 YEARS IN MUSEUM

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Somewhere in the everglades today there are three happy alligators which for nine unhappy years lived at the Museum of Natural History in Worcester, Mass. Museum Director Harry C. Parker finally decided to send them home, and two Seminole Indians, Sam Tommie and Johnnie Fuel, yesterday freed them near Loxahatchee.

SPIKE O'DONNELL ORDERED EVICTED OVER HOLC LOAN

Although he has paid back $59 of the $8,400 he borrowed from the Home Owners Loan corporation in 1935, Edward [Spike] O'Donnell was ordered evicted from his home at 8145 South Honore street yesterday by Judge Leon Edelman. The government and the judge thought the prohibition era gangster wasn't paying off his loan fast enough. Spike sent word that if they felt that way about it, they would be wrong.

Seize Peeping Tom While 40 Women Swim in Pool

Robert Scott, 20 years old, colored, was seized last night while he was spying on forty women who were swimming in the pool in the Englewood High school gymnasium, 62d street and Stewart avenue. Scott was caught by Albert Herman, physical director at the high school; his assistant, Byron Clelland, and James Economokas, a student, who were on guard as a result of complaints against a peeping Tom made in the last few weeks. Scott, who lives at 6056 Lafayette avenue, was taken to the Englewood police station.

MOTHER-IN-LAWS MAKE DEBUT ON NATION'S RADIOS

Annual Parade in Texas on the Air Today.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Midweek radio roundup:

The fifth annual Amarillo, Tex., Mother-in-Law parade will be described over WMAQ-NBC at 12:30 p. m. today. More than 600 M-I-L's are expected to participate in the event originated by Gene Howe, Texas editor. . . . It Can Be Done, featuring Edgar A. Guest and Frankie Masters' music, will move from NBC to CBS Wednesday, April 6, taking over the period now occupied by Hobby Lobby. Guest has been on NBC for seven years. . . . Hobby Lobby, like other programs sponsored by motor makers, is folding. Among those already gone are the Sunday evening symphonic series featuring Erno Rapee's orchestra and soloists; the Hollywood Mardi Gras with Lanny Ross, Walter O'Keefe, and Charlie Butterworth; and Seymour Simons' Rhythm, and the Sunday evening hour featuring the Detroit orchestra will curl up late this spring. But Major Bowes' sponsor is still happy and will keep right on.

Cross-Roads, a new dramatic show starring Anne Seymour, bows in at 2:30 next Sunday on WMAQ. The show will present complete dramas featuring situations in which important decisions must be made. Supporting players will be Raymond Johnson, Isabelle Randolph, Phil Lord, Michael Romano, and Frank Pacelli. . . . For its outstanding work in citizenship and Americanization broadcasting, WGES has won a citation from the D. A. R. and a large American flag. WGES, with its associated stations WSBC and WCBD broadcasts in 14 languages for the 200,000 Chicago foreign-born.

Jon Hall, who survived Sam Goldwyn's "Hurricane" only to endure the big storm of last week in Hollywood, stopped off here en route to New York for a guest appearance on Kate Smith's show tomorrow. . . . Pierre Andre is the new announcer on Kay Kyser's Musical Klass series over Mutual. . . . Louise Fitch of CBS Manhattan Mother series and Jerry Rosenthal, Chicago attorney, are honeymooning. . . . Dan Sutter, head man of the W-G-N Jack Westaway series is in the hospital recovering from an appendectomy. Fortunately the show is recorded and a good many episodes have been made in advance.

Pretty Genelle Gibbs, who announces the Double Everything show, will soon be seen in several national magazine ads. . . . Sandra Michael, who is the author of Valiant Lady, starring Joan Blaine, is pitching up another serial for the same sponsor's consideration. . . . Chuck Grant, Chicago boy actor of Judy and Jane and Grandma Travels series, is a cousin of the late Will Rogers. . . . McKay Morris, lately of the "Tovarich" company, makes his bow in a new rôle in the Ma Perkins serial today. Ma Perkins, the Goldbergs, the O'Neills, Road to Life, and Kitty Keene, Inc., as many more people are finding out daily, are all on both NBC and CBS. The item touching on these shows in this column yesterday did not mean to imply that when CBS consolidates them all into a single hour late this spring that they are leaving NBC. They are not.

Charlie Arnold, brother of Edward Arnold of the movies, who plays in the serial Attorney-at-Law here, and Marjorie Woods have announced their engagement. A June wedding is in prospect. . . . Clyde White, W-G-N engineering supervisor, is teaching a class of aspiring aviators at Sky Harbor. . . . Harriet Gricus, young Chicago telephone operator, who will make her operatic debut next Sunday at the Auditorium theater as Gilda in "Rigoletto," will be interviewed at the switchboard at 3:45 p. m. tomorrow on NBC. . . . Jimmy and Gyp on Invisible Trails, a new dog story series, is to bow in at 4:45 p. m. Sunday on WMAQ. . . .

Today the news is in hundreds of thousands of homes throughout the country, and many excited "family buying councils" are under way. No wonder! The American public has never had such an opportunity to OWN A BETTER CAR for a remarkably small investment.

What's your first question? Can I afford to buy now? If you've been putting up with an old unreliable car, you can't afford NOT to buy now!

Spring is just around the corner—automobile dealers co-operating in this great nation-wide sale have an unusually fine selection of good used cars—and prices are far below those of several months ago.

Look at the classified pages of this paper for proof. Visit the used car lot or showroom of any authorized car dealer displaying this sign and see the exceptional bargains on display.

Many are 1937, '36 and '35 models—backed by the finest of dealer guarantees. All have thousands of miles of first-class unused transportation in them.

And the "first-class" transportation of these modern cars represents satisfaction which the owners of older cars can hardly imagine. Beautiful, modern styling—a more comfortable ride—more room for you and your luggage—finer, more powerful engines—better gas mileage—better brakes—bigger tires—dozens of improvements introduced since your old car was built. Stack up your old car—with its prospect of repair bills and decreasing trade-in value—against the joy of owning a modern car like this. Now's the time to make the switch, while you have more to trade and less to pay. Your present car may cover the down-payment—balance on easy terms. If you have no car to trade you can still take advantage of the low down-payments and easy terms during this sale. Buy early while the selection is the widest and the best.

ANOTHER OF THE FAIR'S GREAT STOREWIDE EVENTS IS SUCCESSFULLY LAUNCHED WITH ADVERTISING ADDRESSED TO CHICAGO'S LARGEST CONSTANT AUDIENCE

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE evidence of the Chicago Tribune's ability to bring out the customers for merchandise of every kind is to be found in the photographs on this page.

They show buying activity throughout The Fair department store on Monday, March 7, as Sunday Tribune readers responded to the Economy Day values pictured and described in 12 full pages of advertising (one in four colors) in the Chicago Sunday Tribune of the day before.

Tribune readers came—and bought. Noteworthy gains were registered in many departments throughout the store. The men's, women's and children's shoe departments were packed early and late. Basement hosiery and fancy goods went over the top. Linens and domestics rang up a handsome gain. General housewares and paints reported excellent increases, while volume in sporting goods was described as phenomenal.

To produce the store trafic and sales volume for these noted promotions, The Fair has selected the Chicago Tribune as the major advertising medium for 17 of the 21 Economy Days since 1933. Of the last 12 Economy Days all have been launched with the Tribune carrying the major share.

The Tribune is the logical medium for these big storewide events because it is the one newspaper which, every day of the year, reaches Chicago largest constant audience. It is the one advertising medium which delivers majority coverage of all the families in metropolitan Chicago.

You can get more sales out of the Chicago market right now by building your advertising program around the Tribune. Rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in the business.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Water Under the Bridge.

Hollywood, Cal., March 8.—No more interesting personality at the postponed academy dinner than Janet Gaynor, for the Gaynor lass is really a chronological record of this town of heartbreak. She won the academy award in 1927 as Diane in "Seventh Heaven" and eleven years later her performance in "A Star Is Born" brought her to the judges' stand for the final decision.

Janet Gaynor—eleven years a star.

You who ask how long is the life of a star find the answer in Miss Gaynor's annihilation of eleven years, with several starring years ahead of her.

"Seventh Heaven," which brought her to the winner's circle in 1927-'28, was released on May 6, 1927, at the Carthay Circle theater. The stars in the heavens must have been in peculiar array, for great things were happening in that particular month.

Page one was honeycombed with important stories, Nungesser and Coli had disappeared in the Atlantic in their White Bird, which bore on its sides the skull and crossbones of death in token of the French flyers' disregard of peril.

At New York Capt. Charles Lindbergh was taking off for Le Bourget in the Spirit of St. Louis, beating Commander Byrd and Clarence Chamberlin to the gun. Lita Grey Chaplin was asking $1,250,000 as a divorce settlement from Charles Chaplin.

"Seventh Heaven" was released when big stories were crackling over wires and cables to the city rooms of the World. Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon, as the result of his curt note to England on the war debt situation, was being hailed as the greatest "secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton." Infant radio was paying tribute to the passing of Ernest Ball, who penned "Mother Machree."

At Detroit Henry Ford was announcing the abolition of his famous model T, in favor of a car with a gear shift.

In the same week, at Sacramento, Cal., state clerks were recording the application for a charter for the organization of something to be called the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Douglas Fairbanks was listed as president; Fred Niblo, vice president; Frank Woods, treasurer, and M. C. Levee, secretary. It is to be doubted that Janet Gaynor even noticed that news item.

Shortly after the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences was to honor her for the performance in Frank Borzage's picture. Paired with Charles Farrell, as Chico, the Gaynor lass was to make moving picture history in a historic month.

Actors often berate critics, just as ballplayers will aver that no umpire with perfect eyesight ever lived. So I quote from Ed Schallert's review of the preview to prove that critics more often are sinned against than sinning.

Wrote Schallert: "Miss Gaynor's case is nothing short of sensational, Judging by the effect that she had upon the audience, she will, in this picture, create a niche so permanent and definite that her screen future may hardly be foretold." That was on the morning of May 7, 1927, in the Los Angeles Times, and Schallert must have had a crystal ball next to his paste and scissors.

Those were the flamboyant, robust days of pictures. The advertisment of "A Million Bid," starring Dolores Costello, with Warner Oland and Bill Demarest in support, screamed thus: "Steeped in the human fires of desire." "Captain Salvation" was advertised as: "Blood lust and love on a scarlet hell ship."

Sound had not yet come to the movies, but the writers of the ads were at no loss for words.

Lon Chaney currently was appearing in "Tell It to the Marines." Jean Hersholt, who had no suspicion of the Dionne quintuplets, was going gay in "The Wrong Mr. Wright." Viola Dana was in "Bred in Old Kentucky."

Jack Pickford was winning new fans with "Exit, Smiling." The "Taxi Dancer" offered Joan Crawford and Owen Moore. James Hall was featured opposite Star Bebe Daniels in "Senorita," and one of the supporting players was a chap named William Powell.

Into "Seventh Heaven" in May, 1927, stepped unknown Janet Gaynor, and although a lot of water has passed under the Hollywood bridges since that week, in 1938 she's still going strong.

Advance Plans for Evanston May Festival

BY JUDITH CASS.

ONE symphony orchestra, three choruses, four concerts, nine principal artists, and three hundred women selling tickets is the story in brief of the second annual Evanston May festival to be held May 17, 19, and 21 at Patten gymnasium on the Northwestern university campus.

The festival promises to surpass any of the north shore music festivals, which were the predecessors of the Evanston festival. The Northwestern University Festival association is the sponsor.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra with its conductor, Dr. Frederick Stock, and associate director, Hans Lange, is rehersing twice weekly with a festival choir, a children's choir, and Northwestern's A Cappella choir.

Mobilization of the huge ticket committee will get under way within a week at two teas, one Saturday at the home of Mrs. John C. Slade in Evanston, and one Monday at Mrs. Clarence Schaaf's home in Highland Park. By the time the curtain goes up on the first of the four concerts the committee's work will be done, the nine artists will have been rehersed for their parts, and only the pleasant part of the festival, that of enjoying the music, will remain.

Giovanni Martinelli, Richard Crooks, Bruna Castagna, Helen Jepson, Mark Love, Julius Huehn, Agnes Davis, William Miller, and Robert Basso are to be the featured artists. Mlle. Castagna, Mr. Miller, Mr. Davis, and Mr. Love will be cast in Arthur Honegger's "Le Roi David," which will be presented on the opening night, a Tuesday.

Boy Violinist to Play at Children's Concert.

Robert Basso, the 13 year old violinist who played with the Chicago Symphony last month, will play at the children's concert on Saturday afternoon, May 21. Miss Jepson, Mr. Martinelli, and Mr. Huehn will sing at the gala evening concert May 21 that will mark the close of the festival.

The large group that composes the Evanston ticket committee will hear a musical program by Alec Templeton, blind pianist, Saturday afternoon at Mrs. Slade's. Mrs. Raymond C. Cook, Mrs. Gilbert Smith, and Mrs. Norman J. Westerhold are co-chairmen of the Evanston group, of which Mrs. Slade is chairman.

Mrs. Claude Wempler is co-chairman with Mrs. Schaaf of the Highland Park group. Mrs. James Addington and Mrs. Elizabeth Heath are co-chairmen of the Lake Forest festival committee. Mrs. Anderson Owen and Mrs. T. Roswell Coyne head the Kenilworth committee. Mrs. Dwight Orcutt and Mrs. Elmer F. Wieboldt are at the head of the Glencoe group; Mrs. William S. Hay and Mrs. Ernst von Ammon lead the Winnetka group, and Mrs. James G. Shakman is chairman of the Wilmette committee.

Animal Shelter Assists Concert.

Lily Pons should sing to a full house at her concert April 2 at the Civic Opera house, for not only is the board of the Girl Scouts of Chicago selling tickets to the performance, but so also is the board of directors of the North Side Animal shelter. Mrs. William Mayard Sturgis is in charge of ticket sales for the latter organization, with Mrs. Dorothy Eagles, president and founder of the shelter, and Mrs. John J. Abbott, the vice president, assisting.

Among the board members are Mrs. Philip B. Maher, Mrs. Walter P. Paepcke, Mrs. Norval H. Pierce,

Casadesus Has Poetic Touch of Great Pianists

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Robert Casadesus has played in Europe, Africa, and both Americas, but never until yesterday in Chicago. The great French pianist made his local debut in Orchestra hall, offering the Beethoven E-flat concerto as the solo item of the tenth of the Chicago Symphony orchestra's Tuesday afternoon programs. Frederick Stock conducted.

This E-flat concerto, nicknamed "Emperor," means many things to many pianists. To Mr. Casadesus it is neither austere, nor tinkly, nor old-fashioned. Opportunities for quiet Gallic poetry were plentiful in yesterday's interpretation—opportunities, also, for brilliantly clangorous tonal effects and for stunning technical fireworks.

Yet the grandeur of the piece—its architectural roundness and perfection—were never compromised from first to last. Mr. Casadesus scrupulously pours all of his vivid imaginings into the unimprovable mold provided by the composer.

Not all of his most taking lyrical effects were confined to the second movement, although the man's unbelievable pianissimo and his exquisite definition of melody notes found here their most startling uses. In the first movement, as well, the Casadesus poetry shone in passage after passage. A memorable moment was the piano's first entrance after the orchestral exposition. Here was classical warmth, if indeed there is such a thing.

Mr. Casadesus is not afraid to pound out the theme of the Rondo, to make it boisterous and superbly vital. The performance of this entire third movement had a drive about it which kept the musical thought urgent and important from first note to last.

The impression which we receive too often—that this final division is a tinkly fluency study designed to take the curse off the two serious movements which have gone before—was entirely lacking in yesterday's performance. The audience applauded thunderously.

Mr. Stock prefaced the concerto with the Sibelius First symphony, achieving a fine flow in the mystical last movement and filling all four of the work's divisions with intense color interest. The afternoon's curtain raiser was Glinka's "Russlan and Ludmilla" overture, which was tossed off as briskly as a radio band could have done it.

Hair Goes Up

Up, and off the neck. This is the hairdressers' 1938 ultimatum, as indicated by the three winning coiffures in the sixth annual coiffure contest held last night by the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' association in conjunction with the Midwest Beauty Trade show at the Hotel Sherman.

"Minuette," a hairdress in which the hair is swept up from the brow, up from the neck, and up at the sides into a swirl of top curls, won first place. It was designed by Pansy Roloff, hair stylist in a beauty salon at 108 North State street.

Winners of second and third places, both with high swirling coiffures, were Thomas Frank of Chicago and Peter Edelmayer of Toronto, Canada.

The contest was one of swift movement, as each contestant was allowed only one hour to design and dress the coiffure. Judging was based on originality, technical execution, and adaptability to the individual.

Open Fund Campaign for Development Plan of Grant Hospital

A campaign to raise funds for the development of Grant hospital, 551 Grant place, was launched last night at a dinner in the Knickerbocker hotel. Frederick L. McNally, vice president of Rand McNally & Co., presided. He is president of the board of directors.

The financial program has been divided into three phases: one, to raise $300,000 to stabilize the hospital's financial position, increase the endowment for charitable work, and purchase new equipment; two, to raise $297,200 to retire a building bond issue, due in 1941, and, three, to procure $435,000 for the erection of a physicians and surgeons building, to house the medical staf offices and a tumor clinic for diagnosis, treatment, and research in the field of cancer and allied disease.

Good Morning!

This is one of the most entertaining "all family" pictures I've run across in a long time. And with pleasure one learns it's the first of a series of four dealing with the Hardy family.

"You're Only Young Once" is to be classed with such films as "Ah, Wilderness" and "Family Affair." Its main characters are Judge Hardy, a sympathetic and canny father with a saving sense of humor; Mrs. Hardy, a real mother; Andrew Hardy, recently graduated to long pants and experiencing the varied rashes of puppy love; Marian, gentle, unsophisticated, ardent, who's lost her heart—or thinks she has—to a handsome married life guard. And a nice maiden aunt—Aunt Milly.

I have said Judge Hardy is canny. Well, he has a yen to go sword fishing and catch a specimen with which to decorate his study wall. In this picture he cleverly maneuvers his folks, who have other vacation plans, to Catalina.

Here the children go hectic on him. . . . A crisis at home, precipitated by his signature on the note of a friend, brings the vacation to a close. But not before the judge has caught his fish and knit a neat pattern in the heart interests of his kids.

The story ends happily for all concerned, though there's a stretch when you fear a decided, well—recession—is to take place in the finances of these nice folks.

All of the acting is aces, but to Lewis Stone and young Mr. Rooney go the honors.

Dialog is convincing and sparkles with humor. Direction was of the best and staging and scenery are nice.

Anybody who loves family and home will get a kick out of this movie.

See you soon.

You Tell New Suits by Their Feminine Lines

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Spring fashions are blooming all over the town. Sleek trim two piece suits, just faintly reminiscent of last year's masculine tailored affairs, are cut sharply but with a feminine softness. These are plentiful in navy blue and black. With them go the airiest trifles of sheer blouses in white and candy colors.

Corn flower blue, dark in tone, is the runner-up for fashion honors, if you don't choose navy blue. Stunning three piece ensembles of topcoat and two piece suit with dull silver filigree buttons are grand buys in this flattering shade.

Combines of colors reach new high records. It's going to be an eye blinding spring season unless caution is used in the mixing. When four to six colors are used on just one outfit, the color mixer should be a genius.

Long sleeved shirtwaist blouses are stylish, but these, too, need good management to appear smart. Only the very tall and slim streamlines can wear the full sleeves, loose pleats and folds of the so-called "gaucho" blouses and skirts.

Pleats are complete successes in daytime dresses and in suits. The newest spring coats also boast clever folds, back fullness and a soft feminine outline. Navy blue with pink is racing with wheat yellow as a brand new contrast color for navy and these same light colors are just as effective with black.

Veils are all over the headlines, green mesh flying waist deep with a navy blue hat. Chenille dotted mists with the big fluffy dots in contrast colors of yellow, pink, light blue, and white are other veils used for face flattery and for the huge bows that tie around the neck. Sailors, in straw, fabric and patent are the hats of the hour!

A Splash of Color for Spring

Dozens of bright colored daisies scattered over a rainbow band material achieve a spring blaze of color in this daytime dress for wear under dark wool coats. Interesting details are the huge transparent hooks and eyes at the neckline, the chiffon pocket handkerchief and the narrow belt.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Whether you're six or ninety-six or marking off any of the birthdays in between you'll love "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in soap. It's pleased us, tickled us, more than any cosmetic package we've seen in years.

The movie, of course, is making history. The cunning box of figures in soap is going to make another kind of history. The box itself takes the form of a large, handsome ivory parchment book, lettered elegantly and fantastically in gold. Inside, each in its own cotton lined compartment, are the eight most charming national figures of the day.

Snow White, as befits a princess, is in the center looking ethereal, a tall willowy figure in flowing robes. Grouped around her are the seven dwarfs, each unbelievably and faithfully carved and beautifully colored.

It's the fidelity that has us practically on our knees in adoration. Doc has his spectacles and his fussbudget expression. Happy is jolly looking, as he should be, with a round stomach, a round face. You expect his round laugh to peal forth. Grumpy is properly fierce, with his pointed beard. Sleepy's eyelids droop to exactly the right degree, and Bashful has the owlish stare he should have. Every detail is perfect. Their hands, their toes, their faces, and their costumes are exquisitely faithful.

If there's a child in your family don't miss this inexpensive box of colored soaps. Think what fun it will be to wash behind the ears with Dopey! And these have decorative value, these figures. You can use them around a child's room to delight his soul and give the place atmosphere.

SYNOPSIS.

Karen Gilbert meets Gordon Stone returning after eight years in prison. Gordon blames Lyn Gilbert, Karen's ruthless uncle, owner of Bar B B ranch, and his foreman, Curt Ford, for framing him. In town Gordon looks for old friends.

INSTALMENT III.

BACK TO FIGHT.

The appearance of the man puzzled Milan. The Gordon Stone he had known had been a stringy, awkward youth, gay and happy-go-lucky, not differing essentially from fifty other cowpunchers of the neighborhood, but the years had transformed him into one compactly built and well muscled, with a lean, bitter face from which gray eyes looked out with steadfast assurance. Self-discipline had hammered him hard as steel. Road work had done the same for his body.

"Gonna be with us for a while?" the shoemaker asked.

"Yes."

"Fine. You'll find things changed."

"How?"

"O, I dunno." Milan rubbed his bristly chin in search of an answer. "Lyn Gilbert is top dog now. On the range, I mean. Some of his neighbors are still fighting him—Dave Landers, for instance, and yere uncle, old John Fleming—but he's got 'em whipped and they know it."

Stone lifted a pair of resoled shoes from a chair and sat down.

"I'm listenin', Pete," he said.

It was a long story, and its roots reached back into the days when Gilbert had homesteaded in the Kettle Hill country and started his herd with a few scrub longhorns. The fecundity of his cows had been amazing. The three or four small brands he had bought increased so fast that the cowmen in the vicinity were moved to urgent protest. If Gilbert had not been a smooth and at the same time a very tough customer he would undoubtedly have been rubbed out. But he survived, and as his herds grew became important in the region. The shoe was on the other foot now, and he led the cattlemen against the nesters taking up the water holes and against the rustlers who lived in pockets of the mountains and raided the range.

Honest settlers of the Kettle Hills, even when in temporary alliance with him, resented the ruthlessness of the man. Back of him he had a turbulent fighting bunch led by his foreman, Curt Ford. None of this was news to Stone. He had been brought up so close to the Bar B B that the insolence and arrogance of its riders had fretted him as they had all outsiders with whom they had come in contact. He had shown fight, and in liquidating him they had wrecked his life.

Since Gordon had been out of the picture, Milan explained, the fight of the Bar B B had been less against the small hill men and more a campaign to destroy the cattlemen whose stock ranged the country needed by the increasing herds of Lyn Gilbert. The Kettle Hills had been settled at a time when there was free grass for all. The nearest land office was seventy-five miles distant and the cowmen had been casual in acquiring ownership. There were flaws in some of their titles and through dummies Gilbert had brought suits contesting ownership. The pressure of the Bar B B cattle, always dangerously imminent, steadily increased. As a result, several small ranchmen had thrown up their hands and sold out to Gilbert for a song.

"How about my uncle?" Stone asked.

"He's slipped bad since you left, Gord. The old man ain't got the fight in him he usta have. Course he thinks he has and he's so doggoned stubborn he'll never quit, but right now he's hemmed in so he doesn't know which way to turn. Lyn pulled his wires and took the government grazing permit above his place from Fleming. There's been a heap of trouble between them last year or two."

"What kind of trouble?"

"Several kinds. Over grazing lands, for one thing. The old man claims Curt Ford has killed some of his cows and run off others. They had guns out onct and one of the J F boys was wounded."

"Dave Landers is in it, too, you say."

"They got him worried, all right. He's patched up some kind of truce with them, but it won't last. It will be Dave's turn after they get Fleming. The Kettle Hill stockmen haven't got a chance against Lyn. He runs the politics of the county, names and elects judges, picks the sherif. What he says goes in this neck of the woods."

"And if a fool is obstinate enough he can always be drygulched or shipped off to the penitentiary," Stone said with cold bitterness. "Have you seen Jack Turnbull lately?"

"It's been quite a spell. Jack's lying low just now. He got into trouble and wounded Buck Hayes in a fight. Buck is one of the Bar B B riders, so the sherif is lookin' for Jack. By the way, Jack was workin' for yore uncle when he had the difficulty. If you want to see him I wouldn't wonder but what they could tip you off where he's at down at the Pratt feed store. He hangs out there. At least he did."

Stone rose. "Much obliged, Pete. I'll be driftin'."

"You don't aim to git into any jam with the Bar B B crowd again, do you, Gord?" Milan asked, his face puckered into an anxious frown. "Not buttin' in or anything, I'll say this. Don't let Lyn get a notion you're startin' in to buck him. He's our leading citizen now and respectable as the devil, but——"

"——but he'd just as soon have me bumped off as bat an eye if he could get away with it."

"I didn't say any such thing," Milan denied promptly. "Lyn subscribes to the churches and his name is at the head of every charity list. What I mean is, don't monkey with the buzzsaw. Then you won't get hurt."

"Has Curt Ford joined the church along with his boss?"

"Curt is a rough character and always will be," the shoemaker admitted. "He'll fight at the drop of the hat."

Milan's troubled gaze followed Gordon Stone down the street. This strong grim man had come back to fight. He had no doubt of that any more than he had that he was doomed to defeat.

At Pratt's feed store several oldtimers were gathered for gossip. They sat back against an adobe wall in tilted chairs and discussed current events. Just now they were swapping yarns about the early days. They had reached an age when memories of the past were dear to them.

A man leaned against the door jamb and glanced scornfully over these survivors of frontier times. He was a large thick-bodied man with arrogant shoulders, flinty shallow eyes, and brindle hair beginning to turn gray. The vest over the flannel shirt was open and the corduroy trousers disappeared at the bottom into cowboy boots. The harsh face, the open throat, the big hands were all brown as coffee.

"Listen to 'em, Buck," he jeered. "You'll learn all about how this country was when Copper Hill was a hole in the ground."

Buck was a tall thin slat of a man in overalls and Stetson hat. He had no eyebrows. An ugly scar from a knife slash disfigured the right cheek.

"Hope we're not boring you, Mr. Ford," tartly retorted a little man with a face like a wrinkled winter pippin. "Because if we are we'll get off the earth for you."

A cackle of uncertain mirth followed this thrust. All of those present knew that Curt Ford was no safe object of derision.

"That'll be enough from you, Pinckney," the big man ordered harshly.

Jasper Pinckney flushed. He was close to eighty, but in his time he had fought Apaches and held his own in the rough and tumble of the early days. Without shame he could not silently submit to this bully.

"I don't have to ask you when I can speak," he said. "I'm still wearin' man size boots."

Ford strode up to the little man. His fingers closed and tightened on the scrawny shoulder close to the throat. The pain of that iron grip drove the blood from Pinckney's face.

Dear, O, dear, but the waistline is always with us to worry about, unless you belong to the group that never knows a silhouette complaint. Again, into a new fashion period, we are confronted with neater waistline requirements.

Well, we have learned nothing if we haven't learned that it is no use getting the waistline down by going foodless for a time and then beginning to eat again. This just makes us feel worse.

There's exercise, however, and exercise that isn't going to take the breath out of you, your vim, and your prideful vigor. And from all experience, my own and that of thousands of others, you can put it down as gospel that an exercised waistline stays down fifty times longer, surer, and more neatly than a dieted one.

True, you can combine the two feats, but you needn't be fanatical about diet any more if you'll just put that body of yours through a ten to fifteen minute exercise spree a day. The more I see and talk with women who are outstanding in professional life, or vocational life of any kind, the more I see the practicality of exercise as the way to keep the waistline fit. These women do it. Not strenuously, but regularly. After a while it is a mere matter of routine, taken in as easy stride as one takes tooth brushing, breakfast, and driving the car to work. And that's how good figures are maintained.

I am going to give you women, who are not used to exercise, two movements to do that are easy but effective. The first you can do standing or lying down, or both ways for good measure. I'll describe the lying-down-on-the-floor way. You're on your back on the floor. Your right leg is stretched down straight and as far as you can stretch it. Your right arm is stretched up [on the floor] as far as you can reach. Now, just go ahead and stretch, stretch, stretch. With the other hand you can feel how you are pulling on fat and lazy muscles. Alternate, stretching left leg and arm. Doing it standing, you simply take erect position and stretch from tiptoes up to fingertips.

Exercise No. 2 will do amazing things for the waistline if you only give it a chance. Just stand with feet apart, arms at sides. Raise arms to front and keep on raising them overhead and rearward, bending the knees and stretching down from waist through knees, and up from waist to fingertips. Stretch and stretch. Relax and repeat.

How to develop graceful hands is told by Antoinette Donnelly, Tribune beauty editor, in her booklet, "Handmade Hand Beauty." Get a copy of this booklet today. On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Trower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

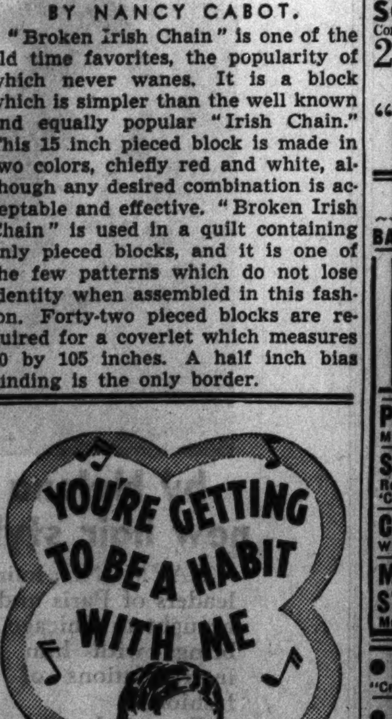
Quilt Favorite Most Effective with Two Colors

Broken Irish Chain.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Broken Irish Chain" is one of the old time favorites, the popularity of which never wanes. It is a block which is simpler than the well known and equally popular "Irish Chain." This 15 inch pieced block is made in two colors, chiefly red and white, although any desired combination is acceptable and effective. "Broken Irish Chain" is used in a quilt containing only pieced blocks, and it is one of the few patterns which do not lose identity when assembled in this fashion. Forty-two pieced blocks are required for a coverlet which measures 90 by 105 inches. A half inch bias binding is the only border.



"We always use mildly medicated, delightfully fragrant Cuticura Soap at our house. Ever since I started using it regularly, folks say I'm getting a skin like a movie star's. We use Cuticura Ointment, too. It's fine for relieving ordinary skin irritations. I wish I could tell every mother about Cuticura."

Mrs. Clifford G. Roe is chairman of the ways and means committee of the senior board of La Rabida, and Mrs. Everett J. Granger is general chairman of the party.

The junior auxiliary again is in charge of the fashion show, with Mrs. Robert E. Langford as chairman. Versatile, Informal Dress

WOMAN'S AND MISS' HOME FROCK.

We've called this a "home" frock, but that really is an understatement. There is nothing about the style to keep you from wearing it to all kinds of informal daytime events. If you do a lot of entertaining you will appreciate the practical yet smart lines of the dress.

Matrons will like the version sketched at the left. It has distinguished and dignified lines. There are a few seams to sew, and rows of braid all over the dress for trimming, and there you are. The V neckline has a smart rever collar, and a belt extends from the side seams to fasten in the back. The full sleeves are flattering.

Sketched at the right is a more youthful version with puffed sleeves, girlish square neckline, and no belt. Count one, two, three, and the dress is finished, it is that easy to cut and sew. Ready made braid is used for trimming and the most practical of cottons make up beautifully.

Style No. 2065 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material, with 6 yards of braid.

Into the oven goes most of tonight's busy woman's dinner. Oven baked meals are a comfort because, once the food is in the oven it's out of your way and doesn't need much attention. Then, of course, there's some small saving in fuel when the same heat is utilized for two or three different dishes.

Pork chops with rice, muffins, and baked apples with mincemeat are the oven-baked parts of this meal.

Spanish Pork Chops with Rice.

[Serves Four.]

1 cup rice
4 pork chops
1 onion, sliced
2 tablespoons chopped celery
2 cups tomato juice
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Wash rice and boil in salted water for 10 minutes. Meanwhile brown pork chops in frying pan, in their own fat. Season with salt and pepper. Remove chops and brown onion and celery. Then return chops to pan, covering onion and celery. Drain the rice and place a mound of it on each chop. Pour the tomato juice over and around the mixture and sprinkle parsley over it. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes to an hour.

Peanut Butter Muffins.

[One Dozen.]

2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
⅓ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¼ cup peanut butter
⅝ cup milk
½ cup water
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt together. Beat eggs, add peanut butter, milk, water, and melted shortening, and mix well. Add all at once to dry mixture and stir only enough to dampen flour. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

In this case use a 375 degree temperature for the muffins, turning up the heat 25 minutes before the chops and rice are ready to come from the oven. This degree of heat is a happy medium between the 400 recommended for muffins and the 350 which is best for pork chops. And the apples will bake nicely at the same temperature. Put them in the oven a short time before the muffins go in.

BAKED APPLES WITH MINCEMEAT.

Core large baking apples and fill the centers with canned or packaged mincemeat. Place in a pan with a tablespoon of water for each apple. Sprinkle each apple with sugar and put a small piece of butter on each. Bake until tender, basting occasionally with the liquid in the pan.

THE EXTRA CHANCE.

A hand reported and analyzed in an English bridge magazine offers an interesting problem of play. It appears to me that the English author overlooked a rather important safety factor in his analysis.

South is asked to bring home all thirteen tricks, with diamonds as trump. The bidding was not reported, but the grand slam might be reached as follows:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
4 no trump	Pass	5 hearts	Pass
7 diamonds	Pass	Pass	Pass

In this sequence North's five heart bid would be the key bid. Since North had failed to support hearts previously, indeed, since he had given a jump preference for the minor suit, he easily could be read for either the ace of hearts or a void. If he had the ace he certainly would be short in the suit, and South need not fear losing any heart tricks.

The English analysis of the correct play against West's opening lead of the club king was for declarer to draw two rounds of trumps and, assuming that these accounted for the oustanding trumps, that he then should depend on no worse than a 4-2 spade break, which would permit him to discard his losing club and one heart, and which then would leave him with sufficient trumps in both hands for a perfect cross-ruff.

The East-West hands shown above were not given in the original setup. They are advanced by me as a possible distribution. The point I wish to bring out is that declarer should not depend entirely on a 4-2, or better, split of the spade suit. Nothing can be lost by attempting to guard against a 5-1 spade break.

Declarer's proper course is to lead one diamond to dummy's ten, then to cash his spade ace and lead a second spade. If both opponents follow, obviously there is no play to the hand. The outstanding trump is drawn and thirteen tricks become a laydown. If, however, one of the opponents fails to follow to the second spade lead, which means that the spade suit could not have been established and that drawing two rounds of trumps would have been fatal, declarer still may win out, if the defender who now is out of spades also is out of trumps.

Since the play I recommend cannot lose, and may gain, it automatically becomes the correct plan, because this is the very definition of a safety play.

Paints Mexico That Traveler Learns to Love

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

One of the most delightful exhibitions in town is that of water colors of Mexico by Charles Oglesby Longabaugh in the O'Brien galleries, 820 North Michigan avenue.

Paintings of Mexico are becoming more and more to be expected, but Mr. Longabaugh has done the unexpected in bringing out of that picturesque country sketches of just those things which win the heart of the traveler while he is there.

These water colors are sparkling and fresh, gay and real. They hang against the walls of the gallery like so many unset jewels, each flawless, each charming in its perfection.

You will find a Mexico of red roofs, pink cathedrals, and gray walls. You will find cactus, donkeys, Indians in huge sombreros, other Mexicans in native dress, bullock carts, flocks of sheep, blue skies as soft as that of Italy, and roads that wind between green hills.

The painter has missed none of the distinctive features which give character to Mexico. His "Mountain Farm, Linares, Mexico," "Siesta," "Red Roofs of Taxco," "The Alamo, San Antonio," "Church in Taxco," "On the Saltillo Road," "Xochimilco," and "Lowland Farms" are so many open windows into a land of romance and beauty. There is not one that you can afford to miss.

In addition to the exhibit of large water colors Mr. Longabaugh gives us a group of fascinating little water colors, also of Mexico and also most charming. Of all the paintings of Mexico by either Mexican or American painters that have been shown in Chicago this last year or so, these in the present show will be the longest remembered. They are amazingly fine.

Water colors by John Whorf and water colors by W. Emerton Heitland are in an inner gallery. John Whorf stands well in any company and his stunning paintings of ocean or storm-swept shore are unique. In the group is a circus scene that is delightful and several shore and sea paintings that prove again that Whorf begins where Winslow Homer left off.

The Heitland water colors are colorful but a bit on the ragged side after seeing John Whorf and Longabaugh. The exhibition will continue through March 31.

Let Youngster Remain Happy as He Learns

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Now, to get on with more suggestions about helping on the formation of good habits in your young children.

Make like as pleasant as possible 3: Make life as pleasant as possible for your child while habits are being acquired—that is, while things are being learned. Here's an example of the opposite: if a small child is nagged and scolded for his manners at the table while he's trying his best to manage spoon and pusher, he's going to have a resistance to the whole eating performance, and probably to the food itself.

Another example of wrong methods is provided by the mother of the near-baby who, in trying to teach him bladder control, spanks for "accidents," and so he associates the bathroom [or its equivalent] with cross looks and voice. He's not only less happy, but he's confused or resistant and so learns less well; or perhaps doesn't learn at all!

Capitalize your little child's successes and minimize his failures. You don't have to make a fuss over or praise extravagantly every achievement in learning; but it does mean that you might act pleased or approving, or actually praise him when learning is going forward apace, especially where your "small one" seems to have made some conscious effort.

You see, lots of the things your child tries to do are not done because he sees that they're right, or even sees the sense of them but simply because he knows you want him to do them and he needs your approval.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Bishop Edward M. Cross of the Episcopal diocese of Spokane, Wash., is holding daily lenten services in Christ church, Winnetka, this week. In his series of sermons he has compared people of the world today with Tantalus, who, according to the Greek myth, was tantalized to his death with delicious viands just out of reach.

"The world has lost its consciousness of God," said the bishop, "and herein lie our present difficulties. This loss in no sense proves there is no God. It is like sitting before a table spread with nice dishes and not being able to eat. Men just are not willing to partake. Until they come back to a consciousness of God there can be no permanent peace and no permanent solutions for our economic and social ills.

"This pulling away from the sense of the eternal has to a certain extent been unintentional. The worldly way has been the easier and men have taken it because it is easy. But the rediscovery of God will not be easy. You must be willing to pay the price."

Bishop Cross urged daily Bible reading and devotions as means of recovering lost spiritual values.

Boston, Mass., March 8.—(AP)—The Boston Bruins bounced out of their brief slump by overwhelming New York's short handed Americans, 7 to 0, tonight before 13,000 in the Boston Garden.

By so doing the Bruins protected their two game lead on the Rangers for a National Hocky league top playoff berth and provided Goalie Tiny Thompson with his seventh shutout of the season.

Bobby Bauer started the Bruins on their way in the eleventh minute of the first period, taking a long passout from the Boston zone and racing down to beat Robertson.

Woody Dumart scored twice and the other goals were made by Milt Schmidt, Art Jackson, Eddie Shore, and Dit Clapper. The latter made two assists.

TRIBUNE headline: "George Washington defeats Loyola again." Here I have thought all these years it was Cornwallis he licked before.

THE WAKE UPON ITS DEPENDS FRIENDS.

Ten Years Ago Today—Champions of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's first annual Golden Gloves tournament were crowned at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium before a crowd of 4,000. They were Jimmy Chase, 112 pounds; John Burns, 118 pounds; George Root, 126 pounds; Joe Kestian, 135 pounds; Nick Fosco, 147 pounds; Charley Benoit, 160 pounds; Dave Maier, 175 pounds, and Walter Radke, heavyweight.

REMEMBER THOSE GOLDEN GLOVE SHOWS OF PAST?

Fans Recall Thrills and Result Is Sellout.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The very good reason there aren't any more seats to be had for Friday nights Golden Gloves finals in the Chicago Stadium is that folks can't forget the ten other times they went to these hero making ceremonies.

On each of those occasions there were thrills so electrifying that they brought the whole Stadium crowd to its feet.

There were the early years. It was back in the 1929 tournament when Barney Ross definitly established himself as a coming world's champion when he won a Golden Glove.

And on the same team was George Myers of Quincy, the heavyweight. Myers was a thrill maker in the pinches. He was greatest in New York in an inter-city match in which he rallied sensationally to toss the New York-Chicago competition into a deadlock.

There were other tournaments when Fred Caserio had merely to step into the ring to bring down the house, such a well liked fighter was he.

And there was that never to be forgotten battle in which Caserio finally lost his crown. It was Bill Treest of Batavia who dethroned him.

Here's a Fighter.

A couple of years later came the days when a heavyweight battle seldom took place unless Adam Smith, the baker boy who was as round as he was tall, was a participant.

Adam's large tummy was shellacked in many instances before he finally became the heavyweight champion in 1932. Yet he always thrilled the crowd.

There was the night in 1931 when the crowd rose as one to cheer the sportsmanship of Don Gonzales, the Cleveland boy who was on his way to the featherweight title. One of his foes was Joe Kleko of Chicago. Earlier in the tournament Kleko had suffered a bad cut over his left eye.

As the bout started Gonzales told those in his corner and those in Kleko's corner he would not hit the bandage that covered the cut. And he didn't aim a single punch in that direction throughout a thrilling battle. He won.

What a Battle!

Later on there was Gonzales' championship battle with Tony Muscerello of Chicago. Gonzales clearly outboxed the Chicago boy, but Muscerello was a terrific hitter. He floored Gonzales and the count was even at the end of the third round.

In those days an extra round of fighting was permitted if the issue was close at the end of the third round.

Gonzales and Muscerello put on a fourth round that had every spectator in a frenzy. Gonzales was the winner, but the margin was narrow.

Then there was the discovery of the colored sensation, Joe Louis, in the 1934 tournament. Those short rights and lefts that left his foes flopping in the resin dust stunned the crowd at first. Then it thrilled the spectators. Never before nor never since have they watched an amateur who could hit with such accuracy and such power.

A Real Thriller.

In that same 1934 finals came the greatest fight thriller of them all. If you were there you will remember it as if it were yesterday. It was the struggle between Otis Thomas and Max Marek for the heavyweight championship.

Knockdowns came so fast the crowd was dizzy. The tide of battle swung like a fast moving pendulum. The spectators were as fatigued as the fighters were when Thomas was declared the winner.

Now do you wonder why you can't get a ticket for Friday night's finals. The situation would be similar if Chicago Stadium were twice its size.

He's Very Much in the Swim

Capt. Bob Christians of the University of Iowa rests between warm-ups for the Big Ten conference swimming meet in the New Trier High school pool Friday and Saturday. Capt. Christians specializes in the 220 and 440 yard events.

Ohio to Make Strong Bid in Big 10 Swim

Northwestern university will be host this week-end to both the Big Ten swimming and wrestling meets. The former will be held in New Trier High school's new swimming pool and the latter in Patten gymnasium. Both are scheduled Friday and Saturday.

Ohio State looms as heavy favorite in swimming on the strength of two dual meet victories over Michigan, which has won six of the last seven conference meets. The Buckeye strength is centered around two defending champions, Bill Neunzig, backstroke, and Jim Patterson, diving.

Patnik Is a Threat.

Al Patnik, sophomore holder of the national A. A. U. diving championship, is another potential point scorer for the Buckeyes. He is expected to displace his teammate, Patterson, in the diving. Johnny Higgins, who captured the backstroke in the recent dual meet with Michigan in the fast time of 2:31.2, is another Ohio State entry of championship caliber.

Michigan's hopes of retaining the title rest largely upon two free style stars, Capt. Ed Kirar and Tom Haynie, who between them won all four free style events last year.

Iowa Shows Power.

Iowa's stock soared as a result of the Hawkeyes' victory over Northwestern last Saturday. It was the first defeat for the Wildcats, who also were regarded as championship contenders. The Hawkeyes possess one of the best balanced teams in the conference, led by Capt. Bob Christians, a leading entrant in both the 220 and 440 yard swims.

Northwestern's key entry is Dan Zehr, who is entered in both the back stroke and crawl events.

Minnesota, which tied Northwestern in a dual meet, will depend upon Leonard Klum, diver, and a medley relay team composed of Brandt, Sahlman, and Levander. This trio holds the national intercollegiate record for the event.

Indiana's wrestling team, undefeated in dual meets this season, may displace Illinois, defending champion. The Hoosiers will enter a veteran team, consisting of eight lettermen.

WALKER REPORTS TO SOX; EX-TIGER LIST IS COMPLETE

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 8.—Manager Jimmy Dykes today had at work his parcel of the big winter trade with the Detroit Tigers. Gerald Walker, reporting at noon, pulled on his baseball bloomers a day ahead of time, thus accounting for the trio which Dykes obtained in exchange for Vernon Kennedy, Dixie Walker and Tony Piet. Marvin Owen got here yesterday and Mike Tresh arrived with the flood refugees last Friday night.

With the exception of holdouts, Mr. Dykes will have his entire ensemble at the practice ground tomorrow morning. Luke Appling, Mike Kreevich, Larry Rosenthal and Henry Steinbacher are scheduled to arrive at breakfast time.

Walker Is Ambitious.

Walker was in uniform an hour after he reached Pasadena from Florida and intervening stopovers. He said golf and hunting had kept his legs in perfect shape and he asked to be permitted to do some hitting today. He was told by Dykes that the first swinging will be done tomorrow.

Said the colorful former Tiger: "I am out of the doghouse for the first time in six years, and I'm going to make my new skipper keep me in there for 154 games. I hope to be hot against all teams in the American league and sizzling against Mickey Cochrane's crew. I understand that Cochrane, who let Marv Owen, another of his doghouse inmates, go in the same trade that gave me a break, is going to start the season without a third baseman, and if there is anything I love to do it is to put down bunts where there's nobody to pick them up.

First Series Should Be Good.

"Of course, I am sorry that Mike's health has caused him to give up active play, for he's a great catcher. He's so good a catcher that he's going to go crazy if his team doesn't get off to a good start, and he can't grab a mitt to help 'em out. They play the White Sox first, and I hope that's where Marv and I come in."

CUBS HOLD FIRST OF INTRASQUAD BATTLES TODAY

Series of Five Games to Test Rookies.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 8.—From now on the Cubs' annual spring training exercises will have a baseball flavor. Tomorrow the boys, split into two squads, will go to work in the first of the intracamp series and by the time these five scheduled games are completed it may be possible to get a clew as to the value or the worthlessness of the rookie crop. Thus far Manager Charles Grimm hasn't spotted any freshmen with immediate big league possibilities but he has hopes.

One feature over which the manager is satisfied is that his congregation of athletes has done fairly well in the matter of physical improvement even though the weather hasn't been especially choice. Just about everybody has advanced to the border of workable condition without developing arm ailments or plunging into injuries. So if the luck continues the entire gang will be in the mood to do things impressively when they meet up with their old tormentors, the White Sox, on March 18.

Hartnett Has Ailing Leg.

The only cripple of any account is Granddad Gabby Hartnett, who since 1922, which is a long time in baseball, has waged a successful fight against the ten count. At this writing the old fellow moves around like a gentleman in need of a crutch. Something has gone wrong with the lower half of one leg. Gabby hasn't decided whether it is growing pains or old age but he's not worrying. He's taking his daily drill along with the others and predicting that whatever it is that has gone wrong will be eliminated eventually.

The possibility that something might go wrong with Hartnett, now 37, at any moment is what prompted Grimm to decide during the off season that second stringer Ken O'Dea should be worked into the No. 1 rôle. That arrangement is still in effect and all that is needed to make it a successful maneuver is for O'Dea to come through both as a receiver and a hitter. Even if O'Dea does show what is required it will not mean the complete banishment of Hartnett. He'll merely be cut down to a couple of games a week.

Grimm Looks for Pitchers.

So far as the pitching is concerned, and this is a department which was none too strong last season, Grimm is hoping he'll eventually find nine men worthy of hire throughout the year. Finding the nine from the present flock is not going to be easy. Offhand you'd say that the staf will be made up of Clay Bryant, Tex Carleton, Curt Davis, Larry French, Bill Lee, Leroy Parmelee, Charles Root, Bob Lefty Logan, and Clyde Shoun, also a southpaw. Of this assortment Bryant, Parmelee, Logan, and Shoun are problem children and Root at 39 can't do regular work.

Expectation that one or two of the problems like Bryant, Parmelee, Shoun, or Logan would respond to the spring treatment now being accorded them, explains why only two Simon Pure pitching rookies were included in the training camp party. One is Albert Paul Epperly and the other Walter Higbe, who is still absent because of the illness of his wife. Both come from the Moline, Ill., club, which is a lot different from the majors, so even if they are standout prospects they may not be ready.

CLAIM YOUNG INFIELDER WAS LURED AWAY

Terry to Protest to Bramham.

Baton Rouge, La., March 8.—(AP)—There's a fine feud coming up between the New York Giants and Cleveland Indians over a kid second baseman named Bill Nowak.

Bill Nowak.

The Indians, Manager Bill Terry of the Giants charges, have absconded with Nowak and are holding him in the Roosevelt hotel in New Orleans.

The Indians, represented by their road secretary, Frank Kohlbecker, came over before dawn today and spirited Nowak out of his boarding house here, claims Terry, who feels that they are trying to dazzle the youngster with big town surroundings.

These facts are known: Nowak was here yesterday, he didn't report for practice here today, and the clerk of the New Orleans hotel admitted Nowak had been his guest since "some time this morning." That Kohlbecker was implicated remains to be proved.

The two clubs have been scrapping over Nowak for several weeks, with Business Manager Cyril Slapnicka of Cleveland dashing off stinging telegrams to Terry, and Terry only grinning, because he thought he had Nowak.

Now the thing will have to be threshed out before Judge William Bramham, president of the Minor league association.

Indians Saw Him First.

Nowak, a husky, hard-hitting youngster not yet of age, was spied by a Cleveland scout last summer playing semi-pro ball in Detroit. Slapnicka signed him for Springfield, O., Cleveland's ally in the Middle Atlantic league, but apparently forgot to file the contract with Judge Bramham.

Nowak seems to have forgotten about it, too, for he showed up at the Giants' baseball school here last month under the name of Bill Wayne. He looked so good that when the school disbanded he was chosen, along with five other scholars, to report to the Giants' camp.

Terry offered him a contract with Jersey City, the Giants' farm. Nowak broke down, told Terry his right name, and said he thought maybe he belonged to Cleveland. Terry looked into the matter, found that the rookie was, officially, free. So he signed him, and this time there was no forgetting to notify Judge Bramham.

INDIANS ASTONISHED

New Orleans, La., March 8.—(AP)—Cleveland Indian club officials expressed astonishment tonight that Bill Terry and the New York Giants were all worked up over the fact a rookie second baseman named Bill Nowak suddenly shifted his spring training from Baton Rouge to New Orleans.

News that Manager Terry had charged the Indians with spiriting Nowak away from the Giants' Baton Rouge camp, produced a terse statement from the Indians' road secretary, Frank Kohlbecker, and a "so what" attitude on the part of Manager Oscar Vitt.

Somebody Is Wrong.

"I did not leave New Orleans last night and was nowhere near Baton Rouge," Kohlbecker said. "Other than that I have no comment."

"All I know is that the boy [Nowak] is over here training with us," Manager Vitt said. "I don't know what's coming off here and guess I will have to see my old friend Terry personally."

Nowak, reached by telephone in his room at the Indians' hotel, said "just a minute," and left the telephone.

"I'm sorry, I can't say anything," he said after a brief interval.

NOWAK IS A SLUGGER

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—(AP)—William S. Nowak, rookie, over whose status the New York Giants worried today, is one of three Detroit sandlot players of record to hit a ball over the left field fence at Navin field, Detroit Tigers' home lately rechristened Briggs stadium.

The 20 year old second baseman, whom Manager Bill Terry charges was lured away from the Giants by the Cleveland Indians, starred in the Detroit amateur baseball federation after building a reputation as an all-around athlete in high school and at the Detroit institute of technology.

Last year, playing with the city class B champions and state title runnersup, Nowak batted .301 and fielded .968. The year before he cleared Navin Field's left field wall, 340 feet from home plate.

Nowak, whose home is in suburban Hamtramck, is five feet 10 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds.

JAPAN PLANS ON OLYMPICS; TELLS OF ITS PROGRAM

Recommendation of War Minister Explained.

TOKIO, March 8.—(AP)—War Minister General Gen Sugiyama's recommendation that the 1940 Olympic games be canceled was described today by high Japanese Olympic officials as a "matter of propriety" and not to be regarded as a reflection of the government's attitude.

Prof. I. Suehiro, president of the Japan Swimming association, and H. Shimomura, member of the Olympic organizing committee, declared the government and the nation were firmly determined to stage the games in Tokio as scheduled.

"The war minister could not take any other attitude," Shimomura said. "With Japan's armies fighting in China it would have been improper for him wholeheartedly to indorse the games. His statement was a matter of propriety and not to be regarded as a reflection of the government's attitude.

Budget Goes Through.

"The best index to government sentiment can be found in the fact that the budget for the games passed both houses without a hitch and that the organizing committee is proceeding with its plans. The wrong interpretation was placed on Gen. Sugiyama's remarks."

Shimomura explained the unofficial opposition which has developed here against the Olympics as simply furnishing evidence of the strong nationalistic spirit in Japan.

"Unquestionably this faction exists," he added. "It is opposed to the Olympics because the games represent the finest type of internationalism. The ideas the Olympic games symbolize are the exact reverse of those of the nationalists, hence their opposition. However, the group is small and relatively weak. Public opinion is the most important element and public opinion and the government is determined to hold the games."

Building Plans Announced.

Meanwhile the organizing committee announced a 5,000,000 yen [$1,500,000] building program. Prince Iyesato Tokugawa disclosed the program called for construction of an Olympic village, a huge swimming area to accommodate 30,000 spectators, football field, bicycle course, auditorium for indoor games, and a new main stadium.

Recalling that the government had promised an appropriation of 4,900,000 yen [$1,400,000] the committee said it might find means of its own to finance the games should the government subsidy be refused.

Canadiens Are Next Foes of Blackhawks

Manager Bill Stewart put the Blackhawks through a workout yesterday in the Stadium in preparation for the season's last home game, which is scheduled for tomorrow night against the Montreal Canadiens, who are protecting a 1 point hold on second place in the Canadian division of the National Hocky league from the encroachments of the New York Americans.

Every game of the four remaining to be played by the Blackhawks is sure to be hard fought, for every Blackhawk opponent is battling to hold its present spot in the standings or better it.

Hawks Face Hard Schedule.

The Blackhawks must play their best in their remaining four games to stay in third place, despite the fact that they lead the fourth place Detroit Red Wings by two full games. The Wings, however, have the slight advantage of having one more game to play than the Hawks.

The Blackhawks have not been able to win a game this season from the Canadiens. Sunday they tackle Detroit on the Red Wings' own ice, where in recent games they have performed well. The following Tuesday at New York they clash with the Americans, who yielded them only one goal in the teams' first four meetings this season, and finally on Sunday, March 20, they meet the Boston Bruins, who have taken three straight games from the Hawks.

Standings of Blackhawks and Red Wings:

	G.	W.	T.	Pts.
Blackhawks	44	13	9	35
Red Wings	43	10	11	31

Wings Have Chance.

If the Black Hawks win one of their remaining four games the Red Wings would have to win three and tie one of the remaining five to pass the Hawks. The standings then would be:

	G.	W.	T.	Pts.
Red Wings	48	13	12	38
Blackhawks	48	14	9	37

STARLIGHT AND ALOHA WIN IN HAVANA RACE

HAVANA, Cuba, March 8.—(AP)—Starlight, a 44 foot cutter owned by Albert Fay of Houston, Tex., sailed past Morro castle this morning, a little less than three days out of St. Petersburg, Fla., to win the largest share of the honors in the ninth annual St. Petersburg-Havana yacht race.

Starlight not only was the first to finish the 284 mile race which began at noon Saturday, but won the prizes on corrected time in the fleet competition and in the division for cutters and sloops.

Caprice, the scratch boat in the yawl and ketch division, won in that group, while Aloha led the schooners both on elapsed and corrected time.

In the fleet competition Starlight received a time allowance of 6 hours 20 minutes from Alfonso Gomez Mena's big schooner Golocamm, the scratch yacht, which was forced to put back to St. Petersburg after a collision with a freighter off the Florida coast yesterday.

Starlight finished about thirty-five minutes ahead of Col. A. E. Peirce's Sonny of New York, the scratch boat in their division which gave Fay's cutter a fifty-two minute allowance.

Aloha, owned by C. R. Parks of Chicago but sailed by Wally Bishop of Cleveland under charter, was the smallest of three schooners which started and the first to finish, crossing the line at 5:31:24.

Rockingham Will Run in Conflict with Narragansett

Boston, Mass., March 8.—(AP)—The long threat of a horse racing war in New England became a reality today when the New Hampshire Jocky Club, Inc., announced it would operate its Rockingham Park track for eighty-four consecutive days, forty-two of which would be in conflict with Narragansett Park at Pawtucket, R. I. Rockingham's dates, approved by the New Hampshire racing commission, were announced as from July 11 to Oct. 15. The Rhode Island commission has approved a sixty-six day racing season for Narragansett Park, split up in two meetings—from Aug. 1 to Sept. 10 and from Oct. 10 to Nov. 12.

DATES SET FOR DOG FIELD TRIALS IN MIDDLE WEST

Circuit Events to Start April 30.

BY BOB BECKER.

Dog fanciers who are interested in field trials now are busy perfecting plans for trials to be held in Chicagoland and elsewhere in the Mississippi valley.

One of the big open air contests for setters and pointers is the spring trial of the Northern Indiana Field Trial club which is calling out the trained dogs for March 26 and 27. The event will be held on the well stocked 6,000 acre field trial grounds near Winamac, Ind. This town, situated on the beautiful Tippecanoe river, is just 100 miles from Chicago, an easy drive for dog fanciers in Chicagoland.

Four Stakes Scheduled.

Four stakes will be run in this trial—open all age, junior all age, open puppy, and a shooting dog stake. Harry Decker of Winamac is the president of the club and Harlan F. Holmes of Knox, Ind., is the secretary. Holmes announces that good riding horses may be rented during the two days of the field trial in case one wishes to ride behind the judges and see the dogs work. Further details of the trial may be obtained by writing Harlan Holmes, Knox, Ind.

The Northern States Amateur Field Trial association has set April 30 and May 1 for its annual spring trial, which will be held between Solon Springs and Gordon, Wis.

Spring Circuit Card.

The spring circuit, which provides some of the most interesting competition of the year, doubtless will be as follows:

April 30, May 1—The newly organized St. Louis club for retriever owners will hold a trial on these two days. Martin Hogan, Barrington, Ill., has been engaged to superintend the trial.

May 7, 8—The southern Wisconsin retriever group will hold their licensed spring trial for retrievers on these dates. This organization is one of the most active new clubs in the middle west, sponsoring both setter and pointer as well as retriever trials.

May 14, 15—The Midwest Field Trial club of Chicago, the first organization in the middle west to promote retriever trials, is going to hold its licensed A. K. C. trial on these dates, according to an announcement made by Fletcher Garlock, president of the club. J. Gould Remick of New York, well known eastern retriever authority, and Bob Becker will judge the trial.

Trial at Minneapolis.

May 21, 22—The fourth trial in the midwestern circuit is scheduled for Minneapolis.

The part luck plays in bowling was well illustrated in the case of a pair of Chicagoans in the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday. Both turned in creditable performances in the Coliseum event, but a break here and there might well have elevated them to the heights.

First to feel the effects of the damaging 8-10 split between strikes was Vic Tocwish of the Archbishop Quigley council team of the Knights of Columbus, which took the five-man lead in the opening day's competition.

Tocwish rounded out his nine-game A. B. C. assignment yesterday by shooting 661 in the singles, good for sixth place in the standings, and 1,846 for the all-events, which gave him an average of 205.1 and second place.

Kufner Has Trouble, Too.

Right back of Tocwish was Ray Kufner, who took eighth place in the solo division with 659 on games of 205-210-244, despite a similar mishap.

Tocwish, who opened his doubles series with 140, doubling with Bert Dalton, followed with games of 235 and 232 to total 607, while the pair were moving into fourth place in the two-man event with 1,199. He then set forth on a strike spree in the singles.

Kufner, a member of the Combustion Engineers, also could have reached the top of the heap had not the same 8-10 split cropped up in the second game of his series.

After opening his solo series with 205, Kufner, who is 20 years old, followed with 210, despite the bad break in the second game. A 244 finish gave him second best score of the day.

Nolan Totals 603.

Ray Nolan, star tournament and exhibition bowler, was the first of the nationally known entrants to make his appearance in the A. B. C. Nolan, who is manager of the Chicago Athletic association bowling activities, bowled 246, 185, and 170 for a 603 beginning on the all events trail. He is scheduled to shoot on today's minor events program at 2 o'clock.

Spencer Coals, paced by Joe Vollmar's 588, topped the regular squad of Chicago five men teams which opened the night program with 2,685, which did not disturb the standings.

KAYO HEMSLEY BATTLES AGAIN; WINS TRIP HOME

New Orleans, La., March 8.—(AP)—With one eye closed and the other narrowed to a slit, Rollie Hemsley, Cleveland Indian catcher, sat in his hotel room today in purple pajamas breathing the strains of "Sugar Blues" into a mouth organ.

Somewhere among his belongings was a one-way ticket home attached to a stern order from Manager Oscar Vitt to remain there until he mended his ways.

Rollie, acquired recently from the St. Louis Browns, had no comment concerning his shiners, how they were acquired or what he intended to do about Vitt's order.

Rollie's a Great Promiser.

It developed that Hemsley had made reform promises after Vitt had warned him about training violations before and after Mardi Gras. The first slip, Feb. 28, was described as "serious." The second, March 2, was minor.

After Hemsley failed to appear for practice today, Vitt said he had given Rollie transportation home.

"I sent him home until he sees fit to mend his ways," Vitt said. "I don't know anything about his black eye or any trouble he got into."

GEHRIG STANDS PAT.

New York, March 8.—(AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the world champion New York Yankees, today issued his five-star final ultimatum to holdouts Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio.

He confirmed a boost from $36,000 to $39,000 in the 1938 terms offered Gehrig, who turned down the biggest stipend the colonel ever has offered to one of his players, with the exception of Babe Ruth. The $25,000 offered DiMaggio is his limit, Ruppert added.

"I went more than half way with Gehrig," the Yankee owner said. "That's absolutely as far as I will go. He came to see me and said he would sign for $40,000. I offered him $39,000. He turned it down. We shook hands. That's all."

The Yankees haven't heard from DiMaggio since he repeated his original refusal to accept the $10,000 increase offered and demanded a $40,000 salary for this year.

YANKEES PLAY TODAY.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Deciding after a week and a half of practice that the New York Yankees are ready to begin intra-camp games, Manager Joe McCarthy today named his pitchers for the first game tomorrow. He notified Bump Hadley, Johnny Murphy, Monte Pearson, Jack Fallon, and Spurgeon Chandler to be ready.

LINER INJURES GILES.

Tampa, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Warren C. Giles, vice president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, remained in a hospital tonight for an X-ray examination of injuries suffered when he was felled by a line drive batted by Norman Small, a rookie outfielder.

Giles was not believed seriously hurt, although he was unconscious when carried from the field.

The Reds announced the signing of Eddie Roush, former Reds' outfielder, as coach to assist Manager Bill McKechnie and Head Coach Hank Gowdy.

DIXIE WALKER IN FORM.

Lakeland, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Fred [Dixie] Walker, who became Detroit Tiger property in a six player trade with the White Sox, performed creditably today in his first appearance in his new uniform.

A few solid smashes off Walker's bat during batting drill in the third Tiger day of spring training indicated to onlookers that the ex-Chicagoan may calm the fears of fans who bemoaned the loss of Gerald Walker in the deal.

PIRATE ROOKIE HURT.

San Bernardino, Cal., March 8.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates ran through a lively drill today. Marvin Duke, the southpaw who won twenty-one games last season for Montreal, reported a damaged finger on his left hand caused by stopping a batted grounder on Monday—the first casualty of the spring training camp.

PHILS SIGN DOOLEY.

Biloxi, Miss., March 8.—(AP)—The Phillies announced today they had signed Joe Dooley, an outfielder. Dooley, a free agent, played for Galveston in the Texas league last year.

ROOKIE PLEASES MACK.

Lake Charles, La., March 8.—(AP)—Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics said today he was impressed by the playing of Babe Barna, who was with Albany of the Eastern league last year.

Mack indicated Barna will play right field in most of the remaining exhibition games.

CARD PITCHERS READY.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 8.—(AP)—Manager Frankie Frisch of the St. Louis Cardinals reported today his pitching staf was fast rounding into shape and predicted great success this year for Dizzy Dean and Lon Warneke. Sammy Baugh, football passing star, will make his first appearance in a practice game tomorrow.

Von Steuben led Schurz, 12 to 4, at the quarter and 21 to 16 at the half. Schurz managed to tie the score 26 to 26 near the end of the third period, but Shandling of Von Steuben sank a free throw to give Von Steuben the lead again, this time for good.

Hyde Park was in front throughout its contest with Hirsch, leading 6 to 4 at the end of the first quarter, 19 to 7 at the half, and 23 to 15 at the third period mark. Nelson, with four baskets, and Duncker, with two baskets and four free throws, led the Hyde Park attack.

Ross to Defend Title in Fight with Armstrong

Barney Ross will defend his welterweight championship against Henry Armstrong in a fifteen round bout in New York May 26, Sam Pian, manager of the title holder, said yesterday. Pian, however, demands the bout be held in Yankee stadium, but Promoter Mike Jacobs said Madison Square Garden bowl in New York may be the site.

Armstrong also agreed to meet Champion Lou Ambers for the lightweight crown within thirty days after the Ross encounter.

It will be Ross' first fight since he successfully defended his title in a fifteen round match with Ceferino Garcia last September.

Ross will arrive from New York tomorrow to open preparations for two or three tuneup bouts, the first of which will take place in Minneapolis late this month or early April against Henry Schaft. His second bout may be in Des Moines, Ia., under the promotion of Pinkie George.

Armstrong, who was forced out of action because of a hand injury received while registering his thirty-fourth knockout in thirty-five fights against Charley Burns in Minneapolis Feb. 28, is booked to make three appearances before meeting Ross. He is to clash with Alberto [Baby] Arizmendi in Los Angeles March 15 and Lew Feldman in New York March 30. Between these engagements he will face Al Manriquez in Des Moines. Armstrong also may appear in Chicago on April 29.

Al Weill resigned as matchmaker of Madison Square Garden yesterday after having held the post since last August. Weill now will be free to manage in the open Lou Ambers, lightweight champion. It was reported Weill quit the Garden because the Ross-Armstrong championship bout was made without his knowledge. It had been rumored for the last several days, however, that Weill was on his way out. Tom McArdle or Jimmy Bronson will be the new matchmaker.

OOSTERBAAN WILL COACH MICHIGAN BASKETBALL FIVE

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 8.—[Special.]—Benny Oosterbaan, one of University of Michigan's greatest football, baseball, and basketball stars of all times, today was appointed head basketball coach of his alma mater, succeeding Franklin C. Cappon. Cappon yesterday was appointed head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Princeton.

He will continue to serve as an assistant coach in football, a post he has held since 1928, and will have full charge of the freshman baseball team.

Wally Weber was made a full time member of the football coaching staf today.

Oosterbaan's assistant in basketball will be John Townsend, retiring captain.

POLITICAL NAMES INVOKED IN SUIT ECHOING OIL DEAL

Letters Tell Discussions Involving Sinclair.

Numerous letters linking widely known political names with principals in the merger of Prairie Oil and Sinclair Oil interests were introduced into the records yesterday in the suit of F. M. Wilhelm and A. W. Drohen, both of Independence, Kas., who are suing William Roy Carney, president of the Carney Coal company, Chicago, for $100,000 and $50,000 respectively.

Dudley Doolittle—fees cited in oil merger suit.

The case is being heard by Federal Judge John P. Barnes. The Kansans charge that Carney violated a gentleman's agreement to compensate them for their services in connection with Carney's attempt to stop the merger.

Jouett Shouse Mentioned.

Among the names mentioned were those of former United States Vice President Charles Curtis, who died Feb. 8, 1936; Jouett Shouse, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, and his law partner, Dudley Doolittle, now president of the Federal Farm Loan bank of Wichita, Kas., and the late Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana.

In a letter dated Aug. 20, 1932, written by Drohen to Carney, the statement was made that John F. Overfield, a Kansas politician, had discussed the Prairie Oil-Sinclair merger with Curtis and that Curtis thought the deal a bad one, which might result in another Teapot Dome scandal. The letter said that Overfield quoted Curtis as saying that Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, could not afford to have the deal aired.

In another letter, dated May 10, 1933, written by Wilhelm to Carney, Wilhelm said it seemed to be too bad the poor folk have to pay a $5,000 fee to get their grievances before government agencies.

Tells of Offer on Probe.

He based this statement on a proposition made to him by Doolittle that for a $5,000 fee he would be able to get the senate banking committee to investigate the Sinclair merger.

Wilhelm later, on advice of counsel, refused to make the payment, he said, although believing that Doolittle and his legal partner, Shouse, would be able to bring the matter to an early hearing. Wilhelm also said he was satisfied that the $5,000 fee was a legitimate one.

In another letter Wilhelm told Carney that Doolittle was anxious that nothing be said about the conversation.

Norfolk and Western.

Investors' Guide: I notice you are running a series of articles on railroads. Please include the Norfolk and Western.—Mrs. R. K.

Answer: Despite its heavy dependence on coal shipments, the Norfolk and Western railroad has maintained an almost unprecedented earnings record among American railroads. This earnings record has been made possible by development of high efficiency in operations and by gradual reduction of fixed charges through debt retirement.

The Norfolk and Western is a 2,205 mile system extending west and north from Norfolk, Va., through the Pocahontas coal region to Columbus and Cincinnati, O. The Pennsylvania railroad and its wholly owned subsidiary, the Pennsylvania company, together, own about 45 per cent of Norfolk and Western's outstanding capital stock.

Around 85 per cent of the total freight tonnage hauled by Norfolk and Western consists of products of mines. Of this amount, bituminous coal supplies more than 70 per cent. A wholly owned subsidiary, the Pocahontas Coal company, has large holdings of coal lands in West Virginia and Virginia. These lands are leased to operating companies.

The policy of Norfolk and Western's management has been to plow a substantial portion of earnings back into the business. Track, structures, and equipment have been kept in excellent condition and this has been reflected in the low operating ratio, or ratio of expenses to earnings. Whereas most railroads have operating ratios of between 70 and 80 per cent, the Norfolk and Western in 1937 had a ratio of only 59.1 per cent.

Norfolk and Western's revenues and earnings slumped late in 1937 along with those of other roads after showing large gains early in the year. For all of 1937, revenues were $94,861,503 and net income was $32,053,214, equal to $22.14 a common share, compared with 1936 revenues of $94,864,294 and net income of $33,016,659, or $22.88 a share. January, 1938, net income declined to $709,400 from $2,135,839, or $1.46 a share, in January, 1937.

Operations have been profitable in every depression year. In 1932, gross revenues were $62,775,611 and net income was $16,811,918, or $11.30 a common share.

Outstanding capitalization consists of 229,923 shares of 4 per cent noncumulative, adjustment preferred stock and 1,406,483 shares of $100 par common stock. Common dividends totaling $16 a share were paid on the common during 1937.

CONSUMER SALES OF GEN. MOTORS ABOVE YEAR AGO

The General Motors corporation yesterday reported February sales of 62,831 cars and trucks to consumers in the United States, compared with sales of 51,600 vehicles in Febuary, 1937, when production in the company's plants was curtailed by strikes. Sales to consumers in January, this year, totaled 63,069 units.

The Buick division of General Motors, it was reported yesterday, has stepped up production from three to four days a week at its Flint, Mich., plant.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING OF APRIL 4, 1938

NOTICE is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of United States Steel Corporation will be held at the principal office of the Corporation, Hudson Trust Company Building, No. 51 Newark Street, in the City of Hoboken, County of Hudson and State of New Jersey, on Monday, the 4th day of April, 1938, at twelve o'clock noon, for the following purposes, namely:

1. To elect Directors pursuant to the By-Laws.

2. To elect independent auditors to audit the books and accounts of the Corporation at the close of the current fiscal year.

3. To take action upon the proposed amendments to the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation, as heretofore amended, as declared advisable by resolution passed by the Board of Directors at a regular meeting held on January 25, 1938, such action to be taken separately as provided in said resolution, a copy of which is as follows:

RESOLVED: That the Board of Directors of United States Steel Corporation, a corporation of the State of New Jersey, deems it advisable and hereby declares it to be advisable;

That the authorized common stock of said Corporation, consisting of 12,500,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, be changed into 12,500,000 shares without par value;

That the capital of the Corporation be decreased from $1,230,606,300 to $1,013,025,000;

That such change of common stock with par value into common stock without par value shall be effected by changing each share of the presently authorized common stock with par value (including the shares presently issued and outstanding) into one share of common stock without par value;

That such decrease of capital of the Corporation shall be effected by reducing the capital represented by each share of issued and outstanding common stock so changed as aforesaid to $75;

That certificates for shares of such common stock without par value shall be issued in exchange for certificates for the presently issued and outstanding shares of common stock with par value, share for share;

That the authorized common stock of the Corporation, as so changed, be increased from 12,500,000 shares without par value to 15,000,000 shares without par value, thus making the total authorized capital stock of the Corporation, after such change and increase in the common stock shall have been effected, 4,000,000 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $100 each and 15,000,000 shares of common stock without par value;

That the shares of common stock without par value, other than the shares into which the presently issued and outstanding shares of common stock with par value shall be changed as aforesaid, may be issued and may be sold by the Corporation from time to time in such manner and for such consideration as from time to time may be fixed by its Board of Directors;

That in order to give effect to the foregoing change and increase in the authorized capital stock of the Corporation and decrease in its capital, the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey on the 25th day of February, 1901, as heretofore amended, be further amended so that the first paragraph of Article IV thereof shall read as follows:

IV. The amount of the total authorized capital stock of the corporation is 19,000,000 shares, 4,000,000 of which are to be preferred stock of the par value of $100 each and the remaining 15,000,000 shares are to be common stock without par value. The capital represented by the 8,703,252 shares of common stock without par value into which the previously issued and outstanding 8,703,252 shares of common stock of the par value of $100 each have been changed is $75 per share, thus decreasing the capital of the corporation in the amount of $217,581,300. Such capital is subject to increase from time to time by transfers of surplus or portions thereof to capital account as now or hereafter provided by law. Any or all of said shares of common stock without par value (other than the 8,703,252 shares into which the previously issued and outstanding shares of common stock with par value have been changed) may be issued and may be sold by the corporation from time to time in such manner and for such consideration as from time to time may be fixed by its Board of Directors.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That the Board of Directors of said United States Steel Corporation deems it advisable and hereby declares it to be advisable that the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation filed in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey on the 25th day of February, 1901, as heretofore amended, be further amended by adding thereto a new article, which shall read as follows:

VIII. The Board of Directors shall have power to issue bonds, debentures or other obligations convertible into the corporation's common stock upon such terms, in such manner and under such conditions as may be fixed by resolution of the Board of Directors prior to the issue of such bonds, debentures or other obligations; subject, however, to the provisions of the fifth paragraph of Article VII hereof with respect to any such bonds, debentures or other obligations to be secured by any mortgage on or pledge of any of the real property of this corporation or any shares of capital stock of any other corporation.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That, in the event of the adoption of the proposed amendments, the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation shall read as set forth in the copy thereof submitted to the Board of Directors at this meeting and appended to these minutes, marked Exhibit A, (identical with the present Certificate of Incorporation except for the above stated amendments which are incorporated in Exhibit A), and that, in the event that but one only of such amendments shall be adopted, the Certificate of Incorporation shall read as said Exhibit A, except that the first paragraph of Article IV, if that shall not be amended, shall read as at present and except that Article VIII, if that shall not be adopted, shall not be included therein.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That the foregoing matters shall be submitted to the stockholders for action thereon at their annual meeting for the election of directors to be held at the principal office of the Corporation, No. 51 Newark Street, in the City of Hoboken, Hudson County, New Jersey, on April 4, 1938, at 12 o'clock noon, or at any adjournment thereof; that the proposed change and increase in the authorized common stock of the Corporation and decrease in its capital and the proposed amendment of the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation, as heretofore amended, to effect such change, increase and decrease by amending Article IV of such Certificate, shall be submitted to the stockholders for action thereon separately from the proposed amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation to effect the addition thereto of Article VIII as aforesaid, and that the notice of such meeting shall clearly state that action will be taken upon the foregoing matters.

4. To transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Stockholders of record on the books of the Corporation at the close of business on March 5, 1938, will be entitled to vote at the meeting.

As the stock of the Corporation should be represented as fully as possible at the annual meeting, stockholders who do not expect to attend in person are requested to sign, date and return promptly the enclosed proxy in the enclosed business reply envelope which may be mailed without a stamp. Such proxy has been prepared and is solicited and the proxies named therein have been designated by the Management.

A copy of the annual report for 1937 will be mailed to each stockholder of record.

By order of the Board of Directors,
GEO. K. LEET
Secretary.

WHITNEY FIRM IS SUSPENDED BY N. Y. EXCHANGE

Ex-Head of Market Asks Bankruptcy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—[Special.]—The New York Stock exchange today announced the suspension from membership of Richard Whitney, former president of the exchange and senior partner of the firm of Richard Whitney & Co. Whitney is a brother of George Whitney, partner of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Shortly after the suspension was announced from the rostrum of the trading floor the Whitney firm filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition in federal court. Notice of the firm's suspension was read to members by Charles R. Gay, who succeeded Whitney as president of the exchange in 1935.

Exchange Issues Statement.

A statement issued by the exchange said:

"In the course of an examination of the affairs of Richard Whitney & Co. the committee on business conduct discovered on March 1, 1938, evidence of conduct apparently contrary to just and equitable principles of trade, and on Monday, March 7, at 1:30 p. m., presented to a special meeting of the governing committee charges and specifications. Hearing on the charges was set for March 17."

Whitney is a member of the exchange governing committee, having held this position since his retirement as president three years ago.

The statement of the exchange said the Whitney firm had advised exchange officials this morning that it was unable to meet its obligations. The statement did not elaborate on the charges against the company. It was pointed out that it is not customary to make public such charges until after a hearing on them has been held.

Whitney Long a Leader.

The suspension caused more than usual interest in Wall street because of the prominence of Whitney. He has long been a leader in exchange administration. He is a leader of the "old guard" members who were in the ascendancy in exchange administration until the "reform" element elected Gay to the presidency in 1935. Whitney had stood for reelection, but withdrew after it became apparent that Gay would be successful.

Whitney joined the exchange in 1912 and has been head of his own firm since 1916.

The bankruptcy petition signed by Whitney and five other partners of the firm said:

"The application is made on the grounds that it is necessary in the interest of creditors of the firm that its affairs should be placed immediately in the care of the court and a receiver appointed in order that no preference or improper advantage can be obtained and in order that an equitable liquidation can be accomplished."

Accountants at Work.

The firm said that there has not been time to prepare a schedule of its assets and liabilities. Accountants are now working on the schedule.

Partners signing the application besides Whitney were Edwin D. Morgan Jr., Henry D. Mygatt, F. Kingsley Rodenwald, Daniel G. Condon, and John J. McManus.

An investigation of the Whitney firm's affairs was begun by the office of the state attorney general. The federal Securities and Exchange commission launched a separate inquiry. John W. Hanes, a member of the SEC, was reported en route here from Washington.

Mygatt, floor broker for the firm, and Robert J. Rosenwald, cashier, were questioned late in the day by Assistant State Attorney General Ambrose V. McCall at a private hearing. Whitney was not present.

McCall declared his examination had developed sufficient evidence to require further investigation.

The Whitney firm handled business chiefly for institutions and large investors. Much of its business was in bonds. It had no general contacts with the public.

Quits as Bank Director.

The Corn Exchange Bank and Trust company announced the resignation of Whitney as a director of the institution after news of the suspension was published.

"Richard Whitney & Co.," the bank said in a statement, "is indebted to the Corn Exchange Bank and Trust company in the amount of $145,000, secured by collateral having a market value in excess of the indebtedness. Richard Whitney has no personal indebtedness to the bank."

Whitney was listed by the securities and exchange commission as the owner on Jan. 1 of 12,800 shares of stock of the Distilled Liquors corporation of which he is a director. The stock of the company [listed on the New York Curb exchange] tumbled 5⅛ points today, closing at 3⅞.

The New York Curb exchange announced the suspension of Clement J. Derrick, an independent floor trader, for inability to meet engagements. His suspension, it was said, had no connection with the failure of Whitney & Co.

RICHARD WHITNEY.

Whitney Long Head of 'Old Guard' Group

Suspension yesterday by the New York Stock exchange of Richard Whitney, its former president, again focuses attention on the losing fight which Whitney, representing the old "Wall street crowd" of the twenties, waged against the new post-depression Wall street group that in 1935 replaced Whitney with Charles R. Gay as president of the exchange.

The defeat of the Whitney faction marked the end of domination by the old guard, and brought in a new management which has placed increasing emphasis upon the public interest at stake in the administration of the exchange.

Whitney, a Harvard graduate in the class of 1911, a prominent horseman, club member, and yacht owner, typified in the public eye the Wall street capitalist. He got his exchange membership a year after college graduation, was made a governor of the exchange in 1919, and in 1930, at the age of 41, he was elected president.

Criticized After Crash.

He had, in fact, been acting head of the exchange as its vice president during the disastrous crash in the fall of 1929. Inevitably, after the terrific slump of stock prices, Whitney, as the official representative of the exchange, was subjected to sharp public criticism and to searching senate quizzing for exchange practices. Loose administration of the exchange, pools and manipulation by members, and other traders' actions for the benefit of themselves to the detriment of the public were charged by critics. The Securities and Exchange commission, organized in 1933, began to question exchange practices.

Meanwhile, although exchange members continued to reëlect Whitney to the presidency, a factional split within the membership was growing beneath the surface.

New Group Comes to Front.

Opposed to Whitney was a "reform" group of the coming régime which favored a change in the public relations policy of the management. This group gained sufficient power in 1935 to oust Whitney and elect Gay.

Along with Whitney in a thorough housecleaning of management went most of the old officials and governors of the exchange.

Although Whitney has continued in Wall street as the head of his bond firm since he was deposed as exchange president, he and his former colleagues who headed the exchange have been in the position of outsiders looking in on the administration.

GROUP IN CONTROL OF 333 BUILDING CORP. RETAINED

At the end of a stormy all day session of "questions and answers" in a meeting which was not adjourned until nearly midnight stockholders of the 333 Building corporation [owning the 333 North Michigan Avenue building] decided last night to retain their present management by reëlecting a majority of the board of directors. The new board includes Arthur M. Wirtz, who has been president and a director.

Of the three factions besides the management which had sought control two groups managed to elect one director each and the management reelected five.

The two new directors are Walter J. Greenebaum and Leo Samuels. The third group which did not elect a director was headed by Herman Forel.

The three opposition groups in letters to the 4,000 stockholders had accused the management of inefficiency. At the meeting many of the more than 300 present made a disorganized effort to get the facts about prospective dividends and sundry items by quizzing the directors.

RATE INCREASE LITTLE HELP TO WESTERN RAILS

Much Trafic Exempt from Advance.

Rail Shares Lower

San Francisco, Cal., March 8.—[Special.]—The few sales of railroad shares on the local exchanges after the I. C. C. freight rate order were below New York closing prices. Southern Pacific sold down to 16⅞, a point below the New York close, and Baltimore and Ohio sold at 8, compared with with the New York close of 8½. On the Los Angeles exchange N. Y. Central sold at 16¼, compared with the New York close of 17⅛.

Chicago railroad executives yesterday said that the rate increases given the carriers by the interstate commerce commission are inadequate and unsatisfactory. The western roads do not stand to gain much because the agricultural products, bituminous coal and other products they carry in large quantities are subject to exceptions, they pointed out.

While the railroad presidents said that they are not yet in a position to comment at any great length because they have not yet received copies of the interstate commerce commission's order allowing certain increases, in general they said that the rate boost will not produce anywhere near sufficient additional revenues to offset the large increases in operating costs resulting from wage boosts, higher prices for materials and heavier taxes. The carriers had hoped to get in the neighborhood of a half billion dollars in additional revenues, whereas members of the commission estimate that the increase will mean a total of about $270,000,000.

Boost Inadequate—Budd.

Ralph Budd, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, said:

"This increase, in my opinion, is no where adequate to reimburse the railroads for the increased costs of operation that have been imposed on them and many of the western roads will be left in serious financial condition. The increased operating costs include higher wages, taxes, and costs of materials."

Samuel T. Bledsoe, president of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe:

"I would say that the increases are wholly inadequate to meet the additional burden imposed upon the carriers in recent years in the form of higher labor costs and taxes and boosted prices of materials and supplies."

"Western Roads Get Least."

E. M. Durham Jr., chief executive officer of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific:

"Based on a reported estimate that the increase will approximate 5 per cent of the present rate structure, the increase announced yesterday is quite unsatisfactory. Western roads get the least in the adjustments."

Charles P. Megan, trustee, Chicago and North Western railroad:

"The full amount of the 15 per cent increase requested by the railroads would not more than have enabled the North Western to meet its increased operating expenses."

It was pointed out that the North Western is a granger road and also carries large amounts of iron ore and bituminous coal, all which commodities either are not increased or are increased in limited amounts.

Frank W. Robinson, vice president in charge of trafic of the Union Pacific, said in Omaha, Neb., that the decision "is very disappointing."

Others Express Views.

In Kansas City J. M. Kurn, co-trustee of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, read of the decision and asked: "How can this do us any good? Heavy commodities from which the roads receive most of their revenue were exempted from the increase."

F. J. Gavin, assistant to W. P. Kenney, president of the Great Northern railroad, estimated in Minneapolis that the Great Northern will receive about $4,500,000 additional revenue annually.

The decision disheartened Wall street. Two rail authorities in the financial district—Fairman R. Dick and F. J. Lisman—termed the ruling "disappointing." However, rail analysts conceded half a loaf was better than none.

The increase of 10 cents a ton permitted on anthracite had a fairly favorable reception in eastern rail offices.

Report on A. T. & T. Probe Expected in Two Weeks

Washington, D. C., March 8.—(AP)—Chairman Frank R. McNinch of the communications commission said today the commission's report on its investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph system probably would be ready for congress in two weeks.

vestigating the railroads; Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, and Representative Clarence Lea [D., Cal.], chairman of the house interstate commerce committee.

Stressing the gravity of the issues involved, the commission said it had expedited the rate proceeding.

"The present revenues of the applicants are inadequate," the commission said in its conclusions, "whether the simple common law tests be applied, or if they be judged by the statute with reference to their sufficiency, under honest, economical, and efficient management, to provide in the public interest adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

"The record shows that the existing basis of rates is not sufficient to maintain in full vigor either rail or water transportation, or to permit improvement of the relations between and the coördination of transportation by motor and other carriers.

"An increase of 15 per cent generally based upon a normal volume of trafic, as proposed, is for a larger amount than is reasonably necessary to meet the purposes of the increase, if realizable, and will be such a deterrent to trafic as to stifle movement.

Seek Harmonious Structure.

"The addition to present rates of a lesser percentage of increase than that proposed, coupled with the increasing of the many rates which are now below levels we have already approved as reasonable, will result in a more harmonious rate structure, and will compensate for the added costs shown, based on a normal flow of trafic, and will better insure such a flow of trafic than a blanket horizontal percentage increase.

"The present attempt to allocate the necessary increased revenue in flat amounts to be added to existing rates would be hazardous in its possible revenue results, and would unduly ignore the element of distance as a measure of cost."

One reason that the full 15 per cent increase was refused was the increases already granted in the last two years, which would have been pryamided by a horizontal raise in this proceeding.

"But by the increase allowed the roads," said the commission, "we shall have provided the revenue necessary to cover the increase in expenses which were unforseen in 1936, plus the amount by which we failed to give them what they deemed necessary in 1936, when they were anticipating an early return of normal conditions."

Exceptions Set Forth.

The commission then declared that the petition for increased rates had been found justified to the following extent:

"All existing rates and charges, including those for accessorial services other than protective service against heat or cold, upon the date of this decision, including those found or prescribed by us as reasonable and not yet effective, may be increased and as increased may be maintained [subject to application of the rule of fractions suggested upon the hearing] by 10 per cent, except the rates on products of agriculture other than tropical fruits; except the rates on animals and products and the products thereof and articles taking the same rates, horses and mules not being included in this exception; and except lumber, shingles, and lath, and articles taking lumber rates; and except the rates on cottonseed oil and vegetable oils, other than linseed oil; as to all of which excepted groups of commodities the increase in rates may be 5 per cent; and except anthracite, which may be increased 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds; and except bituminous coal, lignite, coke, and iron ore, which commodities justly and reasonably should bear no further increases than those already imposed pursuant to authority granted in the case last cited; all import rates may be increased 10 per cent, but not to exceed the contemporaneous domestic rates increased as herein provided.

Cites Previous Increases.

"But in making such increases, all effective increases accomplished under the authority of the decision last cited, or in the transcontinental rates which were increased in connection therewith as before recited, and in the cotton rates and in those on other commodities effective early in 1937, as above described, shall be taken into account and considered as part of the increases here authorized, so that the above mentioned percentage increases shall not be made cumulative thereon."

The new rates may be made effective by the carriers upon not less than 10 days' notice to the commission and the public. The effective deadline for new rates is next July 31.

Because of the exemptions decreed by the majority of the commission, Chairman Splawn, in a separate opinion, said that the increase granted is only about 5 per cent on all rates in effect after the last previous rate boost.

Eastman Makes Comment.

Apparently with reference to the forthcoming White House conference, Commissioner Eastman said in a concurring opinion: "It is probably unnecessary to say that an increase in railroad rates cannot furnish an adequate answer to our transportation problem."

At best, Eastman said, "it is only a palliative, and whether it is even that remains to be seen."

In a dissenting opinion Commissioner Charles D. Mahaffie said: "In this proceeding the carriers are seeking an opportunity to earn their living. Whether they can generally do so at any level of rates may be open to question. But so long as the country requires and utilizes their services they should have that chance. The meager increases authorized do not afford it."

NINE STORY M'CLURG BUILDING IS SLATED TO BECOME GARAGE

Plans are being considered for a complete remodeling of the nine story McClurg office building at 218 South Wabash avenue to make it an automobile garage. Notices already have been sent to tenants by Robert White & Co., agents of the property, to vacate by May 1.

The Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, David O. Dunbar and Frank F. Taylor, trustees of the Frederick T. Haskell estate, owers of the land and building, are negotiating with an undisclosed party who contemplates taking the property over on a thirty year net lease, it was learned yesterday. The lessee will pay all taxes and the rebuilding costs, which may be $75,000.

The lease under consideration calls for the installation of a sprinkler system, high spead freight elevators to carry cars to upper floors, and other improvements.

Jap Power Bill Called Peril to U. S. Interests

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, March 8.—Dr. Joji Matsumoto, prominent member of the Japanese house of peers, a former minister of commerce, and a celebrated corporation lawyer, subjected the government's bill seeking to place the electric power industry under government control to a scathing attack in the upper house of parliament today.

Centering his attack on points overlooked by the lower house, which passed the bill yesterday after the government consented to a revision, Dr. Matsumoto charged that the measure threatens foreign investments totaling $75,000,000, most of which are American. He said the bill savors of socialism.

"The honor and confidence now enjoyed by Japan is too great to be lost for such a consideration," Dr. Matsumoto said. "This bill constitutes an infringement upon foreigners' vested interests. It is bound to give a very unfavorable impression to Americans and Englishmen. It is blind optimism to suppose the bill will not affect them."

Matsumoto's criticism was answered by Ryutaro Nagai, minister of communications, who said in defense of the measure:

"Foreign debentures are subject to the internal laws of Japan. So long as we do not give material damage to foreign interests there is no fear of our being defeated in the courts. It would be a shame to the Japanese empire if Japan's reform should be obstructed by foreign owned debentures."

VALUE OF FRANC SLUMPS; LOWEST SINCE LATE 1926

The value of the French franc fell to the lowest figure in relation to American currency since Nov. 11, 1926, on exchange transactions yesterday. The abrupt decline was said to have resulted from the withdrawal of support for the franc by the French stabilization fund.

The franc closed in New York at 3.22 cents, compared with Monday's last quotation of 3.2325 cents. Other foreign currencies rose in value in relation to the dollar, closing well above Monday's prices. The British pound advanced 1⅛ cents and the Holland guilder rose 0.12 of a cent.

North Western Gets First of 9 Speedy Steam Engines

The first of a fleet of nine 120 mile an hour streamlined steam passenger locomotives—said to be the most powerful equipment of that type ever built—was delivered yesterday to the North Western railroad. It was built by the American Locomotive company at Schenectady, N. Y.

Japan Seeks to Grab Salt Levy in China

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Another chapter was written yesterday in the history of the much publicized $5,500,000 Chinese government bond issue which was originally sold to investors in the middle west in 1919 by the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank, one of the predecessor institutions of the present Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company.

From Shanghai came dispatches saying that the Japanese authorities were seeking to grab the lucrative Chinese salt monopoly, revenues for which were pledged a year ago to secure the refinanced bonds, a large part of which is still held by investors in the middle west.

Call It "Reorganization."

According to an Associated Press story from Shanghai the Japanese authorities yesterday were seeking "reorganization" of China's salt collections and had consulted British members of the salt administration to that effect. The news agency relayed reports that the Japanese, following the precedent set by themselves in taking over the administration of customs, postoffices, and telegraph lines, were preparing to seize the salt revenues, gross collections from which in 1936 were placed at $61,629,000.

For the investors in the middle west who have been holding the bag on the Chinese loan ever since it was defaulted in 1921 this appeared to be another bit of bad news. Only last April the Chinese embassy in Washington had announced that—after sixteen years of default—interest payments would be renewed on the bonds and that a plan whereby the bondholders would ultimately get back most of their principal and interest was being set up.

Salt Revenues Are Added.

Originally the bonds were secured by revenues from wine and tobacco taxes, but under the arrangement made last year the revenues from the salt levy were made the chief backing for them. With the Japanese reported ready to seize the cash box, however, the outlook for the bondholders again becomes hazardous.

One of the ironic features of the latest development affecting the Chinese bonds is that certain Chinese "insiders" who seemed to have profited personally in a big way by the sudden renewal of interest payments last year may lose part of their gains.

The restoration of the bond issue to good standing last April caught middle west bondholders by surprise. It had been worked out by the Chinese in collaboration with the Foreign Bondholders' Protective Committee, Inc., 90 Board street, New York.

$620,000 for $7,500 Investment.

The bonds had sold as low as 75 cents on the $100 par value in January, 1936. After that date there was steady buying of the bonds by unidentified interests and the price gradually rose. When the plan to restore them to good standing was announced last April the bonds had risen to $62 per $100 par value. Later it was learned that more than half of the bonds—originally sold in the middle west—were held by Chinese who had bought them at low prices.

An investment of 75 cents in January, 1936, therefore, was worth $62 at the market value last April. That meant that an investment of $7,500 fourteen months before would have a market value of $620,000 last April.

After the Japanese began their invasion of China the quotations on the bonds declined, but yesterday—before the news of the Japanese plan to grab the salt collections was received—they were still being quoted at about $34 per $100 par value. Most of the bonds were originally sold to investors in Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas.

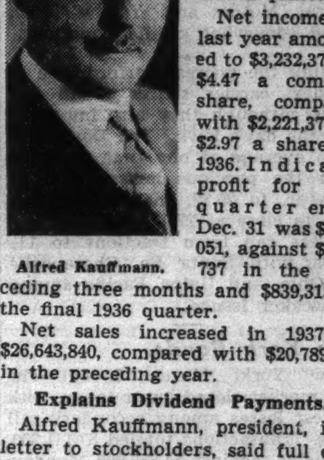
Hearing Delayed on Auto Occupational Rating Plan

Springfield, Ill., March 8.—(AP)—State Insurance Director Ernest Palmer announced today that the hearing set for tomorrow on occupational rating plans on automobile insurance had been postponed to await the filing of a new proposal. Palmer said the company which asked the hearing had notified him it would withdraw the plan now on file and substitute a plan.

LINK-BELT HAS SHARP GAIN IN 1937 EARNINGS

Profits for Fourth Quarter Lower.

The Link-Belt company, maker of conveying machinery, in its annual report for 1937 yesterday showed a sharp rise in earnings for the year, but an indicated moderate decline for the fourth quarter.



Alfred Kauffmann.

Net income for last year amounted to $3,232,373, or $4.47 a common share, compared with $2,221,376, or $2.97 a share, in 1936. Indicated profit for the quarter ended Dec. 31 was $632,051, against $861,737 in the preceding three months and $839,315 in the final 1936 quarter.

Net sales increased in 1937 to $26,643,840, compared with $20,789,475 in the preceding year.

Explains Dividend Payments.

Alfred Kauffmann, president, in a letter to stockholders, said full dividends of $211,838 were paid on the 6½ per cent preferred stock and that $3 a share, or $2,026,719, was paid on the common shares during the year.

"Inventories on hand at Dec. 31, 1937, were valued," Kauffmann said, "at $5,102,339 as compared with inventories of $4,116,672 at the beginning of the year. Our inventories had an average turnover of five times during the year."

At the end of 1937, current assets were $14,666,158, against current liabilities of $2,712,064.

Texas Gulf Sulphur Earnings.

Net income of the Texas Gulf Sulphur company in 1937 totaled $11,589,281, or $3.02 a capital share, against $9,853,014, or $2.56 a share, in 1936. Indicated net income for the fourth quarter amounted to $2,566,026, compared with $3,145,607 in the preceding three months and $2,129,623 in the December, 1936, quarter. At the end of 1937, current assets were $14,146,426, against current liabilities of $2,996,061.

The Worthington Pump and Machinery corporation reported 1937 net income of $1,621,979, compared with $752,575 in 1936. The 1937 earnings were equivalent to $3.78 a common share, but because of a recapitalization the corresponding 1936 per share figure was not available. H. C. Beaver, president, said although some reduction in the rate of bookings occurred in the fourth quarter, total orders for the year represented the largest volume in seventeen years.

Utility Company Earns More.

The American Light and Traction company had consolidated net income last year of $6,542,959, equal after preferred dividends to $1.75 a common share. This compared with net of $5,450,125, or $1.68 a share, in 1936. During the year, total operating revenues amounted to $41,057,916, an increase of 4.3 per cent over 1936.

Taxes for 1937 totaled $5,171,762, an increase of $230,295 over the preceding year.

Net profit of Spiegel, Inc., mail order house, in 1937 amounted to $2,571,403, or $1.66 a common share, after deducting a loss of $780,944 in closing out forward commitments on commodities. In 1936, net profit was $3,434,427, or $2.34 a share.

The Falstaff Brewing corporation reported net income for last year of

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 8.—Hardening in the last hour of trading, the stock market came back rather well today after incurring early losses running to around two points in the active list and to 4 points in the more volatile issues. Closing prices were irregularly lower.

Suspension of the stock exchange firm of Richard Whitney & Co. was conceded to have been the chief factor in unsettling the market in the early dealings. Opening a shade lower, the announcement of the suspension served as a signal for some selling. Practically all classifications of shares were affected, although the losses were never permitted to get out of bounds.

Trading was slightly more active today, volume for the day reaching 737,590 shares, compared with 619,950 shares on Monday.

Never exceptionally weak, pivotal industrial shares displayed keen recuperative powers to edge into the plus column. Outstanding were the steel shares. In relatively active dealings, U. S. Steel common and Bethlehem both closed with net gains of ½ point, with similar margins accruing to Republic and Youngstown.

Motors rebounded. Chrysler broke to 49⅞ and then firmed to close at 51¾ for a net gain of ¾ of a point. General Motors and Yellow Truck gained somewhat smaller fractions.

Giving the poorest performance of the day, carrier shares found few takers, although they also improved from the day's lows. The Dow-Jones group average at one time sank beneath the previous lowest level of the year, to 26.82, then moved forward to close at 27.55.

Losses ran from fractions to 1½ points, with Santa Fe, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Union Pacific among the weaker issues.

New York Bonds.

New York, March 8.—(AP)—The bond market closed lower today, with heaviest losses among secondary rail issues. Transactions totaled $7,141,200, face value, against $4,859,000 Monday.

Corporate bonds generally declined sharply in early dealings after announcement of the failure of the stock brokerage firm of Richard Whitney & Co. Although there was a healthy recovery throughout the list, the bulk of liens, especially the rails, ended in the minus column.

The performance of secondary rail issues came in for analytical study in securities houses late today, for a half hour after the market closed the interstate commerce commission announced it was granting a part of the rise in freight rates asked by carriers. Rail circles generally were disappointed with the rate decision.

United States governments were 3-32 of a point higher to 5-32 lower.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks declined yesterday in trading of 33,000 shares, compared with 19,000 on Monday. Of the 90 issues traded, 9 advanced, 48 declined, and 33 were unchanged. The Tribune average of 20 stocks closed at 9.41, off 0.06 from the previous close.

Commonwealth Edison, the volume leader, and Central and South West Utilities lost small fractions. General Household was unchanged. Zenith Radio and Kerlyn Oil advanced fractionally.

Bank Stocks.

First National bank stock yesterday dropped $4 a share. Terminal National stock was quoted unchanged to $1 lower by various dealers. Other leading Chicago bank stocks were quiet.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Advances were halted in all branches of the live stock markets yesterday, some classes reacting sharply. All of the gains hogs had made in the preceding four days were wiped out. The practical top fell 20 cents to $9.80, with the average off 20 cents at $9.50.

With the exception of better grades of steers and yearlings, most classes of steers and butchers stock brought about steady rates yesterday. The most action was in cheaper grades.

Mostly steady prices were paid for the supply of fat lambs.

Tax Burden Serious.

Our social security taxes were $186,232 in 1937, an increase of $107,347 over such taxes in 1936. Social security taxes for 1938 will again show a material increase over the amount paid in 1937."

WHEAT CLOSES HIGHER AFTER EARLY DECLINE

Wheat prices declined fractionally in the early trading yesterday due to continued scattered liquidation which carried the May contract down to 88¾ cents a bushel at the extreme, a new low level since last November. The selling movement, however, quickly ran its course.

Houses which frequently act for cash and export interests were credited with buying about 750,000 bushels of May wheat on the break, and reports of a better foreign demand and a revival in the domestic flour trade led to fairly general short covering. Prices rallied about 1½ cents from the low point and closing trades were at net gains of ¾ to 1 cent a bushel, the latter on the September delivery.

Corn again showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Unconfirmed rumors of a large export business had some effect on sentiment, as also did the rally in wheat, and closing trades on futures were at net gains of ¼ to ½ cent a bushel.

Oats and rye futures closed fractionally higher. Soy beans declined ¼ to ½ cent owing to a slackening in the demand for high protein feeds.

Diesel Engines—No. 1.

The Diesel engine, which each year plays a greater part in American life, was invented by Dr. Rudolph Diesel, who was born in 1858 in Paris of German parents. He built his first engine in 1892 and was almost killed when he tried to start it. In 1897 he built his first practical engine.

Although the first practical Diesel engine was developed in Germany, America gets the credit for the first commercial engine to be put into regular service. This was a 60 horse power two cylinder unit which was built in St. Louis in 1898. But it was in Europe that the greatest use was made of the new device in the years that immediately followed its invention. Later America reëntered the Diesel industry on a large scale and Diesel engines are now being built in large factories in various parts of the country.

Dr. Diesel was one inventor who was able to enjoy the fruits of his work. He made a fortune from the Diesel engine and was honored all over the world. On Sept. 29, 1913, Dr. Diesel boarded a cross channel steamer at Antwerp bound for London. The sea was calm and the weather was perfect. Dr. Diesel was wealthy. He was in good health. And he was carrying important papers to London. He took a walk on deck in the evening and then retired to his cabin and to oblivion. When the ship docked Dr. Diesel was missing and his disappearance has never been solved.

Tomorrow: More about Diesels.

OIL FIRMS WIN TEMPORARY WRIT IN MEXICAN ROW

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 8.—(AP)—Foreign oil companies won a point in the oil labor controversy today when Judge Manuel Bartlett granted a temporary injunction against an arbitration board ruling that they must increase wages.

The injunction, granted shortly after President Lazaro Cardenas criticized the companies for their refusal to abide by the arbitral decision, is effective until Saturday when a hearing will be held to determine whether it shall be made permanent.

Meanwhile the workers' syndicate announced it was demanding that the new wage scales, upheld recently by the Mexican Supreme court, be made effective March 15.
